Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, MARCH 27, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

News from Fort Pickens 11th, and Key West 17th inst., has been received. The steam frigate Mississippi had sailed from Fort Pickens for Ship Island. The impression was that Gen. Bragg had left Pensacola, and parties with glasses say the rebel guns are turned inland, probably in expectation of a visit from Gen. Butler.—Four contrabands who escaped say there are but 3000 troops at Pensacola, and that they are poorly armed.

Reports from Gen. Curtis' Division state that the supplies of forage and provisions having become exhausted in the region about Sugar Creek, Mo., the army made a retrograde march of about thirteen miles. The enemy are recuperating, probably being reinforced by fresh troops. A large body had re-crossed the Boston mountain. Our troops are in fine spirits, and anxious to grapple again with the foe.

At the last accounts from Memphis, there was a report there that Fort Pike, near New Orleans, had fallen into our hands.—If the name is correctly given, it is a post of considerable importance. Fort Pike was built by the U. S. Government to defend the passage from Lake Borgne to Lake Ponchartrain. It is represented by the engineer in charge to be in fine condition.—The armament was designed to be four 8-inch columbiads, and four 8-inch sea-coast howitzers.

Gen. Shields has received a dispatch from Maj. Gen. Banks, dated "Five miles beyond Strasburg." It says—"The enemy are still in retreat and our forces in hot pursuit. The loss of the rebels must have been enormous. They have abandoned wagons along the road, filled with the dead and dying. The houses on the route are found crowded with the wounded and dead. The dwellings in the towns adjacent to the battle-field of Sunday are also found filled with the wounded. The inhabitants aided the rebel soldiers in carrying off their wounded during the day, and in burying them quickly as soon as dead. Our artillery makes terrible havoc among the enemy in their flight, and the rout bids fair to be one of the most dreadful of the war."

Advices from Fortress Monroe state that the Merrimac is out of the dry dock, and is prepared to run out. The Monitor is ready for her.

The New York Herald's account of the battle at Winchester, Va., states that on Sunday morning the rebels received reinforcements, under Gen. Garnett, numbering 5000 men. The Union forces did not exceed 10,000 men, and, with the exception of about 500, were of Gen. Shields' division exclusively. At half past ten the enemy made a feint on our left, opening a heavy fire of artillery, while the real attack was directed against our right, with the object of flanking it. The rebel infantry opposite our right twice attempted to capture Doane's battery by a charge. The first effort was nearly successful, but a heavy discharge of grape compelled them to retire in confusion. The enemy's killed and wounded strewed the ground in profusion, and their left wing was utterly broken and their centre was wavering. Several attempts to rally their right wing failed, and the Irish Battalion of 150, when brought forward and ordered to fire upon the Union troops, refused. A rebel regiment immediately drove this gallant little band forward, but could not compel them to fire upon the Union army. Forty corpses of the 150 afterward strewed the field. In the meanwhile the rebels gave way on their left and centre, with a loss of 700 killed and wounded, and 236 taken prisoners. Beside these about 1500 muskets were taken and many other valuable trophies.

The latest accounts from Island No. 10 say Gen. Pope had captured a rebel gunboat, which tried to run by his batteries, and by means of it was rapidly transporting his troops across the river, to attack the enemy in the rear. The rebels there had not burned their transports and barges, as reported, but had been transporting cannon and ammunition from the Island to the mainland.

The U. S. steamer Cambridge, from off Beaufort, N. C., Sunday P. M., reports that "the rebel steamer Nashville had escaped, having run the blockade on Tuesday night, 18th. The only U. S. vessels there were the Cambridge and the barque Gemsbok. They had news of the capture of Newbern, and were on the lookout for the Nashville, but they were not numerous enough to stop her. The Cambridge fired a number of shot at her, but the superior speed of the Nashville soon put her at a safe distance. The rebels had burnt a bark which had been fitted out as a privateer. Fort Macon had not been blown up at last accounts."

☞ A chestnut gelding, called Garibaldi, during a recent hunt in Yorkshire, England, jumped 31 feet clear over high posts and rails.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mrs. Mary S. Brown, wife of Mr. Thomas Brown, died in Henniker, Mar. 5 after a protracted illness of twenty-seven months, aged 51 years. Mrs. Brown, as well as her husband, was deaf and dumb from birth; they were both educated in the Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb at Hartford, Ct., and though the great blessing of the gift of speech was not theirs, they could read and write with as much facility as others.

—— In consequence of the refusal of Congress to meet the expenses of the American exhibitors at the great fair to be held in London, the beautiful engine built by the Amoskeag Co. at Manchester, for display there, has been sold to the city of Lawrence. The company have also just contracted to build a third class engine for the same city. The engine for the city of Concord is nearly completed.

"LAW is—LAW,"—says one of the pleaders in the celebrated law case, Bullum vs. Boatum. The law in a modern case is somewhat of the same order. By a recent extraordinary opinion of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, the whole taxation of that State is invalidated since the year 1855.—It seems that within the space of seven years, the Court have, 1st, formally decided the legislation now brought in question to be legal; 2d, gradually undermined the grounds of that decision, without being aware what they were doing; and 3d, being thus surprised by themselves, they have been obliged at last formally to overturn their first decision, and to declare the whole taxation of the intervening period illegal.

—— The Tribune states that on Monday morning, Ella Matthews, a young lady of engaging manners and prepossessing appearance, about 20 years of age, was found dead in her room at the Northern Hotel, New York City. It appears the deceased had arrived in town from New Hampshire last Saturday, and was on her way to visit her uncle at Louisville, Ky., where he is an Army Commissary. It is supposed that she had inhaled chloroform, but whether for medicinal purposes or with a view to commit suicide, is not known. When last seen alive the deceased seemed cheerful and happy.

☞ The editor of the Ballot says:

"The high salaries paid to office-holders does more, as every body knows, to corrupt our people, than all other causes combined. To secure office under government men sacrifice principle, honor, self-respect—every thing; because, securing that, they are assured of far greater remuneration than they can obtain for their labor in any other sphere of action. The consequence is, that whenever a change of administration occurs, there is in every State, city, town and village, a disgraceful scramble for these offices. Now our proposition is to make a radical reduction in the salaries of these office-holders—from the highest down to the man who receives more than a workingman's pay for the time he is employed. If the salaries of all the offices under the general government paying more than $1000 a year were reduced one-half, and those paying between that sum and $400 were reduced one-fourth, there would still be competition enough for them, and men as honest and capable would be found to fill them as the present salaries command."

Messrs Editors:—An article in reference to gas lights in Exeter, in your edition of Tuesday morning, reminded me of a suggestion which I beg leave to make through your columns. It is that the public good demands a gas-post at the corner of Congress and Vaughan streets. There is perhaps no part of the city where the number of passers-by in the evening exceeds that of this locality, and there are certainly very few darker (and in rainy seasons more difficult) crossings. It would be an accommodation to the great body of travel up and down Congress street, that from the Depot, and that which resorts to the Temple.—Will somebody start in the matter of making this needed improvement?

PEDESTRIAN.

☞ We do not, cannot approve of mob law, at any time or any where—but is it not "reaping as he sowed," for Wendell Phillips to be mobbed? No man in the country has done or tried to do more to corrupt the minds of the people towards our rulers, to lessen the esteem felt for "the powers that be," and the regard for our flag, our Union and our constitution, than Phillips.

We also go in for free speech; but when the press is muzzled, and Forts Warren, and Lafayette filled with men who certainly talk no ranker treason than Garrison and Phillips, why should not they be hushed up too?

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The stock of this corporation has declined to 55 1-2, while the Eastern in New Hampshire has advanced to 70. The suit of the New Hampshire road against the Eastern Massachusetts has been decided in favor of the former. The suit is for several years' back dividends.

☞ Gov. Washburn of Maine, on Saturday, commissioned Sylvester Boothby, Biddeford, as 2d Lieutenant of the Coast Guard at Fort McClary, Kittery, vice Edwards, resigned.

SNOW AND ICE.—We put it on record as a curious fact for future recollection, that in the city of Portsmouth, March 26, 1862, the streets are covered with a coat of ice varying from a foot to a yard in depth, though it has been diminishing for a week: that the snow and ice to the west of the North Church, fill the street, (except the narrow side-walk,) and that the snow is higher than the stone posts. At the south end of the same, church the snow is four feet deep, and completely fills the passageway. Piles of snow quite as deep are found in other streets.

At the same time the bridges leading into the city are mostly bare, and bare spots begin to appear in the roads.

The gradual wasting away of the snow is very favorable—benefitting the ground, and avoiding a sudden freshet.

☞ We learn that the side wheel steamer Sebago is to start on her trial trip on or before Saturday. Her machinery has been tested by a run of seventy-two hours, and has equalled the expectations of the contractors. A draft of between sixty and seventy men, from the receiving ship Ohio at the Charlestown Navy Yard, arrived here on Wednesday, under charge of several acting Masters. They form a portion of the Sebago's crew. The vessel went into commission on Wednesday.

The Ossipee's rudder and the necessary appurtenances connected with it, have arrived and are being adjusted.

FROM NASHVILLE.—Gov. Johnson has put the newspapers at Nashville under military rules, and suppressed one or two. He has issued a proclamation of a conciliatory character. He says that he desires to win the people back to the Union, but shall deal vigorously with treason. Mr. Etheridge had made a speech in which he said that slavery would be abolished if we could not conquer the rebellion in any other way. The new government would go into operation this week. Warning has been given that any one uttering treason will be arrested. The Union feeling is gaining ground. Business is pretty much resumed. All the stores are again opened and prices have been much reduced.

NAVAL.—U. S gunboat Kearsage, (new) from Portsmouth, N. H., was at Cadiz, Spain, 5th inst.

In compliance with the joint resolution of Congress, two hundred men commenced operations on the U. S. sloop-of-war Roanoke at Brooklyn, on Monday.—She is to be razeed and converted into an iron-clad battery, similar to and more formidable than, the Merrimac.

☞ Many of our readers, probably, remember Capt. Williams, the jolly old whaler, who gave exhibitions in this city some months ago. He is now illustrating the pleasures and perils of his old calling for the amusement of young and old New York. On Wednesday night however, he appeared in a new character. His harpooner, Capt. Henry Phelon, who has been appointed to the command of the gunboat Victoria, is about to leave the mimic for the real quarter deck, and took his leave on that night, on which occasion Capt. Williams publicly presented him with a sword.

THE NATIONAL TAX.—Notwithstanding the promising aspect of matters, it must not be forgotten that taxation is near at hand, to pay for the prodigality and waste thus far, and to replenish the Treasury for what should be more honest and economical management. No light burden is to be laid upon the land. It can be easily borne if all were ready and willing to bear it; ponderous at it may prove, it will be a small outlay for the safety and prosperity it is finally to purchase. And yet, as the world goes, and on account of the clashing between private interest and public duty, a steady and intelligent patriotism will be needed to meet cheerfully the mighty expenditure.—Boston Transcript.

☞ The Washington correspondent of N. Y. Post, in speaking of the appointment of Gen. Fremont to a command, asserts that "by the direct intervention of President Lincoln and Mr. Stanton, he has been selected to conduct one of the most important movements of the war, as future events will undoubtedly make clear."

☞ The Hilton Head correspondent of the Manchester Mirror states that "the report that Col. Jackson received permanent injury to an eye, by having it pierced by a reed while reconnoitering on Elba Island, is not correct. The injury, it is true, will be quite serious for a week or two, but not lasting."

☞ A paper has been circulated and signed by nearly all the Democratic members of Congress, and by Senator Carlile, having in view the rallying of the Democratic party and a Convention in Washington at an early day to give direction to its further movement.

☞ The name of an English war vessel of 50 guns, now on the stocks in Pembroke, England, has been changed from Triumph to Prince Consort, for the late Prince Albert.

The man who was always behind hand, has recently purchased several bottles of ketch up.

☞ A man recently petitioned the Portland City Council for damages, on account of the breaking of his wife's arm by slipping on the sidewalk. The City Council denied the petition, but each member of the two Boards contributed one dollar in behalf of the unfortunate lady, and some $30 or $40 were collected. It was agreed to recommend to the signers of the petition that they should "go and do likewise."

——The American says Mr. B. F. Martin, paper manufacturer of Manchester, in addition to his other extensive business, has contracted to furnish the paper for the Atlantic Monthly. It will require three hundred and fifty reams per month to supply this most popular periodical. For the past year he has furnished the Boston Journal with large supplies for its regular issue, and he has achieved a high reputation both as a skillful manufacturer and a discreet and honest business man.

☞ Concerning the tax bill the Ballot says:—

We see that it is proposed to tax newspaper publishers trebly—on their white paper, their subscribers, and their income; but we don't complain. We don't have to purchase half so much paper as we should like to; we have a number of subscribers we should like to see a collector smart enough to get the smallest tax from; and as for our income from publishing—well, we we should like to see a mathematician accurate enough to figure it; in fact, we should be rather pleased at learning that we had an income to be taxed.

☞ Jeff. Davis's Cabinet has been confirmed. Secretary of state, J. P. Benjamin; Secretary of War, Geo. W. Randolph; Secretary of the Navy, S. R. Mallory; Secretary of the Treasury, C. G. Memminger; Attorney General, Thos. H. Watts; Postmaster General, Reagan.

☞ Twelve men, empanneled as a jury in the Detroit Police Court, have been fined $10 each for disturbing and destroying the records in the justice's private office while they were confined there to agree upon a verdict.

SLEIGHING.—We don't see what Cape Cod has done that she should have been deprived of her proportionate part. There have been but two days when sleighing has been attempted here, and then it was like "making water run up hill."—Barnstable Patriot.

☞ The Hull (England) Packet says a boat, made of oak, evidently used by the Romans, was recently found near Hull, ten feet below the surface of the ground they were excavating for a canal.

☞ Those who enjoy fun, and appreciate clog-dancing, will not fail to bear in mind the complimentary benefit to Dick Sands, at the Temple this (Thursday) evening.

☞ The appointment of Mr. Clark, formerly connected with the Boston Courier, as Commissary, which was suspended for a short time, has been confirmed.

☞ Lieut. Col. Daniel P. Woodbury, of the regular army, a New Hampshire man, has been appointed Brigadier General of Volunteers.

"I say, Pat what are you about—sweeping out the room?" "No, answered Pat, "I am sweeping out the dirt, and leaving the room."

☞ It is said that daily prayer meetings are held in New Orleans, Charleston, and other Southern cities.

☞ The proprietors of the Great Exhibition Building in London have taken out a policy upon it of £400,000.

THE REBELS' IRON-CLAD VESSELS.—In addition to the Virginia, two other mail-clad or armored vessels are in course of completion at the Gosport yard. One of these is the sunken Delaware, a very large vessel, which shared the fate of the Merrimac, at the commencement of this rebellion. The other is doubtless some old hulk which has been brought from the watery sepulchre to new and diabolic life. At Richmond also two iron-clad vessels are being built. Some of these bomb-proof fabrics, I am advised, are nearly completed, and the greatest exertion is being made to hasten forth the whole batch.—Fortress Monroe Corr. of Phila. Ledger.

PREMATURE.—The rebellion is not crushed. The war is not ended. The country is not at peace. The burthens of patriotism are not lifted off. The sacrifices of patriotism are not over. The price of the conflict in life, and money, and derangement and depression of business, is not paid. Yet there is a class of persons who seem to act as if the time had fully come for taking care of "number one," and feathering their own nests—an object toward which they have all along kept a very single eye.—Transcript.

THE NEW-HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE and Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, published Thursday, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room. Price 3 cents. Only $1 per year, in advance.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2 50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it supplies;
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part —
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way;—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you a "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't,
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (in the Act of 1837.)

73 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continued to secure Patents in the United States, also in Canada, England, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Inventors made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining to the business. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New-England, but through it inventors have advantages for procuring Patents on liberal terms, and the validity of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere in all matters appertaining to the business. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the least worthy and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the claims for patentage properly secured on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART,
Late Examiner of Patents.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected application, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, MARCH 28, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

In consequence of the neglect of the rebels to send on the prisoners which they had promised to exchange for their men captured at Roanoke Island, (who were released) the Secretary of War has ordered that the exchange or release of the Fort Donelson prisoners shall be suspended.

It is rumored from the Gulf, that Porter's mortar fleet had gone up the Mississippi by the Southwest Pass. This does not agree with the other story, that he had entered Lake Ponchartrain. Possibly his fleet has divided, to attack New Orleans in front and rear. But there is no tangible evidence of his whereabouts at present.

Deserters from the rebel army represent great panic among the rank and file on account of rumors of Union victories. The newspapers are carefully kept from them, and they have been imposed upon so often with false statements of rebel victories, that they are much dissatisfied.

Steamer Constitution, from Ship Island 15th, arrived at Fortress Monroe, on Tuesday night. Com. Porter's fleet sailed on the 14th, for the South West Pass. Com Faragut's fleet of sloops of-war and gunboats would sail on the 17th, for the same destination.

The N. Y. World's Washington dispatch says an individual named Pollock from Culpepper county, Virginia, near where the rebel army now lies, who is known as a reliable and intelligent man, states that in the vicinity from which he came there is a local insurrection among the white people who are in bitter opposition to Jeff. Davis' rule.

THE MERRIMAC. — Contrabands state that the Merrimac, having been fully repaired, was brought out of the dry dock on Monday morning, and that her crew was on board ready for action. Several new guns had also been placed on board of her, of heavier metal than those she had before. The steamers Jamestown and Yorktown they represent to have been greatly strengthened, fully repaired, and all ready to accompany the Merrimac. The flag of the latter, with the Commodore's pennant, was flying when they left.

Three deserters, from the south side of James river, have reached Fortress Monroe. They belong to a South Carolina regiment, and state that the Merrimac had been daily expected to come out and attack the Monitor for the past three days.

The Navy Department has received a dispatch confirming the report that the Merrimac is ready for sea. Lieut. Jeffers, commander of the Monitor, says he holds himself in readiness to intercept her, but has no fears of the result of the next contest.

Sec. Welles asks for an appropriation of $30,000,000, for the construction of iron-clad ships, and for the manufacture of heavy ordnance.

NEWSPAPER PUBLISHING AND EDITING. The New York Express entertains the idea that there is considerable hazard connected with conducting a paper in these days. It says:

The newspapers in this country are to be printed, it would seem, by a fresh rescript from the War Department, on rather more ticklish conditions than exist in any other country, viz., that of "warning," "suppression" or "imprisonment"—because here, the summary court martial is threatened.

Well, when any of our craft come down town in the morning, it would be well to say "adieu" to wife and family,—for it is not at all certain, under this rescript, that one may not be shot under drum head law before night.

Yes, what with the triple and sextuple taxes and all, newspaper publishing will by and by be delightful business. This is getting to be a free country very fast—for niggers. Under this rescript, a journalist is completely in the power of what, or what not, may be set down as the publication of army news.

THE PRESS RESTRICTIONS.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Evening Post states that the committee on the conduct of the war have evidence of the fact that the rebels were fully acquainted with the President's War Order No. 1, dated Jan. 27, and fixing upon February 22d as the date for a general advance upon the rebel lines, long before it was known at the capital, except in a very limited military circle. The manner in which the rebels procured their news is still a mystery, but the fact that they have been able to get reliable news from Washington, in spite of the newspaper censorship, surprises some people at the War Department.

☞ Gen. Gerstenzweig, military commandant of Warsaw, had a dispute with Gen. Count Lambert, the Emperor's lieutenant in Poland. As duelling is prohibited in the Russian Army, they avoided the law by casting lots to decide who should kill himself. The lot fell upon Gerstenzweig, who, the day following, blew out his brains with a pistol, while looking at himself in a looking-glass.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Gov. Berry has appointed as Allotment Commissioners for the State of New Hampshire, Cyrus K. Sanborn of Rochester, Moses T. Willard of Concord, and Elisha P. Liscomb of Lebanon. These gentlemen intend leaving for the seat of war early next week, and friends of the soldiers desiring to send letters or packages by the commissioners can do so. The locations of the New Hampshire regiments are the Potomac, Port Royal, Roanoke Island, Key West and Ship Island. Undoubtedly a large proportion of the soldiers' pay will be brought home.

—— Mayor Humphrey, of Concord, on Tuesday eve, was presented with an elegant gold-headed cane, (which he is eminently worthy to bear) which was accepted with appropriate remarks. Mrs. Humphrey was presented with a silver fruit basket, which was purchased by the ladies—(and of which we have no doubt she is equally worthy)

—— The whole number of arrests by the Police in Manchester, during the last three months, was 92; for fines and costs in the Police Court from Dec. 23, 1861 to March 24, 1862 there was received $323.73.

—— The Sons of Temperance Division of Manchester propose holding a series of Temperance Meetings in City Hall, at which the different clergymen will be invited to speak.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, on Wednesday, Mr. Latham of Cal. offered a resolution calling for certain papers on file in the Department of State, in relation to a charge against ex-President Pierce, of being connected with a league organized for the purpose of overthrowing the Federal Government. The resolution was passed. The substitute offered by Mr. Davis of Ky., to the joint resolution in favor of granting aid for the emancipation of slaves, was rejected.

The bill for the emancipation of slaves in the district of Columbia was taken up, and Mr. Wilkinson of Minn. made a speech in its favor. Some amendments were offered, when the further consideration of the bil was postponed.

In the House, the tax-bill was again the principal subject of discussion. A resolution was reported, appropriating $50,000 to enable the Secretary of the Navy to test the plans and materials for rendering ships and floating batteries invulnerable.

WHO ELECTED PRESIDENT POLK?—In a late account of an interview between an officer in the U. S. army and the wife of Ex-President Polk, at her house, after the taking of Nashville, the lady of the Ex-President is reported to have said:—"My husband was not elected to the Presidency by the abolitionists." The lady Polk made a mistake, a very natural mistake, when it is understood that her husband was not the candidate of the "abolitionists" in the great contest of 1844.

The Presidential canvass of 1844 was decided by the vote of the State of New York.

The "Liberty Party" of that day had James G. Birney for their candidate for President. They pressed him with all the determination and spirit which ever actuated any anti-slavery organization. New York was the battle ground of the Union. So well counted and understood was the result, that it was known as well as any future event can be known, that the election would be decided on the turn of the electoral vote of the Empire State. The election came on; Silas Wright was chosen Governor by a majority of 10,000 votes, and he dragged along Mr. Polk behind him, at a distance of 5000 votes. The "Abolitionists" threw a large vote for Mr. Birney, and through the plurality rule in elections in New York, the Abolitionists elected President Polk—margin the sneering disclaimer of his widow.—Boston Transcript.

Yes, says Uncle Toby, exactly in the same manner as the Breckinridge Democrats elected Lincoln and Hamlin.

CONDITION OF NEWBERN, N. C. — In regard to the state of affairs at Newbern, N. C., the day after the battle, a correspondent of the Philadelphia Press writes:

"It is true that the people, on leaving the town, set jugs of poisoned rum and whiskey out on their counters, so that our troops would get hold of the liquor. Fortunately some of our officers visited the city early in the afternoon, and discovered the attempt, but not until two of them had partaken of the mixture. One of them died last night in fits, and the other is not expected to live. The troops emptied the jugs into the gutters. The city now contains one hundred people, male and female, of the old population. This does not include negroes. Only three stores are open."

A HANDSOME PAYING OFFICE. — In answer to a resolution adopted by the Senate of New York, Dr. Gunn, the Health Officer at Quarantine, reports that during the year 1861, the receipts of his office were something over $33,000 and the total expenditures less than $18,000, leaving over $15,000 for his individual pay. Among the items of expenditures are $1400 for house rent, $5500 for "living," and $4700 for "incidentals."

☞ A youthful rebel soldier, who received two wounds in the breast, in the battle at Winchester, Va., when approached by one of our officers, inquired if the officer knew Gen. Banks; on receiving an answer in the affirmative, he said, "Tell him I want to take the oath of allegiance, for I have three brothers in the Federal service, and I want them to know I die true to the Union."

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, March 25.

Messrs. Editors:—Much has been written and more said in reference to an institution with which some of your readers who have never shaken from their feet the dust of our metropolitan thoroughfares, may be unfamiliar, an institution of which I am neither an apologist or supporter, but one whose enormities have been much exaggerated and whose actuality has been made to appear a second pandemonium, with a bad odor of cabbage and stale lager substituted for the sulphuric fragrance — the "Free Concert Saloons," and their attendants, the "Pretty Waiter Girls."

Nine strokes have been rung out from the bell-towers, the deep tones from the City Hall echoed and re-echoed over the island announcing the close of another day. The throng which a few hours since filled the main artery of the Imperial City,—the motley assemblage of merchants and clerks, working girls and men, the countless drays and carts, have all wended their way homeward, and the white stages alone traverse the pave, as the marble fronts of the colossal palaces reflect the pale beams of the myriad gas-lights, or cast dark shadows on the faces of the stragglers whose business or pleasure necessitates an evening promenade.

The bright glare from a basement opening attracts the attention of the aimless promenader, and descending the steps carpeted with an equal quantity of tobacco juice and saw-dust, we enter upon a low-ceiled apartment, disgustingly redolent with the fumes of bad liquor, cigars, pipes, and a general accumulation of dirt, rejoicing in the title of the "Parlor Opera." The furniture of the room consists of a dozen chairs and tables, around which are gathered the waiter girls and their customers, the former taking or filling orders, and the latter lolling in drunken slumber, or trifling with the aforesaid females, seated on their laps in sublime indifference to the recognized code of morals.

While noting these surroundings, a hideous combination of discordant sounds from a group in front of the stage (known in Concert Saloon phraseology as a "band,") calls attention to the performance. The first object apparent on the stage recess, which is ornamented with room-paper scenes, is an old contraband, with the customary shuffling gait, ragged apparel, dilapidated white hat and banjo. This star-performer enacts his part with an immense amount of boisterous enthusiasm, displays his talent in "cracking" indecent jokes, and so vigorously shakes his limbs that his body is in imminent danger of being segregated.

The negro retires and his place taken by a danseuse, dressed apparently in her little sister's clothes, displaying the contour of her form, rendered quite presentable by the aid of considerable cotton, to great advantage—i. e. according to the tastes of the habitues of these dens. This object prances from one side of the stage to the other with astonishing agility, rattles her castinets, makes several attempts to turn herself inside out, in some of which she nearly succeeds, and then retires to give place to a tall vinegar-visaged female, who sings a la opera, only a little more so. This performance, to which the audience pay little attention save when an unusual noise causes them to turn toward the stage, is kept up, in this and adjoining places, till past midnight.

Adjoining the saloon we have visited, and next door to Ball, Black & Co., are the "Palace" and many more, under the names of the Oriental, Eagle, Union Hall, Dahlia, and others full as patriotic and poetical, are scattered along on both sides of Broadway.

NEWINGTON.

DUTCH GUIANA.—A Surinam paper of the 15th ult. says:—

"The slave question in the Dutch West India colonies has been settled. All slaves in those colonies will be set free on the 1st of July, 1863, under the following conditions:

"1. Compensation of three hundred guilders for each slave—man, woman, or child—to be paid to the owner.

"2. Slaves to remain under apprenticeship on the estates for a term of three years, during which time they are to be paid wages for their work half of such wages to accrue to the Government.

"The Government will grant three millions of guilders per annum for immigration."

The average cost of an army ration is now about 16 3-5 cen's. Previous to the war it was 14 3 4 cents. The increase is made by an increase of the flour ration and the addition of potatoes, molasses, rice and hominy, which were not included in the old rations. The rations are abundant, and some regiments save $1000 a month overplus, which they sell to the commissaries, or exchange for luxuries. An attempt has been made to add butter to the rations, but the soldiers get this article by exchange, and its addition to the rations seems to be asked for by the contractors rather than the soldiers.—Boston Post.

☞ It is said the New Orleans True Delta has lately contained several articles in favor of a restoration of the Union.

The Worcester Transcript knows a man so mean that he won't draw his breath for fear of losing the interest.

☞ On Tuesday afternoon, John K. French residing in New Bedford, Mass., attempted to commit suicide by jumping from a garret window to the sidewalk, a distance of fifty feet. He struck the ground face downwards, inflicting a severe wound on his forehead, breaking his right arm, dislocating his left wrist, and severely bruising other parts of his body. French is about 24 years of age; he has been in the habit of using intoxicating liquor, and during the last three weeks has had several attacks of delirium tremens. His recovery is doubtful.

SCHOOL COMMITTEES.—Elections of Committees in School Districts Nos. One and Three, are to be held on this, Friday, evening; in District No. Two on Saturday afternoon.

The last N. H. Legislature made some changes in the law which has heretofore been in force. The act which was then passed, and which now goes into effect, provides that the Committee in each District shall consist of a chairman and six other members. One third of each of these Committees, exclusive of the Chairman, chosen at the present elections, are to hold office for one year, one-third for two years, and one-third for three years,—the term of each member to be decided by lot at their first meeting. One member of the high school committee is to hold office for one year, one for two years, and the other for three,—their terms, also, to be decided by lot at their first meeting.

At every succeeding election after the present, only that district will choose a Chairman in which the Chairman's term of office has expired, and each district will choose only two other members of the committee. All members of committees, chosen after the election next year, are to hold office for three years.

☞ The annual meeting of the legal voters of School District No. 3, for the choice of School Committee, will be held at the Vestry of the South Meeting House this, Friday, evening.

THE HORSE SHOE.—Pat Fogarty went all the way from Manchester to London simply to thrash Mike Fitzpatrick, which latter he did, winding up with the assistance of a horse shoe. He was detected and brought before Mr. Justice Simpleman.—A part of the examination is annexed.

Court—Well, you came here from Manchester, did you?

Pat—Your Honor has answered correct.

Court—You see the complainant's head; it was cut by a sharp instrument. Do you know what cut it?

Pat—Ain't your Honor afther sayin' that a sharp inshtrument did it?

Court, (becoming restive.)—I see you mean to equivocate. Now, sir you cut that head; you came here to do it, did you not? Now, sir, what motive brought you to London?

Pat—The locomotive, your Honor.

Court, (waxing warm.) — Equivocating again, you scroundrel: (raising up the horse shoe and holding it before Pat;) do you see that horse shoe, sir?

Pat—Is it a horse shoe, your Honor

Court—Don't you see it is, sir? Are you blind? Can you not tell at once that it is a horseshoe?

Pat—Begar! no, your Honor.

Court, (angrily.)—No?

Pat—No, your Honor, but can yourself tell?

Court—Of course I can, you stupid Irishman.

Pat, (soliquizing aloud.)—O, glory to goodness! see what edication is, your Honor. Sure a poor ignorant creature like meself wouldn't know a horse shoe from a mare's!

Who make the best soldiers? Dry goods men—they have the most drilling. Who are the most dishonest people? Hardware merchants. They sell iron and steel for a living. Who is the laziest man? The furniture dealer—he keeps chairs and lounges about all the time.

POTOMAC JIM.—A negro named Jim Lawson, a fugitive slave from Virginia has done such signal service on the Lower Potomac, in the way of reconnoisance and information, that Gen. Hooker, with the other officers of the army and navy there, have reported him to the War Department as worthy of a special reward.

☞ Letters from Havana state that Jeff. Davis, within the past six weeks, has had a large amount of money deposited in the banks of that city. If this is reliable, it would seem to indicate that the Rebel Chieftain is looking forward to an early "emigration movement," and is sending on his "valuables" in advance.

☞ A new projectile has been invented in New York, whose peculiarity is the expansion of the ball to the width of three feet. It is said to be like a man with a wheelbarrow—carrying all before it.—When this ball opens, a lively time may be looked for.

A CALIFORNIA SHOWER.—A correspondent writing from San Jose, Cal., says:

"About six weeks ago we had a slight shower that lasted about three weeks, when it set in to rain and has kept it up ever since. HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed, affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized,
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-[plies;
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a par —
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, 't was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you a "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to obtain Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent issued by me, for ninteen Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, not possessed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1862.

☞ The Cincinnati Enquirer of March 25, (a democratic paper) condemns and denounces the mob raised against Wendell Phillips in the severest terms, and insists upon the lecturer's right to be heard, no matter how obnoxious his speech might be. It repudiates with disgust and detestation all mob violence, no matter against whom it is directed.

The Enquirer shows by its very full and fair report that the violence and uproar of the mob were not in consequence of any thing that was said, but were arranged beforehand: the Enquirer says:

"Threats of disturbance were common, and the prediction that he would not be permitted to address his audience, was in the mouth of every body. Yet it is apparent that no one believed that any serious attempt to molest him would be made, for a large audience of ladies and gentlemen, representing all shades of political faith, were gathered soon after the doors were opened. How soon these hopes were crushed, and how outrageous the disturbance, will soon be seen."

The report mentions that when Mr. Phillips appeared, the mob groaned and hissed, but the cheers rowned the noise: the same thing was repeated when he stepped forward to speak.

The reporter gives the opening of the speech verbatim, occupying perhaps five minutes in delivery, in which no avowal was made of abolition or disunionism, and says;

"At this point a heavy boulder was thrown from the third tier of boxes. It struck a few feet from the speaker. It came crashing among the foot-lights like a cannon shot. Simultaneously with the boulder came a couple of eggs. One struck the speaker. The eggs were thrown from the second tier, and were accompanied by a series of yells, like nothing unless it be the war-whoop of a score of infuriated Indians—"Down with the traitor," "Egg the nigger Phillips," and a dozen other opprobrious epithets."

The avowal of being an Abolitionist and nothing else for thirty years, brought out a great hiss, and the statement that he had been a disunionist for 16 years, was the signal for a general row,—which was kept up after he explained that he now believed in the Union and liberty.

Nevertheless, the report adds:

"Mr. Phillips continued to speak for over an hour, but the melee in the second tier created so much confusion that we should not be able to do him justice did we attempt to report him further. They cried "Lynch the Traitor," "Hang the Nigger," "Tar and Feather the Abolitionist," (we omit the profanity.) Ladies and timorous gentlemen made their escape. The rowdies came down stairs with cries of "Let us take the stage," "Lynch him," "Put out the gas." It being probable that some of the evil-disposed would find the "gas stop" and put out the lights, in which case the loss of life would have been frightful, Mr. Phillips was induced to cease speaking, and the meeting dispersed.

Both exits from the Opera house were beset by gangs determined to lynch the obnoxious speaker. After some delay he was disguised and passed out through the crowd undetected; but it was well on midnight before the rowdies left the vicinity of the Opera house. A bottle of vitriol was found in the vestibule; it was not used."

CONGRESS.—The U. S. Senate on Thursday directed the Committee on Naval Affairs to inquire whether there has been any laxity on the part of officers of the blockading squadron at Charleston and other places. Mr. Henderson of Missouri spoke in favor of the emancipation aid resolution. Mr. Pearce of Maryland, reported a bill to remit the duties on arms imported by the States. Some discussion took place on the question of making an appropriation to complete the Stevens Battery, but no action was taken.

The House was in Committee on the tax-bill.

☞ Hon. Emerson Etheridge has written a letter from Nashville, Tenn., stating that Hon. Wm. H. Polk, a brother of the late President Polk, is in that city, and that Hon. W B. Stokes is shortly expected.—They both are strong Union men, and will co-operate with Gov. Johnson in putting the State machinery into operation. Our national currency is as good there as in New York, while the rebel notes command only 30 cents on a dollar. The prospects of conciliation are encouraging.

☞ A bill has passed both houses of Congress authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to furnish to the sailors and men on board the sloop-of-war Cumberland, who lost their clothes and other property in the late action with the Merrimac at Fortress Monroe, supplies of clothing to the amount not exceeding sixty dollars each.

DUNGEON ROCK, LYNN.—Mr. Marble, the famous explorer after the treasures of pirates, supposed to be buried in a cave which is known by the above name, has, within a few days, discovered some indications that he is approaching the end of his labors, and that he will soon discover the "pirates' dungeon." We shall believe it when he shall have found it.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A member of the 2d N. H. Regiment, in a letter to to the Coos Republican, says:—

"Our new General is very strict; but he occasionally finds equally strict soldiers in the 2d N. H. One day last week, fifteen of Co. B's men went to headquarters to do guard duty. The General gave them very strict orders not to let any one pass without the countersign. It so happened that the General was away in the afternoon and did not return until the countersign was out; and as he was going to his quarters the guard ordered him to halt and give the countersign. As he did not have it he was arrested and kept until he sent for his adjutant, who got him out. The General ordered a few days ago that a dungeon be built in this regiment joining the guard house.—It was to be built without any window or hole, that the light might not get in. Quartermaster Cook, in carrying out this order, has built a log house and plastered it up in good shape, without door, window, or any way to get into it. The question is, how can a prisoner be put in? An underground railroad has been suggested; but I think that when the General sees it he will make up his mind that none of the 2d N. H. intend to be shut up in a dungeon.

—— The sheath of the sword lately presented to Col. Marston, by Company B, of the 2d Regiment, has a heavy gold plate, the belt is trimmed with gold. The belt alone cost $60, and the whole establishment $200.

—— Mr. John B. Patterson has just been appointed a clerk in the private office of Secretary Chase in the Treasury Department at Washington, with a salary of $1200. He is a brother of Prof. Patterson of Dartmouth College.

—— In New Ipswich, on Tuesday, the 25th inst., a young man named Russell, about 17 years of age, lay down on a bed, to rest a few moments, and apparently in good health at the time, but died in a few minutes, from some as yet unexplained cause.

—— Clark Stevens of Co. F, Second N. H. Regiment, who was wounded at Bull Run and being captured, lay seven months in a Tobacco Factory, writes to his father—"I had a furlough given to me to that I might go home; but I understand that we are to make a forward movement soon, and I want to see one more battle."

REBELLION RECORD, No. 14. New York: G. P. Putnam:—This number of this valuable and reliable publication contains the diary of the events that occurred during the months of September and October, with the public documents and important papers belonging to that period. There are also the usual two monthly portraits. The engravings are unusually fine; they are beautiful portraits of Maj. Gen. Halleck and Maj. Theodore Winthrop. Of them the Boston Post says:—

"In the face of the one you can easily discern that quick intelligence and decision of character which had characterised his movements as Major General of the Department of the West. In the other you can see that a new face has come into the regions of Art: not the face of a Raphael, but one that has an individuality and a surpassing delicacy, with a tinge of melancholy to soften it, that will always be attractive to the more refined and elevated. The latent powers seen in John Brent and Cecil Dreeme can easily be seen behind that placidity which was the result of his habitual reserve.

☞ Senator Morrill of Maine has introduced a bill into the U. S. Senate, to provide for the public defence, and to accept the loan of money therefor from the several States. This bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to receive from any of the States money lawfully appropriated thereby for the general defence, to be expended by the Federal Government upon such works of defence as may be authorized by Congress, and issuing in return twenty years six per cent. United States bonds, the interest payable semi-annually. It also authorizes the Secretary of War, in case the President deems it advisable, to accept such a loan for the State of Maine, to take immediate measures for the defence of Portland, and such other harbors in Maine as a board of engineers, appointed for the purpose, may recommend.

☞ The trial of Ephraim Gilman for the alleged murder of Mrs. Harriet B. Swan of Fryeburg, Maine, is now going on at Paris Gilman carried on a farm owned by Mrs. Swan, and lived in the house with her and her children. On the 18th of June last she was found dead, with a scarf drawn tightly round her neck and the ends of it in her hands. Gilman represented that she had committed suicide, but the medical examination indicated that the strangling must have been done by some other means than the scarf.

☞ The London Mark-Lane Express declares that the Americans have driven the English plowmakers out of the Australian, Indian, and other colonial markets, and adds that if their mechanics do not bestir themselves, they will be beaten on their own ground.

☞ The Chinese of the present day are said to have lost a curious secret. They knew formerly how to paint their porcelain with fishes and other creatures in such a manner that they never appeared to the eye until the vases were filled with liquor.

IMMORTELLES.

PATRIOT MARTYRS.

They never fail who die
In a great cause; the block may soak their gore;
Their heads may sodden in the sun; their limbs
Be strung to city gates and castle walls;
But still their spirits walk abroad. Though years
Elapse, and others share as dark a doom,
They but augment the deep and sweeping thoughts
Which overpower all others, and conduct
The world at last to freedom. —Byron.

FRIENDSHIP.

False friends, like insects in a summer's day,
Bask in the sunshine, but avoid the shower;
Uncertain visitants, they flee away,
Even when misfortune's clouds begin to lower.

Into life's bitter cup true friendship drops
Balsamic sweets to overpower the gall;
True friends, like ivy and the wall it props,
Both stand together, or together fall.
—Francis Sturray.

CHANGE.

We say that people and that things are changed;
Alas! it is ourselves that change; the heart
Makes all around the mirror of itself.

THE HYPOCRITE.

See'st thou the man!
A serpent with an angel's voice! a grave
With flowers bestrewed! —Pollok.

THE REBELLION.

The Texans have reached Santa Fe, and occupied the town without resistance.—The American merchants and their families fled to Fort Union, a post to the eastward of Santa Fe. At this fort a great quantity of public property, to the value of several millions of dollars, has been collected, and preparations have been made to defend it against an attack.

A dispatch to the St. Louis Republican, dated near Island No. 10, on the evening of the 26th, says on that morning a reconnoitering party of 20 men down the Missouri shore, arrested three prominent citizens, who report that 2000 negroes are employed on the Island, a d at the batteries along the shore; that 65 rebel troops, including two Lieutenants and 40 negroes, have been killed by our shells; that the upper shore battery is abandoned, but the others are being strengthened, that the enemy is 15,000 strong, under command of Gen. Bragg, and that their encampment has been moved entirely out of range of our guns.

Memphis papers contain a Richmond dispatch of the 13th stating that on Friday last 2000 Federals passed Cumberland mountains and captured two companies of rebel cavalry.

A gentleman who has been some time connected with the Mobile and Ohio Railroad, has arrived at Chicago, and reports that Gens. Cheatham and Polk have left Humbolt with their forces to join Beauregard, who is concentrating his forces at Corinth, Miss. Their pickets extend to within 18 miles of our forces.

There was a reconnoissance from Fortress Monroe, Thursday morning, extending to Big Bethel, which was occupied by about 1500 rebels, who fled on the approach of our forces without any hostile demonstrations. Our troops now occupy the place.

The Divisions of Gens. Franklin and King, of the Potomac army were reviewed on Thursday by Gen. McDowell and Gen. McClellan. Lord Lyons, the Prince de Joinville, and several British officers of high rank, from Canada, were present on the ground. The latter expressed themselves greatly surprised at the superior drill, stature and description of the troops.

The Tribune's Washington dispatch says the enemy have at last entirely abandoned Aquia Creek, carrying with them their artillery and stores. There is no rebel force now between the river and Fredericksburg, the main body being posted about a mile and a half beyond.

The Times' dispatch says on Tuesday smoke was observed in the direction of Warrenton, Va., indicating the destruction of property which always attends a forced movement of the enemy. If a retreat has taken place it is undoubtedly in consequence of the terrible blow struck on Sunday at Winchester.

Jeff. Davis has vetoed the bill creating the office of Commanding-General.

Col. Ashy appeared near Strasburg, Va., on Thursday, and threw several shell into the Federal camp, killing one and wounding one. His position is said to have been such as to prevent Gen. Banks from cutting him off. Jackson is believed to be very quiet below Edinburg.

☞ Both Houses of the rebel Congress have passed resolutions advising that no cotton be planted this year.

☞ Rev. Samuel Aaron, a Baptist preacher at Mount Holly, attempted to deliver an abolition lecture in the City Hall, in Burlington, N. J., on Thursday evening He commenced by denouncing the Administration and the manner in which the war was conducted, when the crowd commenced hissing and throwing rotten eggs at him, and crying out "Kill him." The ladies present commenced screaming, and some of them jumped out of the windows. The Mayor was present, but was unable to stop the confusion. Finally Aaron withdrew, or was taken away by his friends. No one was injured.

A returned prisoner from Fort Warren, at Richmond, speaks thus kindly of his host:—"While at Fort Warren our men were treated with great kindness. Col. Dimmick was particularly kind; allowed the officers to buy uniforms and get many necessary articles. They were also allowed to have the papers of the day. They were allowed to write as many letters as they wished through the Northern States—only once a month to the South. Rations the same as their own. Privates were allowed all privileges inside the fort—political prisoners very narrow limits."

☞ Daniel Webster, Warden of the State Prison at Wethersfield, Conn., was assaulted on Friday night by a refractory prisoner named Gerald Toole. With a knife he had secreted for the purpose, he stabbed Webster in the heart and abdomen. Webster died Friday noon. He leaves a family.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and ridiculed, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

AN ODE

—TO—

Shaving, Shavers, and the Shaved.

Hail! cleanly art, universally so prized, [plies;
Which beauty doth impart, and good looks it sup-
So essential to the looks of men,
So highly prized by gentlemen;
I speak now of the tonsorial art,
Which in man's list of wants forms quite a part—
An art which is practiced by rich and by poor,
By the king in his palace, and he who begs at your door.
For the beard will grow, we may do what we can,
For 't was designed to distinguish the being called man
From his companion called woman. 'T was intended to show
She could not be shaved, which fact we all know;
For that unruly member, the tongue, is hard to keep still,
And when possessed by woman, allowed to do as it will.
In ancient times, no doubt you all know,
'Twas the custom of men to let the beard grow,
Until by history we find it asserted
The fashion of whiskers became subverted.
By royal edict, we are told, it was proclaimed
That all the king's subjects should wear the face plain;
That all should obey, as if with a breath,
And all who refused, be punished with death.
So the fashion became changed, from whiskers to none,
And the style of smooth faces again was begun.
Now scraping of faces began to take place,
And who should shave smoothest, went in for a race.
Soon the want of BARBERS began to be felt,
And they rose up accordingly, with their aid, a great help.
Now time that was precious began to be wasted,
And the first fruits of Shaving soon to be tasted.
Soon followed evils, one after another,
And curses on shaving for being so much bother,
Dull razors, sore faces, hacks and cuts not a few,
Till many faces were in right state for a stew.
Some raved, and some swore they would have their own way,—
So, rapidly passing, we come down to our day,
When independence is by all classes enjoyed,
And "do as you're a mind to," the motto employed.
If you want whiskers, wear them, provided they'll come;
If moustache or imperial, you may think yourself "some,"
If a clean, smooth face is the style you prefer,
Have it well done, so you 'll have no cause to demur.
And the sequel will show, as you soon shall see,
If you u "Want anything done," whatever it be,
Our Barber Shops are all good, no doubt every one,
But the place I prefer, anywhere under the sun,
Is right down in DANIEL STREET,—miss it you can't;
There you will find everything that you want.
Towels and napkins clean for the face,
Which is strictly adhered to in every case;
Clean mugs and brushes are there likewise,
And razors that don't start tears from your eyes.
Your hair cut in style that will please you, I know,
Oils that will start hair where "the hair ought to grow;
Dye, brown or black, for the whiskers and hair;
A Champoo for the head, "so rich," you'll declare.
Where is the place, you begin to surmise,
And cast your eyes upward in unfeigned surprise
I'll therefore keep you no longer in doubt—
So when wanting "anything done," the place you'll find out:
As I remarked before, on Daniel Street, 20 & 21,
At the Shop of TUCKER & LEVERTON. tf

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash ington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has an abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected application, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, MARCH 31, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— We learn that the friends of Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore, the enterprising Superintendent of the Concord railroad, in many parts of the State have already decided to bring him before the people as the next Republican candidate for Governor. We hear on every side the highest praise awarded to Mr. Gilmore for the patriotism, the sound judgment and the untiring energy he has displayed in his efforts during the past eventful year in aiding the State in sending her troops into the field. No man has sustained Gov. Berry with greater fidelity; no man did more for his renomination and worked more zealously for his election the second time, and these facts are universally known and acknowledged. No man has exhibited more devotion to the cause of the Union in this crisis and contributed more largely to the success of Republican principles in this State, and he would unquestionably be a most worthy and popular candidate for Governor;—yet we regard a movement like this in any direction at this time, as rather premature.—Manchester American.

—— The Manchester Mirror states that the young man Russell who was found dead in his bed in Mason, on Friday morning, was intoxicated when he retired. His being found dead after an evening of debauch with other young men, created suspicions of foul play, and a Coroner's Inquest was held. The post mortem examination revealed a worm eleven inches long in his throat, which had strangled him. When he was found in bed a worm about ten inches long was found near his mouth. The young man had probably not eaten much for several days, as his stomach was nearly empty, perhaps causing the worms to look elsewhere for food.

—— On Thursday afternoon two Irish women named Mary Dowd and Mary Garrity, residing in Manchester, had an altercation, which grew so warm that one caught up a kettle of hot water, dashing it at the other, but scalding a child severely in the attempt, so much so that doubts are entertained of its recovery.

—— The Dash and Blind Factory at Weare, belonging to Sawyer & Co., and occupied by Foster & Robinson, was entirely consumed on Thursday evening about 9 o'clock. Loss $5000. Insured $2000 on Machinery. It is supposed the fire caught by friction from the shaft.

—— The Manchester American learns that Dr. George Hubbard who as a medical director is connected with the army in Missouri, has been lately very sick with typhoid fever. He is now convalescent and in a fair way of recovery.

—— The religious society in Nashua, known as the Olive Street Church, have invited Mr. Gustavus D. Pike to become the colleague of Rev. Dr. Richards, who has become partially blind. Mr. Pike has supplied the desk about six months.

—— The rebels, at the battle of Pea Ridge, or Sugar Creek, captured Lt. Col. William P. Chandler, an officer under Gen. Sigel, and connected with one of the Illinois regiments. Col. Chandler is a brother of Mr. Nathan Chandler, of Boscawen.—He has resided several years in Danville, Vermillion Co., Ill., and is understood to be a good and faithful officer. He was one of a small reconnoitering party, who were suddenly surprised by rebel troops.

☞ Capt. Ericsson's model of a sea-going Monitor, 340 feet long, has reached the Navy Department. It is similar in construction to its namesake, now at Fortress Monroe. Like that it has but one propeller, and a single turret. The Department inclines to favor two propellers and two turrets for a vessel of this size. A Board to examine and report upon the numerous plans and models which have been sent to the Secretary of the Navy, has been constituted. It consists of Com. Jos. Smith, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks; John Lenthall, Chief of the Bureau of Construction; B. F. Isherwood, Chief of the Bureau of Engineers, and Mr. Hart, Naval Constructor.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Friday, the bill to remit duties on arms imported by the States was passed. The Naval appropriation bill being under consideration, an amendment was adopted appropriating $283,204 for the completion of the Stevens Battery, provided the Secretary of the Navy is of opinion that the vessel will prove to be an efficient steam battery.—The bill also appropriates $13,000,000 for building iron-clad vessels of war, and $250,000 for casting heavy ordnance.

The House was in Committee of the Whole on the tax bill. Many amendments were adopted.

A DEXTROUS BLIND MAN.—In a rake factory at Mt. Holly, Vt., is a blind man named Warner, who is the best workman in the establishment. He bores the heads and turns handles. He oils and adjusts his machinery, goes all about the building where he works, and is quite as much "at home" there, apparently, as the keenest sighted individual in the factory.

MODERN BARBARISM.

GOV. SPRAGUE, of Rhode Island, having been himself in the battle at Bull Run, was desirous to recover the bodies of two Rhode Island officers, who were slain and buried there. He therefore went to the place of their burial, last week, accompanied by Col. Ardolf of his personal staff, Hon. Tristam Burges, and W. H. Coleman, his private secretary. Messrs. Josiah W. Richardson, of the First, and John Clark, of the Second Rhode Island Regiments, were also of the party.

And now, (writes one of the party, in a semi-official account of the matter to a Providence paper)—occurs an incident which I am almost afraid to pen. It causes a shudder to hear or to relate, but it is true, alas! too true!

The party had but just commenced digging—the troopers had lifted out but one or two shovelsful of earth, when a negro girl came down through the woods from a house near by, on the hill, and watched the proceedings. Suddenly she came up by the side of the grave, and asked if they were not digging for Col. Slocum's body. On being answered in the affirmative, she said, "You're too late; the Georgia regiments have dug him up a good many weeks ago, to procure his bones for trophies—(it sickens me to write the revolting account)—that his body had been burned for this purpose, and finding the bones consuming with the flesh and the stench intolerable, they had thrown it on the fire to extinguish it." She pointed out the place where the cannibal rites occurred, and there, in the midst of coals and cinders, the horror-stricken party saw verified the woman's almost incredulous narration. She also guided the party to a spot a little further down on the banks of the brook, and in the water, stopped by a little clump of bushes, the blanket and shirt stripped from the body, were floating in the current. The calico shirt, from its pattern and figure, was at once pronounced by Mr. Richardson, who nursed him in his last moments, to be that of Major Ballou and not of Col. Slocum.—After circumstances also proved that the Ghouls had mistaken the object of their vengeance, and that the fate intended for the remains of Col. Slocum, was received by those of the heroic and unfortunate Major Ballou. I write this with a trembling hand and a burning heart. I would have spared you the pain of such a narration, but a calm, clear version of this fiendish outrage must be given, and sensibility laid aside for the moment. The ashes and, bones were gathered with scrupulous care, and wrapped in the blanket, were with the clothes laid carefully in the coffin.

The body of Col. Slocum was discovered unmutilated, contained in a rude box. So well defined were the distinguishing traits that none of the party failed to recognize instantly and with certainty the identity of the remains.

With uncovered heads the body was laid in the burial-case, which in each case was marked with the name and date of interment.

For the purpose of gleaning further intelligence about this horrible affair, the Governor and Colonel Arnold visited the house from whence the colored girl had issued, and there conversed with the occupants, who corroborated every word the girl had said. Mr. Coleman also made inquiries at another house in the neighborhood, and held a long conversation with a white woman on the premises, who had nursed our sick and wounded at Sudley Church. She assured him that she herself had witnessed the whole affair, and had expostulated, begged and entreated that the dead should be held sacred, but the savages mocked at her; and then finding all endeavors useless, she had saved a lock of his hair and preserved it for his friends, who she was confident some day would appear, and this lock of hair she gave to Mr. Coleman. The men who performed this hellish deed were members of the 21st Georgia regiment, and it will be remembered that it was Georgia regiments that the 2d Rhode Island had met and vanquished on the battle field.

☞ Capt. Victor Constant, held in high esteem by the mercantile community, and widely known, died at his residence in Chelsea, Mass., Thursday evening, of heart disease, as is supposed, at the age of 69.—Capt. Constant was one of the seamen captured by the British during the war of 1812, and was confined in Dartmoor Prison nearly two years. After the peace, he sailed from Newburyport, but during the last thirty years he has been a citizen of Boston.

DEATH OF BISHOP MEADE.—The Rt. Rev. Wm. Meade, D. D., Bishop of the Episcopal Church, in Virginia, died about ten days ago, at his late residence, Clark county, in that State. The father of Bishop Meade was Col. Meade, the confidential aid of Gen. Washington. The Bishop was 78 years of age. He graduated at Princeton College, has been a minister in the Episcopal church fifty years, and a Bishop thirty years.

LOTTERY CASES IN LOWELL.—In the Lowell Police Court on Thursday, Charles Woods, charged with being concerned in a lottery scheme, was held for trial in the sum of $1000. An examination was waived on the charges against John R. Lowell and Charles H. Garland, for the same offence, and they were both ordered to the June term of the Superior Court, the former in $500, and the latter in $1000. A large number of witnesses were examined, including the postmaster and hotel keeper at Salem, N. H., (which place Todd, the principal in the lottery, made his headquarters for a time) one of the victims from Gardiner, Me., and some from other places, besides a number belonging to Lowell.

OFFICERS FIT TO BE REMOVED.—The tests in use under Pres. Jefferson were—"Is he honest, is he capable, is he friendly to the Constitution?" Recent developments (says the Concord Statesman) will make it necessary for the Executive of New Hampshire to add to the Jeffersonian tests at least the following: "Does he get drunk? does he gamble?"

The Statesman makes the following important statement:—

"One regimental officer has now been several times in a state of beastly intoxication, in a distant part of the country; and the incumbent of an office of much importance here in New Hampshire is sorely maligned if he be not addicted to gambling.

Such transactions are sufficiently flagrant offences against the moral sense of all the good people of New Hampshire to call for the removal of both. It was a wonder with many people how the military officer alluded to came to be appointed; to which it was said the most solemn assurances were given that he would "keep sober." That promise became, several months since, of as poor account as "dicers' oaths," and a second or third offence, worse, if possible, than any preceding debauch, has been divulged within a few days. Gov. Berry, however, merely complied with requests that probably amounted to importunity, in appointing him. As it has turned out, no harm will come of applying, to all new candidates for Executive appointment in New Hampshire, in addition to other tests, those stated above—"Does he gamble? Does he use ardent spirit?"

Alluding to the story of Col. Whipple's drunkenness in Florida, the Statesman says:—

"We do not know that Col. Whipple's reputation would plead any one to doubt the truth of these statements. He was appointed to the position he has disgraced, because of a supposed soldierly experience in Mexico, at the instance of strong personal and political friends, who added their pledges for good conduct on his part to some of the strongest kind made by himself. We hope he may, for the sake of this State, be promptly dismissed from the service."

☞ The Memphis Appeal's Richmond correspondent, writing on the 27th ult., says: You recollect how the Moniteur spoke of the landing of Napoleon on his return from Elba, and how it greeted his arrival in the capital: "The Corsican monster has escaped." "The usurper has landed in France." "General Bonaparte is at Gregnoble." "The Emperor is at Paris." "Vive l' Empereur." Such would be the tone, I fear, of too many of the inhabitants of Richmond toward McClellan.

Shipping Point was occupied by our troops on Friday.

The Herald's Washington dispatch says an advance was made by the centre of the army of the Potomac on Thursday upon the rebels, 10,000 strong, on the road between Warrenton Junction, driving them towards Gordonsville. The bridges and tracks on the railroad were all destroyed and torn up, but our troops were pursuing the enemy as rapidly as circumstances would permit.

☞ The ship A. B. Thompson, owned in Portland and in Brunswick, Me., and seized last summer in Savannah, has been filled with sand by the rebels and sunk in the channel to that harbor. This fact is stated by a gentleman recently from Savannah.

☞ A recent Parliamentary paper shows that in the last ten years between six and seven hundred millions of tons of coal have been taken from beneath the surface of the earth in England, attended by the death, from coal mine casualities, of 1,466 persons.

CONVICTED OF MURDER.—Ephraim G Iman, who was on trial last week at Paris, Me., for the murder of Mrs. Harriet F. Swain, has been adjudged guilty. His counsel have filed a bill of exceptions.

☞ Eight lawyers belonging to the Bar of Oxford County, Maine, have enlisted in the defence of the country since the war began. They occupy places of rank from Corporal to Major.

☞ Perley telegraphs that the Senate Committee will concur with the action of the House in striking out the tax on printing ink and reducing the tax on newspaper advertisements to three per cent.

☞ A produce dealer of Wheeling was knocked down in the streets there, on Tuesday night, by two as yet undiscovered ruffians, who robbed him of $2840 in $20 Treasury notes.

☞ The English church at Hourah, opposite Calcutta, has been supplied with a peal of bells—the first ever sent to that portion of the earth.

☞ The total valuation of the buildings owned by the city of Lowell, Mass., together with the land upon which they stand, is $808,000.

☞ The Paris Sport, great authority in fashion, denounces white "chokers" for full dress, and suggests the substitution of rose or pink silk.

☞ A correspondent of the Atlanta Confederacy suggests that the churches in Georgia contribute their bells to the State, to be cast into cannon.

☞ It is reported that Bayard Taylor will be appointed Secretary of the Legation to Russia.

The thoughts of most men are on money: those of women on matrimony.

"NEWBERN IS OURS."

"Newbern is ours!" Triumphantly flashing,
Electrical fires speed Northward the story,
And all the wild hills of New England exulting,
Shout back in an echo that pierces the sky—

"Burnside Victorious!" What tidings more glorious,
To thy shores, Narragansett, could the warbards bring?
Burnside who takes on our hearts with his storming,
And royally enters, in purple—a King!

Newbern is ours, and our Burnside its captor!
Quick out on the Spring-breeze our banners float wide!

"Newbern is ours!" And lips while repeating,
Smile on in a transport of glory and pride.

Till sudden a thought strikes us down in our triumph,
Our voices are hushed, all our smiling is done!
Oh! Father in Heaven, how many Beloved
Lay cold by the ramparts ere Newbern was won!

How many dear homes of New England were blighted
Ere the moment of triumph and victory came!
How many young heroes gave life as a ransom,
Newbern to rescue from treason and shame!

How many heart broken, to-day in their anguish,
Say low, with a shudder, through lips white with pain,
"Newbern is ours!" "Sealed to us forever,"
—Oh, spirited words!—"by the blood of our slain!"

Newbern is ours—and our Burnside is victor!
But, alas! for our dead on a far battle-plain—
All our triumphing now breathes low in this whisper,
We thank thee, Oh father, they have died not in vain!

Local.

☞ Below we give the list of the officers of the U. S. steamer Sabago, now lying at Portsmouth Navy Yard, fitting for sea:

Lieutenant in command—Wilson McGunnegle.
Acting Master and Executive Officer—Wm. H. Mallard.
Assistant Surgeon—J. P. Quinn.
Acting Assistant Paymaster—Samuel G. Thorn.
Acting Masters—James F. Anderson and Benjamin Dyer.
Acting Master's Mates—William Manning, R. B Hines, Edward D. Martin and James Q. Barnes.
First Asst. Engineer—Samuel F. Savage.
Third Asst. Engineers—Sebastian Crolius, W. H. DeHart, Oscar W. Allison, and George E. Tower.
Orderly Sergeant Bates, and Corporal Mack, are in command of the Marine Guard.
The crew numbers about 110 men.

THE SEBAGO TRIAL TRIP.—The new U. S. Steamer Sebago, which has just been completed at Portsmouth Navy Yard, made a trial trip from this harbor, on Friday. She left the Yard about 11 o'clock, and returned about 7,—working to the great satisfaction of her officers and Pilot Preble, from whom we learned that she made twelve knots an hour, with thirty-two pounds of steam; and she will doubtless run fourteen or fifteen knots under favorable circumstances. She passed perhaps ten miles outside the Shoals, (which gave us a good view of Mr. Laighton's great addition to Appledore House since last season—which makes it look now almost like a small village,) then well over towards Newburyport, back by Boar's Head almost to the Shoals again—then in, and up river to the Yard wharf—all safe and—sound, we were going to say, but some few had not quite got rid of their sea-legs yet.

The party aboard consisted of a score or two of invited guests, including officers of other vessels now fitting for sea, other "nautical gentlemen," and several ladies, besides a few landsmen—a merry party enough, and a merry occasion too—such as one rarely enjoys, especially at this season. To enliven all, the full Portsmouth Cornet Band, Charles H. Tompson leader, was taken along by the officers, and added not a little to the "music" of the trip—especially the "trip of the light fantastic," which was almost incessantly kept up by some of the gay crowd.

A substantial lunch was served in the Ward Room—at which those who preferred it, took water; and one of the guests (our friend the slight Captain,) desiring that original beverage, tipped the quart cologne bottle over his tumbler, and was surprised that the mixture of the Farina with the pure aqua already in his glass, should turn to milk!

But we cannot, need not say more, than that the Sebago proved herself a good boat, though perhaps a bit wet; and her officers shew themselves to be gentlemen as well as sailors—throwing off for the time all the routine restrictions possible, and thus causing all to feel entirely "at home." The Band played well; the dancers enjoyed that pastime hugely, and the lookers-on almost as much; the sea was freer from swell than we ever saw it before, from the preceding days of north-west winds; and the blue above and the blue below, were soft and beautiful almost as in summer; while the varied animation on the decks, and along the Forts and shores as we passed, rendered the day one long for pleasant memory. Almost the only regret was, that cards being forbidden by U. S. Navy regulations, euchre couldn't be had. Our thanks (we were going to say) are especially due to the Lieutenant in command, the Executive Officer and Surgeon; but where all were equally courteous and hospitable, we can only remember all. We give, good luck to the Sebago and her whole crew.

☞ We copy from the Journal a mention of the Old South Sabbath School (free) Festival, last Wednesday evening—to which we wish to add that Hon. H. D. Walker of the Baptist School, also made a few remarks in his usual cordial, winning manner. This School is one of the most valuable, though quiet, beneficent institutions in the city. It is in charge of Mr. Kimball and Mr. Medbery, with two young gentlemen and half-a-dozen young ladies for teachers; and when we state that upwards of 700 (seven hundred) different children (mostly from very poor and ignorant families, of course) have been taught here during the five years of its existence, every reader will at once see the important influence and value of this most commendable charity. We have not time to say more now, than to commend any who may feel inclined to aid and sustain Mr. Kimball in his unwearied exertions, to confer with him or the City Missionary.

THEATRE.—We are requested to state that a large and excellent Theatrical Company are to open at the Temple to-morrow evening, for a week's stay; and are informed that the scenery and appointments are better than most companies of the sort can produce. The management invite the attendance of the public—feeling assured that the troupe are amply able to speak for themselves, in presenting the popular plays selected. 1t

☞ The Rockingham House, (which as everybody knows is always a social, pleasant stopping-place,) was the scene of several special gay and festive occasions, last week. On Wednesday evening, the "Encampment" of I. O. of O. F. sat down to (what they say was) an excellent supper there, after their public celebration. The Federal Fire Society also had their semi-annual "dinner" served up there (at supper time, however,) on Thursday—and they never have anything else but a good dinner and a good time, so report always said.

On Wednesday evening also, the Portsmouth Cornet Band complimented Mr. Marcellus Eldridge (who boards at the Rockingham) on his recent joining the Order of United Benedicts—by a delightful serenade; in acknowledgement of which, Mr. E. and his fair bride did the courtesies and hospitalities of the occasion with good grace and a bounteous hand, of course. [We had an inkling of the affair, and regretted having other engagements—but that Imperial Quadrille came off that night, and we couldn't leave that. Ask Mr. Lamprey.]

☞ The closing lecture of the Popular Course will be given at the Temple this (Monday) evening. The distinguished and eloquent speaker, Rev. A. L. Stone, D. D., of Boston, will undoubtedly deliver such a lecture as will prove at once a pleasure and a benefit to his audience; and it is to be hoped that the attendance will be sufficiently large to reimburse the managers of the course for the outlay they have made in conducting the lectures.

☞ After all the talk and scribbling about the name "Mahaska," which was announced for one of the new U. S. steamers now being built at Portsmouth Navy Yard, we now learn on the best authority, that the Navy Department now orders it to be Mahoska. Will the Portland Advertiser please tell us in what part of Maine, Lake Mahaska is?

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.
HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.
Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.
In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.
The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.
The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

MISSION'S SABBATH SCHOOL.—The annual festival of the Sabbath School at the Old South Church was held on Wednesday evening last. The school, which is mostly composed of poor children not privileged to attending of the regular schools connected with our churches, now numbers about 60, in average attendance, and is in a prosperous condition, under the faithful management of Mr. E. P. Kimball. The occasion was meant to show the practical interest which friends of the school are taking in the scholars, and was one of unusual interest. By contributions from various families those scholars who had been punctual and diligent in attendance, were allowed to partake of a bountiful entertainment, and to carry away with them what they might wish that remained over. The children conducted themselves with noticeable propriety and enjoyed the feast with manifest delight. A number of Sabbath School hymns were sung, and remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Medbury, who has been more or less connected with the school in his capacity as City Missionary, Rev. Mr. Eddy, Mr. Foster, of the Unitarian Sabbath School, Mr. J. Stavers, of the North Church, and by Wm. H. Hackett, Esq.—The school has been in operation three or four years, and for the past two years has been under the superintendence of Mr. E. P. Kimball, whose labors deserve a good deal more than mere newspaper mention.

EULOGY ON P. G. S. WILDEY.—By invitation of Strawberry Bank Encampment, I. O. of O. F., a Eulogy on the founder of Odd Fellowship in America was delivered at the Temple, to a crowded audience, last Wednesday evening, by Past Grand C. P. Joseph Kidder, of Manchester. It was an interesting treatment of the subject—beginning with the early history of Mr. Wildey, (who emigrated from England in 1817, and became a resident of Baltimore, where he died last October, at the age of 82,) presenting the outlines of his life-time, and paying a high tribute of honor to his moral worth, his energy, and especially the great goodness of his heart, which prompted him to the establishment of the order of Odd Fellowship in this country—an order which has devoted vast sums to the relief of sick and distressed brothers, and the widows and orphans of those who have died. It necessarily embraced an account of the growth of the order from a small beginning under the most discouraging circumstances, to the gigantic structure which now extends throughout the country, and works with almost perfect system—governed and controlled by one Grand Lodge of the United States.

The stage was draped with mourning, and graced by flags of the Union and the paraphernalia and emblems of the order.

Before entering the Temple the Odd Fellows formed in procession from the Lodge room on Daniel st. and, escorted by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, marched through Congress, Middle, State and Pleasant streets.

CAPT. G. F. TOWLE.—We noticed in our last paper that the town of Fermandina was in charge of Capt. G. F. Towle of this city. Capt. T. is well known among our citizens and as a military officer is of very superior qualifications, having spent several years at the State military school of Kentucky, where he acquired a thorough knowledge of tactics which at the present time is invaluable.

We learn from those who have witnessed the drill of the regiment to which he was attached, that as Lieut. in Co. B he had brought it to a very high state of perfection, and that the company to which he has lately promoted to the command, was speedily undergoing a thorough reform under his strict discipline.

We trust that some vacancy much higher in rank may soon give a better opportunity for the regiment to fully appreciate his services.

THE TAX BILL.—On Tuesday the Committee on Ways and Means added to the tax bill sundry additional classes of persons who will be required to take out licences, among whom are livery-stable keepers, cattle brokers, claim agents, lawyers, physicians, surgeons and dentists, $10 each.—Jugglers and prestidigitateurs, $20. Proposed amendments requiring preachers, lecturers, bakers, brickmakers, and persons held to service and labor (slaves) to be licensed, were all rejected.

As for the tax on lawyers, such a requirement for some of them, will not be likely to leave a great deal of surplus, after paying the rent, especially in view of the fact that people may be obliged to give up going to law among other luxuries. If the doctors raise their prices, we shall also be compelled to make health more of a sacred duty than ever. The tax will be paid cheerfully, and will do a great deal more good than harm in these cases.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY is of the first class among our periodicals. The April number presents an attractive table of contents, in literature, science and politics of the day. Among the latter are "John Lamar," "Then and Now," and "What shall we do with them?" Jeff. Davis' Message in Secret Session, by H. Bigelow, is an amusing affair. Here is a short extract:

"Some think we could make, by arrangin' the figgers,
A handy home-currency out of our niggers;
But it won't do to lean much on any such staff,
For they're gittin' so durned ready, by half.
One gentleman says, if we left our ions out
Where Floyd could git hold on 'Lee 'd take it, no doubt;
But 't ain't jes' the takin', though 's there a good look,
We mus' git sunthin' out on it arter it 's took.
An' we need now more 'n ever, with sorrer I own,
That some one another should let us a loan.
Sence a soger wun't fight, on'y jes' while he draws his Pay down on the nail, for the best of all causes,
Thout askin' to know wut the quarrel 's about,—
An' once come to that, why, our game is played out."

THE LEGISLATURE.—Among the recognized leading men in the Legislature, just chosen, may be mentioned Edward A. Rollins of Somersworth, who was speaker last year; Wm. L. Foster and John Y. Mugridge, of Concord; Prof. Patterson, of Hanover, Paul J. Wheeler of Newport, Aaron P. Hughes, of Nashua, Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster, and D. P. Wheeler, of Oxford, of the House. No doubt Mr. Rollins will again be elected Speaker. In the Senate the leading men are Wm. H. Y. Hackett, of Portsmouth, who will probably be elected President, as he ought to be, and our friend Onslow Stearns, of Concord.—Claremont Eagle.

The closing lecture of the course at the Temple will be given by Rev. A. L. Stone, of Boston, on an interesting subject. He gives interest, however, to any subject. He officiated at the North Church on Sunday.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, [under the Act of 1837.]

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works to ascertain the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice tendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability or invention unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that there is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that the large business he receives, he hopes, can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense business done by him during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as Importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. The Chronicle.

☞ The Cleveland (O.) Herald is responsible for the following.

"A few days since a respectable business firm on Water street received a letter from a customer near Youngstown, inclosing an order for—a wife. The customer was rich, middle-aged, a Dutchman, and a widower. He said he wanted a wife right off, and had no time to look up one for himself, but should be in town in a day or two to marry the woman whom he depended on his city friends to have ready for him. Such an order rather took the merchants aback, but the man was too good a customer to disoblige. As they had no supply of the article on hand, for sale, one of the firm went out to hunt it up, and at an intelligence office got track of a girl who could speak German and English, was tolerably good looking, and very much wanted to find a husband. A bargain was struck. The Dutchman came in yesterday, found the article ready for him, approved of it, got married, and took his curious purchase home with him. We did not learn whether the firm charged a special fee or percentage commission on the market value of the article."

UNCLE EB'S TRICK.—Uncle Eb, as we used to call him, among lots of good qualities, had a failing. He did love good liquor, but such was the state of his credit no one would trust him. He, therefore, one day, resorted to a trick, to answer the great desire of his appetite. He took two case bottles, put a quart of water into one of them, put one in each pocket, and started for the store.

"I'll take a quart of your rum," said Uncle Eb, as he placed the empty bottle on the counter. The rum was put up, the bottle replaced in his pocket, when uncle Eb pulled from his purse what, at a distance, might seem a quarter of a dollar.

"This is nothing but tin, uncle Eb," said the trader.

"Eh? now it's a quarter," said uncle Eb.

"It's tin," said the trader; "I shan't take it."

"It's all I've got."

"Very well, you can't have the rum."

Uncle Eb, without muth demurring, pulled from his pocket the quart of water. The trader took it, poured it into his rum barrel, and off walked uncle Eb, chuckling.

☞ Strawberries and tomatoes were served up at one of the Boston hotels on Friday last.

COUGH DROPS for phthisic, colds, asthma, croup, whooping and chin coughs, and all diseases of the lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts.; large, 50 cents.

EXETER, March 3, 1861. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I say by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.

Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM."

TUESDAY, APRIL 1, 1862.

UNITED STATES TAXES.

These must be met: they will be heavy, and at the best must be burdensome. They are not to be avoided nor made light now, by any process, whatever any demagogue may say,—or whatever any party may pretend to do.

The Philadelphia Ledger estimates the direct and indirect U. S. Tax at $165,000,000 annually, and says:—

"The sum to be raised and paid into the U. S. Treasury by New York every year will be $21,344,442; Pennsylvania, $15,985,035; by Ohio $12,867,791; by Indiana $7,430,175; by Illinois $9,414,640; and the other States in the same cheerful ratio. These are enormous sums, and by no process that can be devised, can they be collected without being felt. In some quarters the attempt to collect it will fall little short of confiscation. New England, New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey may go through with the breath of life remaining in them, but it is doubtful whether there is another State, loyal or disloyal, that can go half way through. An intelligent correspondent, speaking for the great West, says:

"I know that when a U. S land tax is added to the State and county taxes in Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas and Missouri, the tax-gatherer will, in a vast number of cases, have to take the land itself, and I believe that a similar result will follow in many parts of Ohio, Indiana and Michigan. And yet, the land tax is a small part of the proposed revenue bill."

Now, although the West is more illy prepared to meet the tax requirements of Government than the Eastern States, we are inclined to believe that this correspondent materially exaggerates the difficulties. The same correspondent then asks: "Shall rebel or loyal property be confiscated to pay the cost of the war? One or the other must be. You must either levy upon and sell the property of patriots in Ohio, or traitors in Georgia; of armed rebels in South Carolina, or Union soldiers and their relatives in Illinois." Almost every treaty following a cessation of hostilities, in modern times, contains stipulations concerning the expenses of the war, measured generally by the ability of the one party or the other to enforce the collection."

There is much weight in these questions or suggestions: and there need be no great scruple about confiscating and selling the goods and lands of rebels, to pay the cost of quelling the rebellion. They would not like it; but it would be just.

The noble and gallant men who have returned to us from the frigate Cumberland, describe to the listener much that cannot be conveyed by the pen. The acts and deeds of heroism in the battle with the traitorous Merrimac deserve to be remembered by all those who truly love their country, and should be—by having the name of each and all engraved on a golden tablet and placed in the Capitol at Washington. Those noble ones who perished in the conflict, remind us of the three hundred Spartans on whose tomb stone was written:—

"Go, stranger, and to listening Sparta tell,
That here, obedient to her laws, we fell."

FOREIGN.—Intelligence from Europe to the 19th inst.—three days later—has been received. The news is not important. It appears that the purser of the privateer Sumter, and another person, who were seized at Tangiers and taken on board the Imo, have not been released, as reported. In the House of Commons, on the 17th, Mr. Layard expressed the hope that the President would release them, when informed of the circumstances of their capture.—In the Liverpool cotton market, no change to report. American securities are reported firm.

☞ The N. Y. World does not believe the Nashville has escaped in the manner described, because the Secretary of the Navy has not been removed! The N. Y. Times is equally severe. It says—"the fact that, under the circumstances, this vessel was allowed to escape to sea, is another of the long series of National disgraces which we owe, not to our Navy, but to the administration of our Navy Department."

☞ The light-house on Petit Menan Island, Maine, was struck by lightning on the 24th of February last. At the first discharge, a ball of electricity, about the size of a peck basket, struck the rod at the top and passed to the ground, burning the rod nearly off the upper railing. The second stroke entered the tower, burning off the alarm wires in five places.

A REBEL NAVY.—In the Rebel House, on March 12, Mr. Conrad, from the Committee on Naval Affairs, reported back a bill to appropriate $100,000,000 for creating a Navy, building gunboats, and the purchase of arms. Laid on the table, and the Committee discharged from further consideration.

☞ The U. S. steam sloop-of-war Kearsarge, Lieut. Com. Pickering, sailed from Cadiz, 7th inst., supposed for the Mediterranean.

☞ Dispatches from St. John, N. F., report the coast closely blocked with ice.—The seal fishery for the season will prove an entire failure.

THE REBELLION.

The Potomac army is quietly pushing southward. Two brigades of rebels, under Elzey, being closely pursued, retreated across the Rappahannock towards Gordonsville, and blew up the railroad bridge.—The rebels are now south of the Rahpahannock. A bottle of strychnine was found in the rebel forage abandoned in the vicinity of Warrenton Junction.

Gen. Sherman visited Jacksonville, Fla. on the 19th, and was waited on by a committee of citizens, who represented the sentiment of Eastern Florida to be loyal.—The National troops were treated to every hospitality the town affords.

Pensacola has been evacuated, including Forts Barancas and McRae, and the rebel announce the entire abandonment of Florida. The rebel troops raised in Florida were ordered off, but refused to go.

By an arrival at New York from Newbern, we have definite intelligence of the peaceful occupation of Beaufort by the federal troops. Fort Macon was still held by a small rebel garrison, which it is supposed must soon surrender, as their communications with the main land are cut off.

The rebels are making a desperate defence at Island No. 10. We have accounts of the erection of new and powerful batteries, and gunboats, cased with railroad iron, being brought up to defend the passage. The firing on Friday was quite heavy, the rebels opening from a new battery, mounting, it is supposed, 128-pounders. Four rebel gunboats, partly clad with railroad iron, have appeared below Mount Pleasant, but as Gen. Pope's batteries extend in almost continuous line for 15 miles, it is not supposed they can force a passage.

A dispatch from Indianapolis, says Gen. Buell had assumed command of our forces and at the latest advices was within 15 miles of Beauregard, at Corinth, Miss.

It is reported that the rebels, numbering some 35,000, under Gens. Van Dorn and Price, have retreated entirely across the Boston Mountains, and are now at Van Buren and Fort Smith. Pike's Indians have mostly returned to the Indian nation. They were not formidable in battle having been panic stricken at the effect of our artillery. Price received his Major General's commission in the Confederate service on the 16th inst.

Eleven of the wounded at the Winchester battle, died on Saturday and Sunday, making out total killed, 114. Our wounded are reported doing well. They number about three hundred.

The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says the Government has learned through parties under arrest for disloyalty, that Beauregard stated several weeks ago that he should never fight Gen. McClellan at Manassas, but that his plan would be to draw our army as far into the centre of the southern country as possible and cut off his retreat.

YANKEE PRINTERS IN NEWBERN, N. C.—We have before us a copy of the Newbern Progress, March 22, and also a letter from a Portsmouth boy there, directed to his parents in this city.

The paper contains quite a variety of war news, loyal editorials, the roster of our regiments there, new advertisements of sutlers and yankee traders, and President Lincoln's Emancipation message, in all two pages.

The other two pages contain the old advertisements, just as they were, including runaway slaves taken up; negroes wanted to work, anybody having them to let as field hands, either boys or girls, will please to apply:—also lists of Confederate States Collectors, Postmasters; mail arrangements, and recruits wanted by the rebel army.

By permission of the U. S. Gen. Foster, the yankees took possession of the Progress printing office, as the late editor had gone off into the rebel army;—and the paper is now printed by Davenport & Co.

Eight yankees do the printing, one of them being the boy who wrote the letter.—He says, besides the office, "we have a room overhead, for lodgings, and another room to cook in. We have a good cook stove and all the utensils needful. We take turns in cooking, changing every day, till each has taken his turn. We have a barrel of flour, a barrel of molasses, and a barrel of sugar, with the chances to get more when these are gone.

We have sweet potatoes in abundance, and have captured a cow. So you see we have plenty to eat and drink. We have good beds to sleep on, china dishes to eat from, chairs to sit in, books to read, and gas to light at night.

Gen. Foster is appointed military governor of Newbern."

☞ Sec. Stanton, on Monday, appointed L. C. Baker special agent to take charge of all the abandoned rebel property in Virginia. The amount is large.

☞ The N. Y. Leader gives the rumor that Mr. Chas. A. Dana will shortly withdraw from the editorial department of the Tribune. The reasons have not transpired.

☞ A valuable deposit of tin ore has been discovered on Mt. Mica, in Paris, Me.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

☞ The Manchester American says "it is generally conceded that Hon. E. A. Rollins, of Somersworth, will be re-elected Speaker of the House. He presided last year with great credit to himself and to the entire satisfaction of the House.

In the Senate, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, of Portsmouth, a gentleman of great legislative experience and business capacity, will undoubtedly be chosen President."

—— A little boy, five years old, son of Mr. Titcomb, of West Windham, was so badly hurt in a a saw mill on Wednesday, the 20th inst, that he died after five days.

—— The dwelling house of Jas. Shanahan, a respectable, industrious Irishman of Milford, was destroyed by fire on the morning of the 12th inst. The furniture was mostly saved. Insured for $450.

—— A woman abandoned a child at the depot of the Concord Railroad in Nashua on Thursday evening. She came in the Worcester train and returned in the same. The child was about four months old.

—— Col. Whipple, of the New Hampshire 4th regiment, has resigned, and Lieut. Col. Bell is now commanding that regiment, with his headquarters at San Augustine, Fla.

☞ Bayard Taylor has accepted the position of Secretary of Legation to St. Petersburg. It is intimated at Washington that he will have a chance of being Minister to Russia in about a year, or when Senator Wilmot's term expires.

☞ It may not be generally known to farmers, gardeners, &c., that by writing to the Patent Office, Washington, they can obtain, free of cost, valuable seeds, suitable to our climate.

☞ The manufacture of maple sugar in Vermont must be very light this year, as the depth of snow has made it impossible to tap the trees, gather the sap and make the sugar.

☞ An explosion took place in a manufactory of fire works at Philadelphia, on Saturday, by which four or five persons are known to have been killed and forty or fifty wounded. SCHOOL COMMITTEES. — Elections of School Committees in the several districts in this city were held last week, with the following results:—

In District Number One:—
W. H. Y. Hackett, Moderator.
Wm. C. Hatch, Clerk
John Chase, Chairman.
John H. Bailey, William C. Hatch, Albert W. Ham, Horton D. Walker, Tobias H. Miller, Benjamin Hodgdon, Committee.

In the Second District:—
John Knowlton, Moderator.
Robert O. Treadwell, Chairman.
Adoniram J. Patterson, Lyman D. Spalding, Samuel W. Moses, Thomas Tredick, Andrew Sherburne, Wingate N. Insley, Committee.

In the Third District:—
H. F. Wendell, Moderator.
John W. Pickering, Clerk.
John E. Rider, Chairman.
Richard Walden, Benj. Russell, Woodbury Gerrish, Samuel Clark, William S. Willey, Samuel S. Whidden, Committee.

We understand that the Kearsarge, Com. Pickering, which by last steamer's news, has arrived at Cadiz from Portsmouth Yard, had a very stormy passage, and was managed with difficulty, perhaps on account of a too heavy weight of guns. She took a good deal of water into the Captain's cabin and ward room, and will probably have to be overhauled a little to make her a comfortable sea boat in stormy weather.—Boston Journal.

We believe the Kearsarge made no trial trip before she started on her voyage—so her ballasting, &c., was mostly guesswork. Of course such long, low, narrow vessels, designed for river use, may not excel as sea going craft in rough weather; but we would suggest that perhaps stories emanating near Charlestown Navy Yard, concerning Portsmouth vessels, should be received with a little allowance—especially from a paper which once made similar charges as to one of their own gunboats, and then "took them all back again," after inquiring as to the facts.

We learn that private letters received in this city, from the Kearsarge, report her (though somewhat wet in the very heavy sea she encountered) to be a very fast and staunch vessel. With reefed topsails and screw dragging, she run 11 knots, with about a merchantman's top-gallant breeze; and several days she made 200 to 230 miles. She's bound to make a name for speed—so we are assured by a letter from an admirer on board.

FURS.—We would call the attention of our readers to one of the largest auction sales of Ladies' Furs which has ever been had in this city, which will take place today, (Tuesday,) and Wednesday, at Mr. Adams' Auction Store, 3 Congress Block. This stock has been received from an extensive importing house, with orders to close the same without reserve. It comprises some superb goods, as well as the cheaper sort.—The ladies should not fail to attend and see the furs fly—as it being "hard times" and late in the season, there will no doubt be a chance for great bargains. 1t

☞ The Theatre Company which opens at the Temple this (Tuesday) evening, is said to be a large, talented and well appointed troupe. For cast of performance tonight, see bills. 1t.

☞ The Portland Kerosene Oil Company, on Monday, 24th, assigned the Factory and the entire works, stock, accounts of the Corporation over to the principal mortgagees, Messrs. J. B. Brown and St. John Smith. The factory continues in operation, though with the force reduced about one-third. This reverse has been brought about chiefly by the extensive competition with the Rock Oils or Petroleum that have been thrust into market at prices but little above the cost of transportation and the vessels to contain it.

☞ A Washington dispatch to the N. Y. Herald says the owners of slaves in the District of Columbi aare removing them as fast as possible; and by the time an act abolishing slavery there can be passed, hardly one able-bodied servant will be left.

—— The New Hampshire allotment commissioners were appointed by President Lincoln and not by the Governor of the State, as in other States.

IMMORTELLES.

DOMESTIC BLISS.

The camp may have its fame, the court its glare,
The theatre its wit, the board its mirth;
But there's a calm, a quiet haven, where
Bliss flies for shelter—the domestic hearth!
If this be comfortless, if this be drear,
It need not hope to find a haunt on earth.
Elsewhere we may be careless, gay, caressed,
But here, and only here, we can be blest.
—Anon.

GEMS.

Earth has its gems around!
Creatures through ether winging,
Flowrets in glory springing,
Dew drops upon the ground;
Sparks of the waterfall, insects' wings,
Ay! and a million beautiful things!

Sea hath its gems below!
In grottos to man forbidden
Marvellous treasures are hidden;
Pearls and coral lilies grow;
Deep and dark in the tombs of the wave
Jewels are hung in palace and cave.

Heaven hath its gems above!
Look! for its arch exalted,
With planets and stars is vaulted.
O! what spirits may rove—
Gems of the soul—through scenes like these,
Learning eternal mysteries. —John Bowring.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but the machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

Assessors' Notice.

The inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required, as the law directs, to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their polls and estates ratable by law, on or before the 16th day of April, 1862.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirement, in handing in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, may not expect any abatement. The Assessors or any Justice of Peace are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be delivered to one of the Assessors or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's office, on or before the said 16th day of April, 1862.

THE BEWITCHED TERRIER.

A TAIL FOR THE EXTRAVAGANT.

Sam Jobsin was a cullud man,
Who lived down by the sea;
He owned a good rat terrier,
That stood 'bout one foot three;
And the way that creature chawed up rats,
Was gorjus for to see.

One day this dorg was slumberin'
Behind the kitchen stove,
When suddenly a wicked flea—
A ugly little cove—
Commenced upon his faithful back,
With many jumps to rove.

Then up arose that tarrier,
With frenzy in his eye,
And waitin' only long enough
To make a touchin' cry,
Commenced to twist hisself around
Most wonderfully spry.

But all in vain; his shape was sich—
So orful short and fat—
That though he doubled up hisself,
And strained hisself at that,
His mouth was half an inch away
From where the varmint sat.

The dog set up a orful yowl,
And twisted like a eel,
Emitting cries of misery
At every nip he'd feel,
And tumblin' down, and jumpin' up,
And turnin' like a wheel

But still that most owdacious flea
Kept up a constant chaw,
Just where he could not be scratched out
By any reach of paw,
And always half an inch beyond
His victim's nappin jaw.

Sam Jonsin heard the noise, and came
To save his animile;
But when he saw the critter spin—
A barkin' all the while—
He dreaded hiderfobia,
And then begin to rile.

"The parp is mad enough," says he,
And luggin' in his axe,
He gave the wretched tarrier
A pair of orful whacks,
That stretched him out upon the floor
As dead as carpet tacks.

MORAL.

Take warnin' by this tarrier,
Now turned to sausage meat;
And when misfortune's flea shall come
Upon your back to eat,
Beware, or you may die, because
You can't make both ends meet.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the most liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its extensive connections, have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.

We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no traveling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors or Wine in large or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 2, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Com. Dupont, in an official report to the Secretary of the Navy, gives a particular account of an unfortunate affair on the Coast of Florida. A boat expedition which entered Mosquito Inlet and explored the sound for 15 or 18 miles, was fired upon by a concealed body of rebels, while on its return. Lieut. Com. Budd of the U. S. steamer Penguin, Acting Master S. W. Mathew of the Henry Andrew, and 6 seamen were killed.

The Leavenworth Conservative of March 26th, states that a large portion of the troops now in Kansas are ordered to New Mexico, and that Major Price, of the regular army, will assume command of the expedition.

A dispatch from Strasburg, Va., says about 2000 rebels made their appearance two miles beyond our pickets on Sunday.—The nearest regiment drew up in line of battle and awaited their attack, but the rebels declined attacking. On the same day they threw several shells into the camp of the Massachusetts 22d, but subsequently were driven off by the appearance of an advance.

☞ The Times' dispatch says Capt. Fox, Asst. Sec. of the Navy, as soon as it was known that the Nashville had run in at Beaufort, N. C., telegraphed to every gunboat of the Navy that was available, to proceed forthwith to that port to prevent her escape. All urgency was expressed in his dispatches, but by ill luck not one reached her destination in time to do any good.

The prospect is excellent for the passage of the bill for the completion of the Stevens Battery. The Secretary will request the amendment referring the matter to him to be stricken out. The department is anxious to have everything in the way of improvement or iron-clad ships fully tested.

FOREIGN.—Steamship Jura, from Liverpool March 20th, and Londonderry 21st, arrived at Portland on Monday. Her advices are two days later.

President Lincoln's emancipation message attracts much attention in England, although there had been but little time for newspaper comments.

Gibraltar advices to the 14th say the Federal vessels Tuscarora, Ino and Kearsage were at Algesiras. The Lieutenant of the Sumter and ex-U. S. Consul at Cadiz, who were arrested at Tangier, were transferred to the Harvest Home, from Boston. It is said they were put in irons.

A general meeting of the Atlantic Telegraph Company was held in London on the 19th. The Directors' report was adopted. Hopeful views were entertained.

Accounts from Greece say all the cannon of the insurgents had fallen into the hands of the Royal troops. The small garrison at Syra had been captured, and order restored at that place. The insurgents at Nauplia had asked an amnesty, and an armstice of 24 hours was granted.

The Extraordinary Japanese Embassadors, deputed to visit the various countries of Europe, arrived at Suez on the 20th.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, on Monday, Mr. Sumner of Mass, spoke in favor of the bill for abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia. The House was engaged upon the tax bill. Sundry important amendments were adopted. Some articles were added to the list, the rate of taxation on many others was modified, and the proposed tax on flour was stricken out. As the provisions of the reciprocity treaty interfered with the taxation of certain articles, notice has been given of a resolution requesting the President to take measures for the termination of that treaty. The House, in Committee of the Whole, has now acted upon 77 of the 109 sections of which the bill consists. The portion passed upon contains the general provisions of licences, manufactures, articles and products, auction sales, carriages, watches, piano fortes, billiard tables, plate, slaughtered cattle, hogs and sheep.

☞ Mr. Seward's diplomatic correspondence has been reprinted by the British Parliament—a very unusual, if not altogether unprecedented mark of respect. It is stated, and we believe on good authority, that the volume was reprinted in accordance with the desire of the Queen.

☞ Frequent applications having been made to the War Department for a change of position from the volunteer to the regular service, the Secretary of War has established a rule that no transfer of this kind will be made during the war, but all must seek promotion in their own branch of the service.

APRIL FIRST.— Wasn't that Lyan-en story, Mr. Boston Post, made out of whole cloth? Caveat emptor, on Tuesday, in buying the Post, for he might be sold.

NAVAL.—The Senate on Monday confirmed Delavan Bloodgood as Surgeon in the Navy, vice Chase, who is placed on the retired list, besides a large number of Assistant Surgeons in that branch of public service. Also William Wheeler, Francis C. Dade, Wm. S. Stanum, Wm. J. Saunden, Mortimer Kellogg, A. J. Ryerstead and John Greli to be chief engineers in the Navy.

A number of promotions and appointments in the Marine Corps were confirmed, including Major Delaney, to be Colonel, and Major Ward Marston to be Lieut. Col.

The U. S. ship Constellation, Com. Thatcher, from this port for the Mediterranean, was spoken March 16th, in lat. 39 12, lon. 56 54.

CONNECTICUT LYONS IN THE FIELD.—There are thirty Lyons, all related to the late Gen. Lyon, now in the army, and all descendants of Ephraim Lyon of Connecticut, a lawyer by profession, and a lieutenant in the revolutionary war. These are in the Connecticut regiments, and many of them from the same county. A young nephew of Gen. Lyon, a boy fifteen years old, named Arthur, enlisted in the 9th Connecticut regiment immediately after the General's remains were taken home and buried in his native town. Arthur was at school, which he left the next day after the burial to join the regiment, saying he had no idea of leaving his school to fight until he saw his uncle Nathaniel lowered into the grave. From that moment he was seized with a desire and purpose to enter the army and avenge his death.

FUNERAL OF THE RHODE ISLAND OFFICERS. — The funeral of Col. Slocum, Major Ballou and Capt. Tower, took place at Providence, on Monday. Their bodies were escorted by the Second Brigade of Rhode Island Militia, under command of Brig. Gen. Robbins, to the tomb in the Grace Church Cemetery, a short distance out of the city. Gov. Sprague and his staff appeared in the procession, mounted. The streets were crowded with spectators, many of whom had come in from the surrounding towns notwithstanding the disagreeable storm. Flags were displayed at half mast, minute guns were fired and bells tolled. Bishop Clark read the Episcopal burial service at the grave, and three volleys were fired by the escort.

SLAVES EMANCIPATED.—Gen. Curtis has issued the following special order dated Headquarters of the Army of the Southwest, March 26th :—

"Charles Morton, Hamilton Kennedy, Alexander Lewis, colored men, formerly slaves employed in the rebel service, and taken as contraband of war, are hereby confiscated, and not being needed for the public service, are permitted to pass the pickets of this command northward without let or hinderance, and are forever emancipated from the service of their masters, who allowed them to aid in the efforts to break up the Government and laws of our country."

☞ Jackalow, the Chinaman, who was arrested near Jersey City in March, 1860, charged with having murdered Capt. Lect and brother, of the sloop Spray, belonging to Guilford, Conn., is finally about to expiate his crime upon the gallows. He appears in excellent spirits, and manifests no concern whatever at his approaching fate. The bodies of the Leets were never recovered, consequently Jackalow could only be convicted of robbery in stealing clothing, watch, and other articles belonging to the victims. He had also about $700 in gold, undoubtedly the proceeds of the sloop-load of produce brought to New York. The proceedings in this case cost the Government over $20,000.

☞ The Post says about fifty fine-looking, stalwart recruits passed through Boston on Monday, en route for the 2d N. H. Regiment, now in Hooker's Division, under charge of Capt. Edward L. Bailey and Lieut. H. D. F. Young. They left for New York at 5 P. M., by way of Stonington.

☞ The Charleston papers admit that twelve men were killed on board the Merrimac, that her smoke stack was shot away, and that she went into Norfolk in a sinking condition. The first report stated that Com. Buchanan was wounded; the second announced his death.

☞ A charming lady in Troy spent $50 in lace last week—a present from a stack of a "bubby"—and the servant took it and the paper in which it was wrapped to kindle the fire with. The chagrin of all three was inexpressible.

☞ The Republican State Committee of Pennsylvania, at its recent meeting, resolved that it was inexpedient to call a State Convention for the nomination of candidates to be submitted to the people at the next election.

☞ The long bridge over Quebec river in Bridgewater, Vt., fell on the 16th ult. Four men had just crossed, one with a span of horses and a load of wood.

☞ At a fancy ball in Paris a Russian "Count" personated a river. His dress was covered with borrowed diamonds, and after the ball he ran off!

☞ On Friday, Mar. 21st, a serious disaster occurred in the Chicago Times' establishment. The roof over the composing room gave way under the load of snow and water resting on it, crushing through the second floor, carrying with the wreck of timbers a large and valuable amount of type, turtles, and other printing material. Eighteen workmen, who were engaged in the composing or news room, had barely time to escape. On the first floor was located a large book and job room, in which several men were at work, who, with extreme difficulty, effected their escape unhurt. Joseph G. Bennett, one of the newspaper compositors, was sitting in the news room at his case, directly below the point where the roof commenced giving way.—He was carried along with the wreck, and was buried amidst the falling ruins, in the first floor. Three heavy turtles, two of which were filled with type, weighing in all fifteen hundred pounds, fell around him, and yet he escaped without a broken limb. He received several severe bruises, but no injuries of a serious nature. The loss to the establishment, the Times says, is several thousand dollars. Its regular issue was suspended for one day only.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.—A most remarkable steam boiler explosion occurred in Baltimore on Monday afternoon at the Baltimore House of Refuge. A boiler in the boiler house attached to the bake house, 250 feet from the main building, was blown fully 200 feet in the air, then taking an easterly direction, exploded again in the air, after which it passed in a straight line 250 feet to the North, and fell directly on the roof of the school building, carrying with it its slate roof, rafters, beams and plaster and plunging into the school room where there were near seventy boys. Although the entire room was covered with ruins, only two children were killed—two brothers named Myers—and seven wounded, one seriously. The rest, with the teacher, escaped entirely unharmed. All agree that there were two explosions, one of which was in the air and changed the direction of the boiler.

☞ A letter from Cienfuegos gives an account of a horrible murder perpetrated in that part of Cuba not long since. Two wealthy gentlemen started from Havana on their way to the interior, to engage in trade, and carried a large amount of money with them. They stopped at Villa Clara, and while at dinner were attacked by a large body of men, who secured them with cords, and after extorting a draft of $5000, payable in Havana, and taking all the cash they could find, they took the unfortunates to a lonely place and deliberately murdered them by beating and strangling. In vain they both offered their fortunes for their lives. A reward of $50,000 and his pardon induced one of the gang to betray his accomplices, and eight of the perpetrators have been arrested.

☞ Commodore Foote, the Cleveland Herald intimates, does not at present want to take Island Number 10. It says his intention, evidently, is merely to occupy rebel attention until a blow shall fall in some other quarter—on New Orleans or on Memphis, or there may be a land force coming to make an attack from below the Island. The bombardment at long range keeps the rebel force busy at that point and prevents any withdrawal of thieir troops to any other point.

☞ The love affair of the celebrated John Wesley and Grace Murray—a widow of 33—has been revived in England, in consequence of the discovery, in the British Museum, of a paper relating to that long gone occurrence. The widow finally married one John Bennett, and lived to be 89, while Wesley married a Mrs. Vizelle, of whom Southey said, "she deserved to be classed among the three bad wives, of whom Job had one."

We learn that nine of the men employed at the city gas works utterly refused to take the oath of allegiance, saying that they had sworn to support the Constitution of the United States, and they would not perjure themselves. Richmond will, no doubt, be made too hot to hold these Yankee sympathizers. They had not been rejected up to a late hour last evening.—Richmond Enquirer.

☞ A well-known theatrical manager, A. H. Purdy, died at his residence in Brooklyn, N. Y., a few days since. He was the first person who introduced Uncle Tom's Cabin to the public in a dramatic form.—He realized about $20,000 from this play, but lost it all in other speculations.

☞ The semi-annual dividends of 44 Boston banks have been declared; they are nearly all the same as last October.—Two Banks divide 4 1-2 per cent., six 4, nine 3 1-2, twenty-two 3, one 2 1-2, and the Massachusetts Bank pays 3 1-5 per cent.

☞ The new iron-clad steamer Galena, now lying at Greenpoint, will be taken to the Brooklyn Navy Yard on Wednesday and immediately armed. Com. Alfred will take command of her.

☞ The Insurance Companies of Cincinnati refuse to insure buildings in which coal or petroleum oils are stored.

☞ On the Portland & Kennebec road, in Bowdoinham, recently, a rail gave way and threw fourteen freight cars off the track. A large quantity of molasses was soon afterwards observed lying around loose.

☞ Major General Lovell has proclaimed martial law in New Orleans. Pierre Soule, W. Freed, Henry D. Ogden, and Cyprian Dufour, are Provost Marshals.

An intelligent farmer, being asked if his horses were well matched, replied: "Yes, they are matched first-rate; one of them is willing to do all the work, and the other is willing he should.

☞ Gen. Beauregard appeals to the planters for their bells to be cast into cannon.

A NUISANCE.—The borrowing of newspapers (especially the Daily Chronicle,) is a nuisance, not only to those who take the paper in the only legitimate way, and pay for it, but to the printer also. We have repeatedly had papers stopped by good paying subscribers, both because thieves stole them from their doors, and also because their neighbors pestered them so in borrowing the paper, or reading it regularly in shops. A storekeeper in Daniel street, stopped his copy a few weeks since, and yesterday a gentleman in Cornwall street, did the same to get rid of the borrowers.—And these are not the only cases, by a great sight. If all who read the Chronicle, paid for it, we shouldn't care for tax bills.

☞ Lieut. W. McGunnegle, commanding the U. S. steamer Sebago, at Portsmouth Navy Yard, has been detached from that vessel and ordered to report to Com'r Foote, at Cairo.

Lieut. Edmund W. Henry, of the Mahoska, also at Portsmouth Navy Yard, has been ordered to the Sebago.

IRON CLAD BOATS.—Messrs. Editors:—In the dock at our Navy Yard, there is a new gunboat, which is exactly fit to be covered with iron, and needs no alteration. Build upon her about eighteen inches of oak, cover her with good iron plates, and she would go into any harbor, by almost any fort.

All the work she needs can be done before her machinery will get here and be put into her,—and can be done here as well and as quick as anywhere. Why shall it not be? A MECHANIC.

☞ The closing lecture of the Lyceum for this season was delivered on Monday evening, at the Temple, by Rev. A. L. Stone, D. D., of Park Street Church, Boston. It was a sketch of his own travel from Egypt to the Holy Land, across the Desert, and was a most lively and interesting discourse, which was very favorably received by the audience.

DEATH OF A FEMALE SLAVER.—The last steamer from Europe brought the intelligence that Mrs. Watson, the notorious female slaver, had departed this life. It appears that there were three indictments against her in this city, when she left last summer to go to Cadiz. She fitted out three other slavers at the latter place, but the United States Consul at that port, being advised of her movements, withdrew the registers of the vessels referred to, and they could not sail. It is said that the female slaver then resolved to drink and die. She was a native of New York city; having been born in Frankfort, between Gold and William streets. Her maiden name was Mary Jane Lackey. She was divorced from her husband several years ago.—New York Tribune.

☞ Brigham Young has an active agent at the Sandwich Islands who has stirred up the Mormons there to such an extent that fears have been expressed that they were about to take possession of the Hawaiian kingdom, as a more pleasant home than Utah. This new apostle to the cause among the Gentiles, is a Capt. Gibson, a young man from Northampton, Mass. Strange that a person born and brought up in Massachusetts—educated in the schools—could become enamored with so gross an imposition.

A BRIGHT ONE.—A little lottery was started in Newburyport, the other day, to sell a picture. It was not a gambling scheme, but on the plan of the Art Union!!—the tickets at a quarter. An Irishman, invited to purchase, looked at his quarter and declined; when a Yankee standing by, said—"Purchase, Jim, and I will take your chance for ninepence, so that you'll not lose more than half of it." The Irishman was pleased with the offer; took the ticket at twenty five cents, and handed it to his Yankee friend for half that sum, congratulating himself that he should not lose more than half what he otherwise might.—Herald.

CONSERVATISM.—There has been a terrible explosion of gas at a haberdashery house in Madrid, and the Pensionento, one of the enlightened journals of the city, says:

"Had the shopkeeper contented himself with lighting his place with candles which sufficed for his predecessors, we should not now have to deplore this catastrophe."

☞ The mother of the pugilist James (or Yankee) Sullivan is in very destitute circumstances, and as she is a very old lady (over 70) and incapable of helping herself, a number of those who are known as boxers, propose to aid the old lady by giving in New York a grand sparring exhibition for her benefit. The list of sparring talent is headed by John Morrissey, an old antagonist of Sullivan.

"No principles for the public eye" was charged upon one of the political parties in 1840; now the government has no news for the public car; and consequently we hear little of the operations of the army. We do hope that the country will ere long be so past its perils, that in this distant corner of the republic the newspapers will be restored to the good old times.

☞ The Senate, on Monday, confirmed the nomination of Stephen S. Harding, of Indiana, as Governor of Utah.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MONTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping uncontrolled.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

Assessors' Notice.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (un der the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Prepares Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Reconsiders cases, and prosecutes Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Wash ington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below give more than MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE TEST OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most skilful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, APRIL 3, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Banks advanced from Strasburg, Va., on Tuesday morning. When approaching Woodstock, his passage was disputed by Colonel Ashby, with cavalry, infantry and a battery. Our troops passed through the town, the rebels frequently stopping and throwing shells, to which they responded with effect. Gen. Banks pursued the rebels to Edinburg, five miles south, Ashby burning one railroad and two turnpike bridges. All the railroad bridges between Woodstock and Strasburg had been previously burned. On Wednesday morning our guns and musketry drove the enemy from Stony Creek, near Edinburg.—Our forces will build a bridge over the creek. It is not known if Jackson's forces were engaged on Tuesday.

Information has just been received from the lower Potomac that "contrabands" from Fredericksburg report that town now occupied by thirty regiments of the enemy, the main part of which have arrived there within the last three days. They report the steamer St. Nicholas and one other as being ready to transport rebel troops down the Rappahannock to some point. Other rebel troops and reported as having gone down the York river to reinforce the enemy's position at the mouth, where the rebel batteries are small. Detachments of rebel cavalry still occupy Aquia Creek as far up as Dumfries. Another magazine has been found at Shipping Point, containing a large quantity of shells.

Fort Pulaski has been thoroughly invested for thirty days. Gen. Sherman refused to allow the garrison to go out with the honors of war, and demanded their unconditional surrender. He would, on the 1st of April, open fire on the fort if they still refused.

The rebels have withdrawn all their forces from the coast of Georgia, and abandoned their fort at Thunderbolt, taking their guns to Savannah. Our forces destroyed the fort, which is within 5 miles of Savannah.

Reinforcements for Gen. Burnside have reached him; Fort Macon was to be stormed; Goldsboro, N. C., had been strongly fortified.

A rebel dispatch says two federal gunboats on the 28th commenced an attack on Fort Jackson, at the mouth of the Mississippi. The rebel steamer Vanderbilt has been lost, and one boat with 17 men has not been heard from.

The Merrimac, it is said, is fully prepared, but is waiting for some ammunition for her heavy guns, and for some infernal machines constructed by Maury. The steamers Yorktown and Jamestown are being more strongly clad with iron to accompany her. It is rumored that two steamers are being iron-clad at Richmond to join the expedition.

The rebel forces under Gen. Magruder, previous to their evacuation of Great Bethel, set fire to the town and completely destroyed it, leaving nothing but ruins. It is expected that Yorktown will also be burnt by the rebels.

Col. Buford, who has been some time in command at Hickman, Tenn., made a forced night march of thirty miles to Union City, arriving there early in the morning, surprised and scattered a rebel force of 1400, and captured 150 loads of quartermaster's and commissary's stores—losing one man only. A rebel mail captured at Union City, contained letters from the rebel troops on Island No. 10, representing that the forces there were disheartened and dispirited.

The rebels, under Generals Price and Van Dorn, are reported to be moving towards Memphis, in response to a call from Gen. Beauregard for help, all the rebel forces in the West being ordered to concentrate in Western Tennessee for a great and desperate struggle.

A dispatch, dated off Island No. 10, Mar. 31, says the river is falling several inches a day. The rebels have erected a large entrenched camp in the bend of the river, directly in front of our gunboats. An embankment half a mile long has been thrown up on the shore, behind which guns are mounted in large numbers. Our mortars fire every half hour. The shells are all thrown upon the Island. The rebels make no answer, except an occasional shot at a transport. Occasional firing is heard in the direction of New Madrid, caused by engagements between the batteries which are placed on opposite sides of the river below that place.

The Memphis Appeal says Van Dorn and Jeff. Thompson are concentrating a large rebel force at Pocahontas, Ark., preparatory to an attack upon the Federals at New Madrid.

NAVAL.—Lieut. G. H. Cooper, the executive officer of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, has been appointed to the command of the Massachusetts, which is nearly finished and will go into commission this week.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— J. A. Grillin, of Litchfield, a wholesale shoe manufacturer, sent a lot of ladies' kid boots to the depot at Thornton's Ferry, from which place James Cummings and Robert Lambert stole them. They sold several pairs in Manchester at too cheap a price to be suggestive of a legal transaction, and were carried before the Police Court, and fined $7 and cost, for non-payment of which they were sent to jail.

—— The store and dwelling house of William Howard, Esq., of Orford, were consumed by fire on Wednesday morning, 19th ult. The furniture in the house was mostly saved, but a large share of the goods in the store were lost. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss about $4,500, insured for $3,600.

—— The Annual Methodist Conference for New Hampshire will be held this year at Sanbornton Bridge, in the Methodist Church. It is always largely attended and a very interesting occasion.

—— A Gray Eagle was captured alive, in Newton, on Monday, by Mr. Timothy Sargeant. The bird had a fox trap attached to its leg when taken. The eagle measures from tip to tip of its wings, seven feet and a half.

—— The City Appropriation bill of Manchester, for the current year, amounts to $85,000, and includes the following items:—

Schools,	17,200,00

Watering Streets	200,00

CONGRESS, Tuesday.—The Senate continued the debate on the bill to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia. Various amendments were offered and rejected. A substitute proposed by Mr. Clark of New Hampshire was amended, so as to provide that slaves shall be paid for at an average rate of $500, one half to be given to the master and the other half to the slave, on his leaving the country. No action was taken on the original bill or the substitute.

In the House, the tax bill was further amended. The action of the House on this bill has been thus far in Committee of the Whole, where many of the amendments have been made by less than a quorum vote. The action of the House may in many instances reverse that of the Committee.

☞ The Crescent opposes the proposition to burn New Orleans. It says: "The remarks freely made about burning the city are entirely out of place. We should like to know what are to become of the tens of thousands of women and children in such an event. Fortunately, these remarks come from those who have nothing at stake, not owners of property; or, perhaps, they have removed their families into the interior, and got all their securities in their breeches pockets, and will advance into the country on the first appearance of the invaders. There are a good many of these kind of people about our city."

☞ Bishop Potter has forbidden the Rev. Dr. Tresham Gregg, of Dublin, Ireland, to lecture in Philadelphia. Mr. Gregg recently arrived in this country, and having bestowed much thought for many years upon the subject of confuting Catholicism, has held controversies from time to time with the clergy of that creed. His lectures since coming here have been mainly on the same subject, and Bishop Potter not wishing ill feeling engendered, especially at this moment, when both Catholics and Protestants are fighting side by side for the Union, has ordered a cessation of his course.

IMPORTANT CAPTURE.—The Emily St. Pierre, a fine ship of a thousand tons, with two thousand bales of gunny bags on board, was captured by the James Alger, trying to get into Charleston about a fortnight since; her register was British, and her crew the same. She cleared from Calcutta for a port in New Brunswick, the captain alleging that he had orders to stop at Charleston and go in if the port was not blockaded. She has long been known as a Charleston ship.

☞ At a meeting of the Sagamore Engine Company No. 5, held on Monday evening, March 31st, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—

Per Order.

☞ In reply to the Senate's resolution calling for Gen. Mansfield's report concerning the rebel steamer Merrimac, that body has been respectfully informed that it is deemed inconsistent with the public interest at present to furnish a copy of the document.

☞ A Trenton, N. J., dispatch of April 1, says the U. S. Circuit Court has directed the Marshal to take Jackalow to jail until further orders. He will probably be discharged.

TREES.

Messrs. Editors:—[The following communication was written some months ago in reply to an article in the Chronicle signed A. B. C., but as the time for setting trees was over, it was thought best to defer it till the time for the discussion of the subject should be more in season.]

I noticed in the Chronicle an article in defence of the Horse Chestnut tree, which seemed to partake somewhat of the antediluvian age, and to use a phrase more common than elegant—"old fogyism;" which is apt to show itself when and where any improvement is attempted.

Among other kinds of ignorance and prejudice in the world, perhaps it would be well to remind the writer that there is much learned ignorance and prejudice, which means that learned men are apt to have the prejudices and are sometimes ignorant of some very common things, which if it did not exist, improvements might more readily go on without being impeded by such musty impediments.

The writer has taken pains to hunt up authors to show the virtues (?) of the horse chestnut tree. If he had gone further and examined other authors, and asked living gardeners, he might have informed himself and the public of its poisonous and worse than useless qualities; but if there is any virtue in the tree or its fruit, I am glad he has made it public. But according to A. B. C's own statement "it is bitter" and his quoted author says, is "unfit for mankind and hogs." A writer in the Scientific American, page 390, vol. 5, which should be good authority, speaking of the different kinds of the horse chestnut, on the Mexican Boundary exploration, says "some of our men eat of the fruit, upon which most alarming symptoms of nervous depression, and pericordial-distress supervened, in the course of an hour thereafter."

As there are many kinds of horse chestnuts, it may have given rise to the different statements and opinions; but what we most wish to know is, is the kind in Portsmouth poisonous? I am informed from reliable authority, that "Mr. Chapman, tin plate worker, formerly of this city, had a child taken sick, which the physicians pronounced poisoned, and it had been eating horse chestnuts, and nothing else to cause it;" and one of our most experienced gardeners, Mr. R. S., says they were always considered so when he was a boy, and he considers them so now." It would seem that the above is enough to satisfy any one that is willing to be satisfied of the poisonous qualities of the obnoxious tree; and those remarks are not written for those that are willing or determined not to be satisfied.

But what we want in front of the houses, and in all suitable places in the street, and highways and byways, is fruit or nut trees that are beyond doubt suitable to the climate, and wholesome for food, and such as would be most appreciated in a city, where ten thousand people are to be fed three times a day, and sometimes between meals; and we want the house-rotting and poisonous nuisance to receive the "attack" of the woodman, till it shall no longer encumber, or imporvish the ground, and its place occupied by its betters, to drive poverty from, and give wealth to the city. B.

DESPISABLE.—The attempts which are being made by the Press to exalt one General and disparage another—to cry one up and another down, for political purposes, are despisable, and should be frowned down by every well-wisher to his country. The people are merely desirous of awarding praise where praise is due, and of bestowing censure where it is deserved, and they have no wish to become partizans of this General or that, on any other ground.

Wo to the false-hearted and mischief-making men who are already engaged in plots and counter-plots for the next presidency. Let us all lift together, save the country, and when the time comes, permit true merit and a discriminating public to designate the man for that high position.—Manchester Mirror.

☞ It is believed at Washington that the remains of those members of the First Massachusetts regiment who fell in the advance on Bull Run last July, and were buried there, have been exhumed by the rebels and their bones sent South as relics. The barbarity of the rebel soldiery is without precedent in the annals of warfare. A just retribution awaits them.

FORGERY. The Springfield, Mass., Republican reports that Charles M. Thomas, a brass founder in that city, after committing forgery to a heavy extent, has taken flight probably to Europe, in company with a woman. He has been engaged on Government work.

☞ The list of marine losses for the month of March exhibits an aggregate of 74 vessels destroyed, involving a loss of property amounting to nearly $2,300,000. The loss of life has also been lamentably great.

☞ The Prince of Wales went up the Pyramids unaided by the usual Arab guides. They were surprised and angry at his agility, for he forgot their bakasheesh.

☞ The ever popular play of the Octoroon is to be produced at the Temple this evening, with new scenery painted expressly for the company.

ROSES FOR THE GRAVE.

Why should the mournful willow weep
Over the quiet rest of the dreamless sleep?
Weep for life with its toil and care,
Its crime to shun, and its sorrow to bear;
Let tears, and the signs of tears, be shed
Over the living, not over the dead!

Plant not the cypress, nor yet the yew,
Too heavy their shadow, too sombre their hue.
For one who is sleeping in faith and love,
With a hope that is treasured in heaven above;
In a holy trust are my ashes laid—
Cast ye no darkness, throw ye no shade.

Plant the green sod with the crimson rose,
Let my friends rejoice o'er my calm repose;
Let my memory be like the cedars shed,
My hope like the promise of early red;
Let strangers share in their breath and bloom,
Plant ye the bright roses over my tomb!

THE SEA FAIRY.

Was it the chime of a tiny bell
That came so sweet to my dreaming ear—
Like the silvery tones of a fairy's shell
That bewinds on the beach so mellow and clear
When the winds and the waves lie together asleep,
And the moon and the Fair are watching the deep
She dispensing her silvery light,
And he, his notes as silvery quite,
While the boatmen listen and ships his oar,
To catch the music that comes from the shore!—
Hark! the notes, on my ear that play,
Are set to words—as they float the lay,
"Passing away: passing away!"

—Pierpont.

A DISCOVERY.—If the notorious Wigfall is to be believed, the captain of the gang of assassins hired to waylay and kill President Lincoln on his journey to the Capital in February, 1861, has been discovered. At the recent trial in Richmond of a man named Byrne, who used to be a notorious Baltimore gambler, on a charge of disloyalty to Jeff. Davis's pretended government, Wigfall testified to Byrne's loyalty to the rebel cause, and gave in evidence that Byrne was the captain of the gang who were to kill Mr. Lincoln, and upon this evidence, it appears, he was let go. Of course, to be guilty of such an intended crime is a mantle large enough to cover up all other sins against society and Divine law, in the eyes of that court at Richmond. And as Wigfall in this case has no visible motive for lying, there is no reason now for doubt as to the intended murder, plotted by leaders of the rebellion. We suppose very few of our readers would be sorry to have such men suffer a little gentle coercion.

SNOW IN VERMONT.—A correspondent of the Montpelier Watchman states that "he has taken strict care of all snow," and that 10 feet 8 inches have fallen in the town of Barre, this winter, and gives the amount for each month. Arvis Jones writing to the same paper from Waitsfield, says that about 11 feet have fallen in that town, and that it is now four feet deep on a level.

☞ Farmers report much damage to their trees, the past winter, from the mice. The deep snow has driven them to the trees for food, and they have girdled many young trees and some that were a foot through. As the snow disappears their work of destruction is made apparent.

The petition for the removal of the Secretary of the Navy, which was placed in the Merchants' Exchange, Boston, on Saturday last for signatures, has since that time been signed by a large number of persons, embracing some of our most prominent citizens, and among them many ship owners and professional seamen.—Boston Trav.

SAFE.—John P. Hale said in the Senate a few days since—"I have as great respect for the Secretary of the Navy, as any man ought to have." The Senator can stand by that expression.

KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN CIRCLE.—A Washington dispatch says it appears from official correspondence, that towards the close of last year a letter written by a Dr. Hopkins came into the possession of the State Department. It was therein stated that an organization had been formed, by which the members of the Knights of the Golden Circle were to rush into the army and service of the Federal Government, and thus gain influence and position for carrying out their treasonable schemes, and further, that ex-President Pierce was among the most prominent members.

When this letter was received a note was sent to ex-President Pierce, enclosing an extract from it. Mr. Pierce, in reply, expresses his surprise that even seeming credence should have been given to the charge, appeals to his general course as a complete refutation of the slander, and remarks that he never belonged to any secret league, society or association, and further, objects to the form of the note. Sec. Seward, in reply, explains that this was written by William Hunter, Clerk of the Department—explains the circumstances under which he signed it, regrets that it gave offence, and offers an apology.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

CHRONICLE BLACK LIST.

CHRONICLE OFFICE. Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 22, 1861.

To whom it may concern—greeting. The following debts of long standing on our books, we shall advertise in the Chronicle to sell to the highest bidder—all of them which are not paid before Jan. 1st, 1862.

In most of these cases we have not charged our full rates, as we should, in justice to ourselves; but only the cash advance price—and have generally not added the interest due us.

We shall insert the list in our paper one year removing, at any time, any names for which payment may be made, or good reason shown why it should not be demanded.

P. S.—Feb. 8, 1862.—All parties concerned having been duly notified, as above, and many having paid up and thus removed their names from the list, we herewith offer the following remaining bills for sale:

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

Assessors' Notice.

The inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required as the law directs, to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their polls and estates ratable by law, on or before the 15th day of April, 1862.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirement, in handing in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, may not expect any abatement. The Assessors or any Justice of Peace are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory shall have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's office, on or before the said 15th day of April, 1862.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the Patentability or Utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions superior to any, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has the unprecedented number of 1000 to prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The long practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is one pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At the recent election in Kingston, after eight ballotings for Representative without a choice, a Webster was announced as a candidate, and was chosen at the second trial by a majority of seven votes. A Webster has represented that town twenty-one years since 1796; Capt. Jacob Webster nine times; Col. William Webster, his son, three times; Samuel Webster, his son, twice; Isaac Webster twice; Gideon Webster, his son, three times; William C. Webster, another son, twice; and this year John Webster, another son of Col. William Webster, has been chosen.

—— The editor of the Ballot states that he plucked on Sunday last (Mar. 30th,) on an embankment on the southerly side of his dwelling, in Exeter, two pansies that had opened their leaves to the sun since the snow, under which the buds had slept through the winter, had left them. On the same bank tulips, crocus and snowdrops are springing up, while within ten feet of them is a solid snow-bank two or three feet in depth.

—— Gov. Berry left Concord for Washington, on Tuesday, April 1. He will remain a few weeks on business.

—— On Wednesday of last week, Joseph S. Harsey of the North Family of Canterbury Shakers, passed through Main Street, Concord, with a mast about 80 feet long. It measured 8 1-2 tons, and took six yoke of oxen and four span of horses to haul it. The Shakers have furnished eight masts this winter to come to Portsmouth, which have averaged $100 each.

—— The Manchester American says that in Milford, one day last week, a son of Mr. Sargeant was bitten by a mad dog through the hand. The father sprang to his rescue and the dog grasped him by the finger. The dog was finally choked off, and died with the hydrophobia. At last accounts the father and son were out, apparently well.

—— The fourth Annual Examination of the Reform School, took place in Manchester on Tuesday afternoon, and was witnessed by a large number of visitors, including Mayor Simes, Hon. H. D. Walker, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett and others of this city. The exercises consisted of the usual recitations in the common school branches, interspersed with songs and general exercises of the school. The school has been under the immediate supervision of Mr. J. K. Upton, assisted by Miss Annie E. C. Watson. The whole number of pupils at present is 99—89 boys and 10 girls. The Mirror states that after the exercises, remarks were made by the worthy President of the Institution, Hon. Horton D. Walker, of Portsmouth, and other gentlemen.

—— The Concord Statesman urges the cutting down the cumbrous machinery of their city government, believing a Mayor, with a board of Aldermen, to be amply competent to do all the business, without the assistance of a dozen, or more, Councilmen. Our town governments get along with three Selectmen, who assess the taxes as well as do all the other business. Our City Governments have a Mayor, Aldermen and Councilmen, and Assessors in addition.

—— A letter from the 4th N. H. Regiment, dated Jacksonville, Florida, Mar. 28, to the Manchester Mirror, states that on the night previous Capt. O'Flynn's company obtained some whiskey, and some of them got pretty "convaniantly" tight. The result was, a general row in their quarters.—The Officer of the Day, with a guard, undertook to quell the disturbance, but was met with brickbats, clubs, and even bullets. He ordered his guard to fire upon them, which they did. Some of the company returned the fire, and twenty shots were exchanged, resulting in the killing of Mr. Orren Stanton, a member of the company, who, the correspondent states, had been in no way connected with the mutiny. Col. Whipple, at the head of Co. B, rushed in and charged bayonets on them, which very soon quieted them. Capt. O'Flynn received a slight bayonet wound in the thigh. The company were stripped of their arms, and the affair is to be investigated by Gen. Wright.

☞ The Memphis Appeal of the 20th says the New Orleans Vigilance Committee have passed a resolution denouncing all who trade in money to the injury of the Confederate notes, as traitors, and such a course is urged on the Mobile Committee of Safety also. The effect in New Orleans was to check the demand for coin, and the last sale was at 20 per cent less than a week previous.

☞ Special dispatches to the New York Post say that the President has received a letter from Gov. Andrew Johnson, dated at Nashville, representing that the secession feeling is very strong in that city.

THE REBELLION.

A refugee from Charleston represents that there is a great panic there since the capture of Newbern. Fire eaters ridiculed the North Carolina troops, charging them with cowardice. Shopkeepers refused to receive North Carolina money, and two N.C. regiments helped themselves to their goods. These troops refused to serve any longer, and were allowed to return to their homes.

There is no direct information of the abandonment of Pensacola, but it is generally believed that our troops have crossed from Santa Rosa Island and occupied the place.

The military from the Gulf States at Norfolk are very severe on the Virginia chivalry since the defeat at Roanoke.—Henry A. Wise is proclaimed in the streets as a coward and poltroon. He has retired to his plantation. In his escape from Nag's Head he rode thirty miles on horseback, notwithstanding he had previously reported himself to be too ill to to remain on Roanoke Island at the head of his command.

There are large reinforcements of rebel troops in Arkansas for Van Dorn, who is about making a new movement.

It is now rumored that 32 of the Merrimac's crew were killed in her late engagement.

The rebels at Richmond are in a panic, and preparing to move. They have seized all the cotton and tobacco and are sending it beyond Petersburg.

A dispatch from Charleston says that General Evans advanced on Saturday on North Edisto Island with 2000 troops, but finding the Federals 6000 strong, retired in a masterly manner. It does not say whether there was any fight.

☞ Among the many evidences daily increasing that the rebels are losing confidence in their cause, it may be stated that an ardent secessionist and admirer of Southern institutions, who left Baltimore some months since to fill an editorial position at Richmond, has within the last few days returned to Baltimore, heart-sick, and is soliciting permission from the military authorities to remain.

THE PANTAGRAPH.—This name has been given to a new invention by Mr. Casselli, applied to the electric telegraph. Its peculiar merit consists in its transmitting autographic messages, that is, delivering them at the end of the line a perfect facsimile of the copy, thereby avoiding all risk of error. According to Italian papers it is now in successful operation between Florence and Leghorn.

☞ The want of lead is being seriously felt at the South, and in the emergency a Texas paper suggests that type metal should be used for bullets, with a slight admixture of lead. It says there is any quantity of old type in New Orleans and elsewhere—"and when that is exhausted, let us take the new. It could not be devoted to a better purpose than shooting at the Yankees."

☞ The Richmond Whig announces that Mr. Swan of Tennessee, has offered a resolution in the Confederate Congress proposing the immediate recall of the Commissioners sent to Great Britain, and the abandonment of all further attempts to conciliate the favor and secure the recognition of that government.

☞ From rebel sources we learn that the whole number of rebel troops at Fort Donelson, was 13,820, and that of this number 231 were killed and 978 wounded.—The casualties, however, were not all embraced in the returns, which show that the regiments in the fort did not average four hundred men each.

☞ It is stated that President Lincoln is so well satisfied with Gen. Sickles' soldierly qualities, and his extraordinary efforts in getting up the Excelsior Brigade, that he will keep him in command for the present, which he can do, notwithstanding the Senate's refusal to confirm him in the rank to which he was nominated.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. B. B. Russell, 515 Washington street, Boston, for excellent portraits of the several Governors of the New England States. The pictures are fine steel engravings arranged in an oval, with Bunker Hill Monument as a centre piece. It is well worth preserving. For sale by J. H. Foster.

☞ The Montpelier Freeman speaks of a piece of road in that vicinity of about two miles in length, in which there are three hundred and twenty-eight "cradle-holes." Many of them are nearly deep enough to take an ordinary sized team out of sight of others in the road.

☞ On the first day of April, 1861, a man walked through the middle of Church street, west of the North Church, over a bank of solid snow and ice, one foot higher than the stone posts. The snow is rapidly diminishing now.

It is said that no man is contented with his lot, but Smithers avers that if he had a lot on Fifth Avenue, he would be perfectly contented with it. There's no telling, however. Even Lot's wife could not submit patiently to her Lot.

CONGRESS, Wednesday.—The U. S. Senate passed the resolution recommended by the President in his emancipation message. The vote was 32 yeas to 10 nays.—The resolution had already passed the House. Two or three speeches were made touching the bill to abolish slavery in the District. The House passed the Senate resolution, giving the President authority to appoint officers to command in the field, without regard to seniority, when two or more officers of the same grade are acting together. An order was passed to bring before the House Mr. Aaron Higgins of Boston, to answer for contempt, in not appearing before the Contract Committee, when summoned. The tax-bill was further amended.

☞ As to the loss of life on board the Merrimac in her conflict with the Monitor, a recently arrived contraband says that he was a nurse at the General Hospital, Norfolk, and had helped to shroud thirty-two of the crew, and that Com. Buchanan and Lt. Miner are both dead. There were still a number of wounded surviving. He also states that the last two shots fired by the Monitor were the only ones that injured the Merrimac; these were thrown under her shield the moment she attempted to run the Monitor down.

☞ The Richmond Despatch says the grand army of the Federals seems to have been transferred from the neighborhood of Washington to the peninsula, which they have concluded is a shorter and easier road to Richmond than that via Manassas, which we have courteously placed at their disposal. The Despatch says the roads on the Peninsula are as bad as those on the Potomac, and that Gen. Magruder is not likely to be caught napping.

PERSONAL.—The Washington Chronicle states that the wife of General McClellan is engaged in circulating the books and tracts of the Boston Tract Society among the soldiers.—writing her name in each took.

Charles Dickens has been invited to deliver a course of lectures in Australia, for which he is offered the nice sum of £10,000, or £5000 and his expenses.

☞ The Tribune's dispatch states that the Senate Military Committee, dissenting from the rule that Volunteer officers must select for promotion in their own branch of service only, will practically give effect to their view that vacancies in the regular army should be filled by experienced men from the Volunteer regiments in preference to civilians.

THE NORTH AMERICAN REVIEW for April, 1862, being No. 195, is uncommonly interesting. The papers on Lady Mary Wortley Montague, Cilicia and Elizabeth Barrett Browning, are capital articles for the general reader.

The article on Costitutional Law is able, conservative, and anti-Sumner and Conway.

☞ It is surmised that the privateer Nashville, as it can now enter into no British port, will turn merchantman. With all the cotton she took from Beaufort, she can plausibly sustain such a character and be kindly received at Liverpool. After selling her cotton she can start out again as a pirate and make a bonfire of some other Harvey Birch.

☞ By letters received here from the U. S. Ship Constellation, spoken at sea, we learn that in five days out she made 750 miles, and expected to reach Fayal in five days more, or March 20.

☞ The mail contractors who have arrived at Washington from Kentucky declare that that State will probably accept the plan of emancipation proposed by the President in his recent message.

☞ The Richmond Inquirer of the 12th advises the citizens of Richmond to "remove everything which will not conduce to the efficiency of military operations, and to destroy what cannot be removed."

☞ Steamer Bermuda, England, arrived at Hamilton, Bermuda, on the 20th ult. It is reported that she had fifty tons of gunpowder on board, and that Slidell was one of the passengers. She would leave soon.

☞ A. W. Easell, an old resident of Bolton, Conn., died last week from the effects of a bite from a rat which he incautiously stepped upon while barefoot.

☞ Gen. Grant, though hardly forty years of age, has been in seventeen battles, in three of which he commanded, and was in the Mexican war.

☞ Mark Prime, of Saco, Me., has been commissioned by the President as Assistant Quartermaster of Volunteers, with the rank of Captain.

☞ One Northern mail received at Newbern, N. C., contained fifteen thousand letters and fifty bushels of newspapers.

☞ The total number killed of Com. Foote's Expedition up to last Monday was four wounded, sixteen; and missing, four.

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

THE NEWSPAPER

Advertising Agency

—OF—

S. R. NILES,

1 Scollay's Building, Court Street, Boston,

Embraces most of the principal Commercial, Business, Religious, Literary, Scientific and Agricultural Newspapers in the United States, British Provinces and Canadas, for which he is the duly appointed Agent, and authorized by the proprietors to receive advertisements and subscriptions at their lowest rates.

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have either adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their hooks out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, comparative value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr4 tf S. R. NILES.

☞One of the lost when the Cumberland was sunk by the Merrimac, was Mr. Asa Beals, aged 32 years. He was born in Newmarket, and entered the naval service in this city in 1859. He sailed in the Cumberland from this port, and remained in her from her arrival at Norfolk in the Spring of 1861, till she was destroyed.—He assisted in the destruction of the Gosport Navy Yard, and in the sinking of the Merrimac on the 21st of April, 1862, and when the Cumberland went down, he was at his post.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, on Thursday evening, the Appropriation Bill, as published in the Chronicle last week, was reported without amendment, and having been read a second time, was passed.

A petition for permission to relay the side-walk in front of Congress Block, was granted.

The use of Jefferson Hall was granted to the F. W. Baptist Society, for the purpose of holding a levee.

It was voted that the City supply a rope for the bell on the E. R. R. depot,—to be used in case of alarms of fire.

Common Council adjourned to the first Thursday in May.

☞ The vessels now building at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, being nearly completed, and no orders having been received from the Government to construct others, about four hundred workmen, including carpenters, borers, and laborers, have been discharged from the Yard during the present week.

☞ It will be remembered that some malicious person or persons, set fire to the Piscataqua Bath a few months ago, and that we are consequently without any institution of the kind for this season. We hope that measures will be taken immediately to secure the re-building of the Bath House, as the need of one is imperative.

☞ The managers of the Theatrical Company now exhibiting at the Temple, are making every exertion to present plays in such a manner as shall merit the liberal patronage of the public. This, Friday, evening they will give, for the first time in this city, Dion Bourcicault's great play, entitled the Poor of New York. The company is a large one, and among them are several who are well and favorably known to that portion of our citizens who are fond of such entertainments.

ADVERTISING.—We call the attention of business men to the advertisement of Mr. S. R. Niles, to be found in another column. He sets out with the proposition:—"Advertise: it is the life of trade!" This truth is most admirably set forth by Mr. Niles. We have often discussed the subject in our columns, but this little essay is exhaustive and we renewedly commend it to general perusal, particularly of those oppressed by the dull state of trade. Of Mr. Niles, it gives us pleasure to say that we have always found him attentive to the interests of his patrons, courteous and prompt in his dealings with the press. He certainly understands the whole subject of advertising, and he has facilities excelled by none.—Boston Journal.

MAINE IRON FOR MUSKETS. — The Springfield Armory has heretofore been obliged to purchase the iron for guns manufactured there, in England, as none could be found in this country that would answer their purpose. Recently the Pembroke Iron Works sent a sample of their iron to the Armory, and on trial it turned out to be greatly superior to any ever received from England. The consequence is that the Pembroke Company has just closed a contract with the Government for $40,000 worth of their iron.—Portland Courier.

RHODE ISLAND ELECTION.—Governor Sprague and the rest of the present incumbents of the State offices were re-elected on Wednesday, without opposition. The vote was light, only about 11,000 votes being cast. The General Assembly is divided politically very nearly as it was last year.—The Democrats and Constitutional Union party have a majority in the Grand Committee of about 36.

☞ Gov. Buckingham has appointed Friday, April 18, as a day of fasting and prayer in the State of Connecticut.

☞ The Washington Republican states that John Canney, President of the Virginia Secession Convention, has taken the oath of allegiance to the Federal Government.

☞The Naval Committee have returned from Fortress Monroe to Washington, and feel quite sure that the Merrimac will be taken care of as soon as she comes out from Norfolk.

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer, Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use tiny become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be guaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

We shall also add other names soon, unless they are cleared from our books by payment.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undesirable ones.

Assessors' Notice.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (as for the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Examinations made for patents or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by not inferior to any other. The Testimonials below given prove that more is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF of ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast amount of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, APRIL 5, 1862. NO. 53

NEW HAMPSHIRE-PAST & PRESENT.

In the struggling and warring which resulted in American Independence, Massachusetts, confessedly, took the initiative, led the van and bore the brunt. Her honors are recorded. But she was not alone. Among the raw troops thronging to Lexington; in the hasty levies which stood at Bunker's Hill, not ignobly, side by side with the best and bravest, were the Sons of the "Granite State"—the children of New Hampshire. So, too, in the war of 1812: so in the Mexican war. Or bridging at a bound our National history from the days of Warren onto the very present, New Hampshire has contributed Daniel Webster to the Republic—sufficient, were no other name or, fame recorded, to assure her place.

In the trial and turmoil wherewith we are now beset, it is refreshing to see how the sons and grandsons of the old worthies who rendered our state illustrious, come up to the rescue. The names which are in the histories begin to renew life, and commingle, mightily, in our great labors of to-day. Stark was a word name wakened the echoes, and had power to raise armed men, when British philanthropy of old ——"poured to Northern wars,

Her whiskered Pandoor's, and her fierce hussars."

Neither is the name dead, nor the spirit which illustrated it. The small, fierce partizanship which, in some quarters, rules the movements of New Hampshire, has prevented the Stark of to-day from drawing his father's old sword and gilding it with a new, sorrowful glory, while fighting to maintain by it what it aided to establish. But opportunity only is wanting. Given the command, there is still the Stark to take it:—competent, we are assured, both by high, natural qualifications, and by scientific, military study, to crown victory with honor.

Of the same trying period was Matthew Thornton, of the earliest "Committee of Safety," whose name stands clearly and firmly on our great Declaration: a physician—a Judge—a counsellor;—one of those far-sighted, clear-headed, iron-willed men, who made revolution success, and from painful war evolved profitable and permanent peace. His son, James Bonaparte Thornton, was Speaker of the State Legislature several years; represented the State in Congress; was Comptroller of one of the Bureaus under "Old Hickory," and finally died abroad, while representing the Nation. And now, the old name comes up before us again, in the true line of descent:—James S. Thornton, the last lineal male representative of the race—a Lieutenant in the United States Navy, of some fifteen years service; at present the Executive Officer of the Flag Ship Hartford—fighting in the Gulf of Mexico, to maintain what his father and grandfather so eminently aided to create.

First on the "Constitution of the United States" is the signature of Woodbury Langdon, of New Hampshire. In the glorious roll of our Naval Worthies is that of Com. Thomas W. Wyman. And now—name and spirit both transmitted—we read of Lieutenant Commanding Robert E. Wyman of the United States Navy: a son of the latter—great grandson of the former: who served through the Mexican War—was with our squadron in the troubles of 1839; until recently commanded—not inappropriately—the Steamer Yankee on the Potomac, and now comes up for a higher command, which, we venture to prophecy, will receive more honor from, than it can confer upon him.

The early History of New Hampshire was recorded by Jeremy Belknap—a celebrated divine.- Considering the material spread before him:—the instances and bright examples of patriotism, of bravery, of loyalty, of energy, intellect, piety and morality which his State afforded—it is not to be wondered that the good Doctor made an entertaining and instructive record. He did so: and now, when History is being made to refresh, adorn and complete that already written, the name which has thus far been used to record, comes up for record in the person of Lieutenant George E. Belknap of the U. S. Navy, now serving on the new steam gunboat Huron.

Quite prominent, during the formative period of State and Nation, was the name of Cilley—a Colonel during the Revolution.—That prominence may now be more highly commended from the fact that he has left to represent him Major General B. F. Butler, a son, by birth, of Deerfield, New Hampshire; though like many other sons of the Granite State, he has matured upon richer soil. Brig. Gen. Nagle, a graduate of West Point, and at present in command of the brigade which contains the 2d N. H. Regiment, is also a son of New Hampshire. Col. Thomas J. Whipple, commanding a regiment now stationed upon the sacred soil of South Carolina, is descended from the same parentage with William Whipple, whose name, conjointly with that of Matthew Thornton, represents New Hampshire upon the great Magna Charta of American power and being. There are, doubtless, many others deserving of mention, in this connection, from that State; and a similar presentment could be had for nearly all the old thirteen. It is, perhaps, needless. Ex uno disce omnes. Here we have, epitomized and condensed, a representation of all that is great, glowing and glorious in our National History—so far as a single State is concerned: the Legislator, warrior, clergyman, diplomatist and physician of the Revolutionary and formative period of our history, re living, with no lessened fervor of patriotism in the great struggle, which, with us, as with all nations is needed to cement, consolidate and nationalize the whole. Every nation must go through an era like that we are presently suffering. The strong are strengthened and purified—the weak consumed by it. That we enter with the right material, let the instances cited confirm; for, if those whose own private, personal glory is in the glory, unity, power and prosperity of the Union cannot, or will not act both wisely and bravely, where shall we look for valor, or upon whom shall we rely for discretion? and let the rewards and honors of patriotism, in past time, mould our opinions as cool and judicious—conduct as high and heroic in the present. So shall we yet restore the Union without one star dimmed—one glory lost.—Boston Post.

☞ Parson Brownlow says the jails in the South are literally full of Union men—many of them taken from East Tennessee. He says—"Never was a people so broken down. The Government owes it to the people, if they never go anywhere else, to take care of East Tennessee. They have stood firm."

"FREE COUNTRY FOR NIGGERS."

BY UNCLE TOBY.

Your statement, Mr. Editor, that "this is getting to be a free country very fast—for niggers,"—deserves something more than a passing notice. I hope and trust it may turn out to be true, because if I read history aright, the debasement or enslavement of any one class in a community, debases and injures the whole,—while the elevation of the laborer always exalts the whole community.

When the dark-skinned Egyptians oppressed and enslaved their somewhat lighter brethren the Hebrews, it bred difficulty, and they oppressed more,—but the Hebrews increased, and finally, Egyptian tyranny becoming insupportable, divine power freed the bondmen, and while Egypt's first born all lay dead, the glory of Egypt was drowned in the Red Sea. Egypt became "the basest of the kingdoms." See Ezekiel 29: 15.

When the Israelites in Canaan oppressed and enslaved their brethren, the public morals and national prosperity went down;—as they ought, under the wise government of the King of Kings, and their comfort and prosperity revived again, when these oppressions ceased.

These are ancient cases;—but the modern cases are stronger and bear more directly on our point. There are cogent reasons why the laborer, who is worthy of his hire, should have his hire,—and no good reasons why he should not. The negro is the laboring man of the South, and there is really no good reason why he should be a chattel, unless, as Senator Mudsill Hammond had it, all laborers ought to be slaves.

It is a fact, that the rebellion has struck a fatal blow which was aimed at freedom, but it fell on slavery, and the country is really, under this blow, "getting to be free very fast," for negroes. The roaring of mobs and the sneering of snobs cannot prevent it,—though they may make the war longer, more bloody and more costly.

By this we must not be understood to mean that all the people or all the army are Abolitionists. Very far from this is the truth. The Boston Post says, in speaking of the army,

"The remark is made that four-fifths of the men are Democrats or thoroughly national, and of the fifth (Republicans) a portion disclaim, with every expression of disgust, the atrocious onslaught made by the white-cravat Abolitionists."

Nevertheless, every blow struck at this rebellion weakens the slave system, and hastens its downfall.

The arguments and the sneers and the howls against emancipation in the United States now, are exactly the same as were used by the West India merchants and planters resident in England in 1833.

These noblemen and gentry told us and the world, that any measure of emancipation would produce almost all sorts of calamities among them, "a commercial crisis unparalleled,—dangerous to the lives and property of free persons in the colonies,—confusion, anarchy,—the colonies would be depopulated and would be separated from the British crown,—while the negroes would not be more comfortable, but would go back into barbarism."

All these bad things were to happen when the British West Indies were "a free country for negroes."

But have they happened in these twenty-seven years since their grand emancipation? No, not one of them!

And yet, if you ask the next ten men you meet, what has been the result of West India Emancipation, five of them will probably tell you it was a failure; but if you ask them for particulars they cannot give them. Of the remainder, four may say they don't know, and, possibly, one may know what is the fact in the case, viz. that the British West India Colonies were never before so quiet, so loyal, so strong, so orderly as they have been for these 27 years,—and that the working people there were never half so well off as they are to-day.

The Southern papers, under the control of slavery, have persistently and constantly misrepresented and belied these colonies in all these years; and their Northern echoes have repeated their falsehoods here so uniformly and constantly that a large proportion of our people are ignorantly duped in a matter so vitally important at this moment; yet the means of knowledge are close at hand, for in a work so easily accessible as the New American Cyclopedia, now in course of completion, each Island is accurately described, and statistics given,—for which we have no room here. But when we know that the Police of the Islands are nearly all black and colored, and three quarters of the Soldiers likewise are of the same color, that their imports have doubled, and their comforts vastly increased, the question is settled there forever, that free dom is a blessing and slavery a curse.

A few cotton lords, or rather rum and sugar lords, are made to "root lower,"—but the laborers, white and black, get their hire and live as freemen and brethren.

But will it do to have these United States a free country for negroes? Why not?—Are the States of New Hampshire, Massachusetts, and New York any less prosperous, intelligent or happy, because they have free negroes as citizens and voters? I trow not.

Is Maryland, slave State tho' she is, any worse off because of her 75,000 free negroes? or could she well spare them? By no means.

In Washington City there are 12,000 free negroes, who have built and own 12 churches, costing $75,000, who sustain 8 schools of their own, besides paying a school-tax towards white schools, and who have property worth $500,000. There were there, in 1860, about 3,000 slaves, and it is said there are now 1500 or 2000,—these Congress proposes to free. Why not? Who's afraid? or who will be harmed,—when we pay, among the rest of our taxes, a mill each, to ransom these slaves from their masters?

No harm, no fear,—we only wipe out a blot:—and the liberal men of Europe and the world will thank and honor us for it.

It is a fact on record by the government, that not a colored person has ever been buried at the public expense in the District of Columbia. It is also a recorded fact, that not a colored person in this District, having any reputation or position, has ever been convicted of a capital crime.

Emancipation will not stop at Washington: indeed it cannot stop or be stopped.—It may be checked, impeded, and made troublesome and dangerous;—but it will go on.

Mr. Stanton, our active, democratic Secretary of War, according to the Continental Monthly, holds this language: "I believe that the acknowledged fact, the necessary fact, that wherever our army advances emancipation practically ensues, will carry more terror to the slave-owner than any other warlike incident. But I would have them understand that the result is not our design but a necessity of their rebellion."

And that very conservative and cautious paper, the Boston Advertiser remarks:

"This has always struck us to be the true because the Constitutional ground of action. The slaveholder and slaveholding States, by their rebellion, have forfeited all claim for the protection of their institution; and we see not why, in again becoming members of the original Confederacy of States of the Union, Congress should not regulate and decide, prospectively, all matters touching the institution of domestic slavery, as they should and must any other great national interest."

The Boston Herald of March 29, takes similar ground, scouts the idea of any revival of slave dynasty to rule the free states or control their politics or policy, and sees plainly the current of events bearing us rapidly on toward emancipation.

It remains for the free men of the free and loyal states to say, whether we will have the free country South, to be like Barbadoes, Antigua and Jamaica,—or whether we prefer the St. Domingo pattern.

That freedom is "marching on," no sane man can doubt. It would be wise in us not to stand in the way as obstacles, lest the people trample us into the dust.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—In the Senate, Mr. Hale, from the Naval Committee, reported a bill, authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to test plans and materials to render floating batteries invulnerable, with an amendment reducing the appropriation of $25,000. The bill was amended and passed. The bill to provide the administration of the oath to citizens in foreign countries was taken up and passed. Messrs. Powell and Bayard opposed the bill as unconstitutional and unwise. The bill to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia was taken up. Mr. Sumner moved to amend the bill so that in testimony before a commissioner, no witness shall be excluded on account of color. Agreed to—yeas 28,—nays 12. The bill was then passed, yeas 29, nays 14.

The House was engaged on the Tax bill.

☞ Maj. Donaldson, from New Mexico, says Fort Union, the most important fort in the Far West, containing a million dollars' worth of Government stores, is now safe beyond peradventure. It is garrisoned by 15,000 soldiers, has water within the fortification, and provisions for an almost unlimited siege. Maj. D. says Maj. Lockbridge of Nicaragua fillibustering fame, fell dead at the head of the Texan Rangers in their last terrible charge upon Capt. McRae's battery.

EASTERN GOLD HUNTERS.—A company, with a capital of about $2500, has been formed at Machias, Me., for gold mining operations in Nova Scotia. They are having a quartz mill built at St. John, to be ready early in June. The agent has already left to look up a claim.

☞ The Kennebec Journal says Gov Washburn of Maine declines, without reservation, being again a candidate for Governor.

THE REBELLION.

A dispatch from Fortress Monroe states that on Tuesday a reconnoissance was made to Watts Creek, a distance of nine miles.—The enemy appeared, 3000 strong and opened with cannon on our forces, but the balls passed entirely over them. Our batteries were immediately got in position and opened on them, when the entire force broke and fled, fording the Creek in great confusion, keeping out of range. No signs of the Merrimac yet, and the opinion is gaining ground that she will not come out again.

A second reconnoissance was also made on Tuesday to Big Bethel, where the enemy was found to have roccupied the earthworks in force. On seeing our scouts they threw shells into the works occupied by our troops on a previous advance, but they were unoccupied, and no damage was done.

The N. Y. Times' letter from the Burnside expedition, says that on Sunday, the 23d ult., our forces having marched down from Newbern, N. C., entered Morehead City near Beaufort, and found it evacuated. A flag of truce was then sent over to Fort Macon and its surrender demanded, which was refused, and vigorous measures will at once be inaugurated to reduce the place by seige.

A dispatch from Comm'r Foote to Sec. Welles, dated off Island No. 10, April 2, says:—

Last night an armed boat expedition was fitted out from the squadron and land forces at this point. The five boats comprising the expedition carried in all one hundred men, exclusive of officers. At midnight they reached the upper or No. 10 fort, and pulling directly on its face, carried it, receiving only the harmless fire of two sentinels, who ran on firing their muskets, while the rebel troops in the vicinity rapidly retreated, whereupon Col. Roberts spiked the six gun mounted in the fort and returned with his boats unharmed.

A letter from Old Point in the N. Y. World says Commodore Tatnall has been assigned to the command of the Merrimac.

A dispatch from Louisville, Apr. 3, says an intelligent gentleman, who left Memphis a week ago, reports that Gen. A. Sydney Johnston said the Federals could outflank him in any position he might take, and therefore fortifications were useless. Gen. Johnston says the only chance for the rebels is an open fight in the field. Our informant thinks Corinth is their chosen place. He further said the rebels had about 50,000 troops on the line between Memphis and Huntsville, Ala., which were being reinforced, and it is supposed that they number from 50,000 to 65,000. The rebels are prepared with tar and rosin to burn Memphis when compelled to evacuate.

Gen. Steele's advance guard has reached Pittman's Ferry, Ark. On first crossing the river an engagement was had with the rebels, our forces killing one Lieutenant, and wounding several others, besides taking 5 prisoners, a quantity of camp equipage, horses, mules, forage, and a number of small arms.

It is said that a strong Union feeling exists in Northumberland and Westmoreland counties, Va., and also that much dissatisfaction exists among the rebels. Fort Lowris, on the Rappahannock, mounting 12 guns, is represented as having been abandoned, and the river is clear of armed rebels in force from the mouth to the town of Rappahannock, 40 miles.

DEATH OF A PROMINENT CITIZEN OF EXETER.—Joseph Taylor Gilman, Esq., a well known resident of Exeter, died at his residence on Thursday, from the effects of a cancer. Mr. Gilman some years ago amassed a fortune in the East Indian trade, from which business he returned upon a competence, to reside in Exeter. He was a man of liberal views and sagacious business qualities, and his loss will be felt keenly by the citizens of this county. At the time of his death he was President of the Granite State Bank, the Atlantic and Rockingham Mutual Fire Insurance Companies, and Treasurer of the Board of Trustees of Phillips Exeter Academy. Mr. Gilman was much respected by his fellow-citizens for his sound financial traits, his public spirit as a citizen, and his eminent social qualities, and his death will be mourned by a large community of friends and neighbors as well as by a large circle of friends in other States.

☞ The N. Y. World of Wednesday evening says:

"We are pained to learn, on authority we can hardly discredit, that grave and probably valid charges are urged against the Secretary of the Interior for improper speculations and other malfeasance in office; and there is a strong likelihood that a general change in the chief officers of the Interior Department will be necessary, including the heads of the Patent and Pension offices."

The N. Y. Commercial partially confirms this painful announcement. The manner in which the Interior Department had been organized was a subject of much comment in Washington a year ago.

DEATH OF AN OLD SHIPMASTER.—Capt. David Drinkwater, one of the oldest shipmasters from Portland, died at his residence in that city, on Wednesday afternoon at the age of 78 years.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be present through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who omitteries to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

The Agent will spare no pains to render his agency a prompt, safe and reliable medium of communication with the Newspaper Press of the country. He feels qualified, from his long experience and devotion to the subject, to impart valuable information in regard to papers and localities best adapted for different kinds of business.

Persons desiring information, its cost, compare, five value of papers and situations, are respectfully invited to call at the Agency, or they will be waited upon and every assistance rendered for the adoption of a thorough and judicious system of advertising. apr5 tf. S. R. NILES.

SUNDAY SERVICES.—Rev. W. H. Fenn, of Manchester, will preach at the North Church to-morrow.

Rev. George M. Bartol, of Lancaster, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

We believe it is generally understood that contributions will be taken up in all the churches in this city to-morrow, in aid of the families of the Gloucester fishermen who have been lost in the recent series of severe gales on the coast. The object is one which appeals forcibly for immediate attention and assistance, and, we doubt not, our citizens will respond as readily and liberally now as they have often done in similar cases in the past. Should the report come to us suddenly that a terrible battle had been fought in the South, and that one hundred and forty men, upon whom alone wives and children were dependent for support, had fallen before the fire of the enemy, every hand would be outstretched with the needed assistance for the widows and the orphans. Is there reason to fear that we shall be less prompt when so many husbands and fathers are lost, and so many helpless dependents left penniless by a destructive storm at sea?

☞ A poor man, who obtains a livelihood in this city by peddling fish, unfortunately lost his horse a short time since. It had wandered from the road into a huge snow drift, and being unable to extricate itself, was smothered. The man made application to the city for relief, as he was quite needy and could illy bear the loss of the horse which had so long and so faithfully drawn his fish to market. He thought that enough might be raised by private subscription to make good his loss, if the city would do something for him. The application was laid before the Board of Aldermen on Thursday evening, at his request. The members deemed it, however, hardly within their power to appropriate the funds of the city for such a purpose; but, as the object seemed to be one well worthy of attention, it was proposed that the members of the Board make contributions from their private purses for his relief. The proposition was cheerfully accepted, and quite a respectable sum was collected on the spot.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday.—Timothy Crowley, for being drunk on Bridge street, fined $3 and costs $3.85.

Catherine Adams, for brawl and tumult in Hanover street, was fined $3 and costs $3.75; and for want of funds was sent to House of Correction.

Thursday.—George Tredick, for being drunk on Pleasant street, was fined $2 and costs $2.92.

☞ The Franklin House in this city has been leased by George W. F. Converse, of Manchester. He took possession on the first of the present month. D. B. Kibby, for a long time the clerk of the Manchester House, in Manchester, now occupies that position at the Franklin House.

☞ The alarm of fire, about ten o'clock on Thursday evening, was false.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—An army correspondent of the Manchester American, in a letter from Jacksonville, Fla., dated March 11th, says:

"Col. Whipple resigned this afternoon; the reason for his resignation, I believe, is intemperance. When we came ashore here, the first night we expected an attack. He got drunk that night; so when the General came here he resigned. The soldiers are all sorry for it. He bid them all good bye. Some of them cried. I never saw a lot of men feel so bad before."

The same correspondent gives an account of the recent unfortunate disturbance in Co. G of the 4th N. H. Regt. He says the men were assigned quarters in buildings formerly used as stores. The rebels when they left, took with them all they could carry away, and hid the rest. The correspondent adds:—

"Some of this happened to be liquor, which the soldiers found, and got wild drunk, especially O'Flynn's company.—Some of them being arrested, the others did not like it, so they raised a quarrel with the officer of the day, Capt. Clough. When he came to quiet them, some body threw bricks at him. He threw them back, when some person fired a shot. He then ordered his whole commany out, when the firing commenced in earnest between the two companies. One of O'Flynn's men named Stanton was shot dead. Capt. O'Flynn got a bayonet thrust in the thigh. There is great excitement here. All of company G are under arrest. There were 17 shots fired in all. Company G did not have their rifles loaded; if they had been, the affair would have been much worse than it is. Capt. O'Flynn was trying to quiet his men when he was wounded. The man that was killed was not intoxicated, and took no part in the affair."

—A man about 50 years of age, named Burt T. Cook, of Dover, was seriously injured at the depot in that city on Wednesday afternoon last, by being run over by the Cocheco train backing in, Mr. C.'s attention being in an opposite direction. His left leg was completely crushed, and his right foot cut off. He died Thursday morning. No blame is attached to the employes of the road.

—Rev. George E. Sanborne was installed as pastor over the Congregational Church and Society, at Mont Vernon, on Wednesday last. Sermon by Rev. C. W. Wallace, Manchester; Installing Prayer, Rev. J. G. Davis, Amherst; Charge to the Pastor, Rev. Chas. B. Lord, Boston; Right Hand of Fellowship, Rev. Chas. J. Hill, Nashua; Charge to the People, Rev. Augustus Berry, Pelham; Concluding Prayer, Rev. Chas. Cutler, Francistown; Benediction by the pastor.

—Rev. Mr. Horton of Milford, Pastor of the Baptist Church, preached his farewell sermon last Sabbath preparatory to leaving for St. Helena Island, S. C., whither he has been invited to take charge of a church of 400 (colored) members, and where he expects to be engaged also in educational and secular pursuits for the benefit of the now free blacks.

—A dog known to be rabid, which has since been killed in Milford, passed through Amherst last Sunday, biting every dog which he met. The Cabinet states that the dog by which the first-named dog was bitten, had bitten his owner, Daniel Sargent, and his little son, four years of age—and that a pup bitten by him had died in spasms, evidently a case of hydrophobia.

—In the Supreme Judicial Court for Belknap County, Israel Bartlett, indicted at the last term for shooting Lucian Dicy, withdrew his plea of "not guilty," and pleaded nolo contendere, and was sentenced to the State Prison for three years.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.
HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The wring of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.
Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but the pressure they receive when put through a wringer, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.
In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, and WILL STAND EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.
The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.
The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be graded so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

We are determined that if we are victimized, we will have at least the poor satisfaction of "showing up" the delinquents, and thus do other business men a service, in warning them whom not to "trust." Our terms are cash, as nearly as possible; but even in the best list of customers of any sort, there will always creep in some undeliverable ones.

Assessors' Notice.

SPRING.

"The bursting buds look up,
To greet the sunlight, while it lingers yet
On the warm hill side, and the violet
Opens its azure cup
Meekly, and countless wild flowers wake to fling
Their earliest incense on the gales of Spring.

Continual songs arise
From universal Nature—birds and streams
Mingle their voices, and the glad earth seems
A second Paradise!
Thrice blessed Spring!—thou bearest gifts divine!
Sunshine, and song and fragrance, all are thine.

Nor unto earth alone—
Thou hast a blessing for the human heart,
Balm for its wounds and healing for its smart—
Telling of winter flown,
And bringing hope upon thy rainbow wing,
Type of Eternal Life—thrice blessed Spring!"

THE TRUMPET.

The trumpet's voice hath roused the land,
Light up the beacon pyre!
A hundred hills have seen the brand
And waved the sign of fire:
A hundred banners to the breeze
Their gorgeous folds have unfurled—
And hark—we hear the sound of peace?
A king to war went past.

The chief is arming in his hall,
The peasant by his hearth;
The mourner hears the thrilling call,
And rises from the earth:
The mother on her first born son
Looks with a boding eye—
They come not back, though all be won,
Whose young hearts leap so high.

The bard has ceased his song and sound
The falchion to his side;
E'en for the marriage hall and round,
The lover leaves his bride;
And all this haste, and change, and fear,
Hyperbolic chariots bear,
How will it be when kingdoms hear
The blast that wakes the dead?

CAPTAIN KIDD NOT A PIRATE.—At a meeting of the New York Historical Society, Judge Campbell delivered an address in vindication of Captain Kidd, in which he showed that Kidd had been an officer in the British Navy prior to 1691, when he married in this country and took command of a merchant ship owned by Mr. Robert Livingston. He was very much respected, and the Council in May of that year awarded him $150, and publicly commended him for certain services rendered to the colony. About the year 1695 the colonies of New England were infested with pirates, and the Earl of Belmont, whom the king had sent out as governor, proposed to the government to fit out a ship of thirty guns and a hundred and fifty men, and commission Captain Kidd to command her in a cruise against the buccaneers. This proposition was made upon the suggestion of Mr. Livingston, who expressed great confidence in Kidd's courage and capacity and offered to pay one fifth of the expenses. The government was then unable to furnish the required vessel, but the Earl of Belmont, Lords Halifax, Somers, Romney, Orford, and others contributed the necessary funds, and entered into articles of agreement with Livingston and Kidd. These articles were duly filed in the State paper office, on the 11th of December, 1695, the Court of Admiralty issued a commission authorizing Captain Kidd to take all French cruisers, and the king's enemies, etc. The adventure galley was fitted out, and in the following April, Captain Kidd sailed to New York, where he enlisted a full crew, and then commenced operations of a privateer. In the meantime the whig noblemen concerned in fitting out the adventure, were impeached. Rumors were spread that Captain Kidd had turned pirate, and when he entered Boston in June, 1699, he was seized and sent to England, where he was convicted of piracy, and executed in May, 1700. The impeached lords were afterwards acquitted.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (see for the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has obtained more Patents, believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of this writer during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to Patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse"

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

LITTLE BROTHER,

A SONG FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

By David Wingate, the Collier of Lanarkshire.

Oh! come, let us lay all our playthings aside,
And sing of our brother again;
We will sing how he once in our games join'd with pride,
Forgetting his cough and his pain.
But he's gone far away to the land of the stars,
All his moaning and weeping are o'er;
And till death the bright portals of glory unbars
We shall see little brother no more.

Little brother was kind, with a manner so sweet,
And his ringlets like foli;
Oh! we always were happy together to meet,
For we lov'd little brother so well.
But he's gone far away, &c.

Little brother could sing, and it was pleasant to hear
Him join in the hymn or the song;
And we never once deemed his departure so near,
Nor thought he'd be absent so long.
But he's gone far away, &c.

No more we'll for him gather primroses gay—
Little brother of flowers was so fond;
Now, he's gathering bright flowers that will ne'er fade away,
Yonder hills of white clouds far beyond.
For he's gone far away, &c.

No more shall he gaze on the far flying kite,
Whose string to his carriage was bound;
Nor smile in his chair, on the long winter night,
When the guess or the story goes round.
For he's gone far away, &c.

We must all be good children, and swear not, nor lie,
And always from quarreling refrain,
And so, one by one, to the star-land we'll fly,
And meet little brother again.
For he's gone far away to the land of the stars,
He has passed through the valley of pain;
And when death the bright portals of glory unbars,
We shall meet little brother again.

PRISONERS WILLING TO WAIT.—There are now sixteen prisoners under sentence of death in Pennsylvania, owing to the fashion that no Governor fixes the day for the execution of any one condemned during the incumbency of his predecessor.—Some have been under sentence 11 years.

☞ It is stated that the commission appointed by the War Department to adjust the claims of contractors have so reduced their bills as to save the Treasury some millions of dollars.

☞ The Ocean Bank, Newburyport, has declared its thirtieth semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent., which gives 150 per cent. in fifteen years, besides several extra dividends in the same time. The Mechanics' Bank has declared a semi-annual dividend of three per cent., and the Merchants' pass theirs.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them and all others affected that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Swett of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it.
Rev. Edwin Burnham."

MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— At a meeting of the stockholders of the Pawtuckaway Bank, Epping, to be held on the 17th inst, the question is to be put whether the owners are willing to divide the property and close up the affairs of the corporation.

—— An old Democrat, who stopped Mr. Harriman's paper—the Mancheater Union—because he proposed to lay aside party while we put down the rebellion, has offered to subscribe again if the editor will go in for emancipation.

—— Mr Charles W. Pratt, of Nashua, has been directed to report at Brooklyn Navy Yard, for examination as a candidate for appointment as Acting Master in the Navy.

—— The Lebanon Free-Press says:—Yesterday we noticed a lady crossing the Mascoma River near our office, and we presume she did not dream that the ice was less than two feet thick; yet we chanced to be looking again, not half an hour later, and the ice had begun to break away in the centre of the stream; and directly in the path over which the lady had just passed, without the least suspicion of danger, was a hole of sufficient size to admit even a fashionably dressed lady.

—— The Carroll County Agricultural Society will offer premiums this year on the largest products on given areas of land.

—— The country papers are full of glowing accounts of the rare sport obtained by coasting, during the past two weeks.—They say that old, middle aged, and young, of both sexes, have enjoyed it hugely. The snow has been of a sufficient depth to cover the walls and fences, and the crust hard enough to bear up even horses and oxen.—The women would slide down the long range of hills upon the sled, when the horses and sleighs would be in readiness at the bottom to convey them back for another "slide." Rare sport!

——Col. Obed Slate, of Hinsdale, while eating supper, last Friday evening, was choked while swallowing a piece of meat, and died within ten minutes. He would have been 84 years old had he lived till the 6th of April. Colonel Slate has been an active and useful citizen, and although his decease occurred at a ripe age, he will be sadly missed.

—— The Nashua Telegraph learns that the Nashua Watch Company have sold their splendid establishment in that city, to the Waltham Co., and unless the citizens take a pretty liberal amount of stock, it is likely to be removed to Waltham, Mass.

CONGRESS.—In the Senate, on Thursday, a bill for the relief of the widows and orphans of the officers and seamen of the ships Cumberland and Congress, giving twelve months' extra pay to the widow, child or nearest relative, was passed.

On Friday the Senate was engaged almost exclusively upon District of Columbia business. Previous to the adjournment Senator Trumbull of Ill. called up his Confiscation bill. Therefore this is the business now immediately pending before the Senate. He gave notice that he should press the consideration of the bill from day to day, until it shall be disposed of. In the House, the tax bill was reported from the Committee of the Whole, and ordered to be printed, as amended.

☞ All officers engaged in the recruiting service, have been ordered to their regiments, and notice given to the Governers of States that no new enlistments or new levies will be received until further orders from the War Department. The force now in the field is deemed amply sufficient for the suppression of the rebellion, and the speedy termination of the war.

☞ The Bostonians are enjoying a brief season of Italian Opera, at the Academy of Music—with some of the most popular well-known performers, and several new stars. They had a perfect feast of Opera last week, and the troupe will remain thro' this week at least. We are indebted to Mr. Gooche, (agent for Mr. Gran) and to Mr. Fenno, the gentlemanly ticket agent of the Academy, for complimentary tickets.

☞ The Times' and Herald's dispatches state the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia have indicted Horace Greeley for libel of Marshal Lamon.

☞ Surgeon General Finlay, who was removed from the medical department of the U. S. army, has been sent to Fort Warren. The cause is not stated. He is a native of Ohio, but a resident of Philadelphia.

☞ The Tribune's Washington dispatch says Secretary Stanton has issued an order forbidding newspaper correspondents, as well as all others not actually connected in some way or other with the service, from accompanying the army of the Potomac.

☞ The N. Y. Tribune has information, which it deems correct, that the whole rebel force consists of 265,934 men.

THE REBELLION.

Two new military departments have been created—one to be called the department of the Shenandoah, commanded by Gen. Banks, the other, the Department of the Rappahannock, under Gen. McDowell.

Reports from Island No. 10 states that the firing by the gunboats and mortars still continued on Friday. One shell burst on the rebel steamer Winchester, setting her on fire and burning her to the water's edge. The rebels tried, but without success, to get their floating battery into a position to do some execution. The rebels are erecting batteries all along the Tennessee shore, to prevent the landing of Federal troops from Missouri.

It is announced that Gen. McClellan has left Washington to take charge of a distant and, most important command, which is already in the field, and close upon the enemy, who will soon be made to feel its force.

The official report of Gov. Clark of North Carolina states that the rebel loss at Newbern was 61 killed, 101 wounded, 413 missing and prisoners.

Lieut. Worden will resume command of the Monitor as soon as he recovers, which will be soon.

At Fredericksburg, Va., there are but few rebel troops. They are falling back to Richmond. The citizens state that the Confederate government intend to abandon Virginia.

A detachment of the 2d New Hampshire regiment landed at Evansport, Va., on Tuesday, and marched inland. They secured a large amount of lumber, &c., and found a heavy gun left by the rebels near Quantico creek. The same troops landed again on Wednesday to bring off the gun. They encountered three rebel cavalry, who fired on our troops and escaped. Luther W. Fassett of Co. E, belonging to Winchester, N. H., was killed. His remains are en route for home.

Col. Geary's advance entered Middleburg, Va., on Saturday Mar. 29th. About 300 rebel cavalry were there, and a force of infantry were retreating from the place. A gun was placed to command the main street, and our forces charged the rebels at the point of the bayonet on double quick. They twice rallied, once in a hollow, and again in a thicket, but were driven out by rifles and shells. Our troops dropped all superfluous clothing in the chase.

The batteries were all ready, on the 21st to attack Fort Pulaski, and as heavy firing was subsequently heard in that direction, it is thought the storming of the Fort had commenced.

On Thursday, during a brisk firing upon Island No. 10. One shell exploded directly inside the rebel floating battery, when it was immediately submerged to the water's edge, and towed out of range.

THE OPERA of "MARTHA, or the Richmond Fair," (by F. Von Flotow,) is the most beautiful and enjoyable opera with which we are acquainted—the plot the most reasonable, natural and romantic, and the music truly delightful. For the interest of many of our readers who prize the familiar gems from the score, which have been popularized for the piano, we give "the plot" below:

Lady Henrietta Durham and her companion, Nancy, who find themselves dying of ennui in fashionable life, hearing from the window the bucolic music of a fair, where the peasant girls of the village present themselves for yearly hire, take into their heads to attend, in peasant's disguise, this servant's mart. Lady Henrietta has a lover, Sir Tristan, whom she compels to accompany them. They carry the joke so far that they offer themselves as servants to two young rustics, Lionel and Plumkett, and receive the money which attests their engagement; thinking that it has gone far enough, they wish to retreat, but find to their dismay that the money has secured their services to the young men. The noble lover attempts to interfere, but it attacked by the still unengaged servant girls, and chased off the field.

The ladies, left alone with their future masters, are afraid to discover themselves lest the King should hear of it, and finally have to follow the young men to do menial service. When they arrive home, they retire after several unsuccessful attempts to make the newly-engaged servants (one of whom has assumed the name of Martha, and the other that of Julia) work, to their sleeping apartments, from which, in the middle of the night, and by the help of the noble lover, they manage their escape, having, however, left their hearts behind; a pursuit follows.

They are afterwards encountered in hunting guise, and attended, from a chase; Lionel, now in love with Martha, finding that his love is not returned, claims her as his servant; he is arrested, but sends a ring, given him by his father, to the Queen, which proves him to be the son of a nobleman unjustly banished. His father's lands and titles are restored to him; he marries Lady Henrietta, and his friend Plumkett, Nancy.

Mr. S. R. NILES, Boston, understands the science of advertising as perfectly as any man in the country, and is as capable of advising upon the subject, or performing any duties connected with it. He is always prompt and faithful in the transaction of his commissions, and has proved himself worthy of implicit confidence by the care and judgment he has exhibited in all his dealings.—His agency affords great advantages to business men of every class, and we do but justice to them in calling their careful attention to his advertisement.—Boston Post.

Recollections of Old Acquaintance.

BY UNCLE TOBY.

COMMODORE MIFFLIN.—The title was honorary or fanciful, but the name was real, and Mr. Mifflin lived and labored in Portsmouth through Uncle Toby's boyhood, and died, he was about to say, only a few years ago. How many? says a youngster: was it twenty? Yes, more. Thirty? Yes, more, but not forty.

He lived in Rock Pasture. Well, where's that? No where, now; because the Rocks are gone, and the pasture also, for though the land remains, it is now cut up into streets and squares, occupied with houses, shops, mills and iron works. But Rock Pasture did extend, in Commodore Mifflin's day, from where the west end of the Portsmouth Steam Factory now stands, to the westerly side of Lyme street, and from Islington street to the North Mill Pond.

On the bank of this pond stood the Mifflin Mansion, exactly on the spot now occupied by the house of Capt. Robert Shillaber, and close to the Partington estate:—for strange as it may seem, be it known to the moderns, that while the middle of the pasture was bare of houses, the water lots, or rather mud lots, on the shore, were all occupied by houses, from the Partington mansion down to 'Squire Adams' wharf.

On the pond swam and fished Mr. Mifflin's geese, that healthy, vigorous, never-failing flock, whose memory is honored in a poem of Benj. P. Shillaber, the medium through whom the Partington spirit's utterances are given to the sons of earth.

And they fed, as they listed, on the green grass which carpeted the moist even surface of the pasture, during the livelong summer, fearless alike of stone throwing boys and impertinent dogs, both of whom(?) stood in wholsome fear of the old gander's prowess: for verily he had been victorious in many a battle, ere these youthful men and dogs had come upon the stage.

When the ground became frozen, or was covered with snow, and commons were short, the geese would march, in the most exact military order, down through the town to the Parade (now vulgarly called Market Square,) where in those days there used to be many teams from the country, and where many grains, and sometimes quarts, of corn, oats, and bayseed were scattered by the oxen and horses.

When the geese had eaten what they could find, and sometimes received a few slashes from the teamsters' whips, they would rise and fly to their home, clearing the tops of trees any houses, and arriving safe.

But leaving the geese, let us go back to the Commodore, inquiring what manner of man he was, and why he was called Commodore.

James H. Mifflin, so he wrote his name in a plain and bold round hand, was a military man, an English soldier, said to be born in London, educated in the blue coat school, and enlisted in the British army, in which he fought at the battle of Bunker's Hill.

The story used to run that he was wounded there, though we never heard him say so; but by some mischance he became a prisoner, and preferring to stay in this country he was not exchanged, but came to Portsmouth, married and settled here, where he lived and died, and where some descendants now live.

His occupation here was that of a Mason's Tender; i. e. he made mortar and carried bricks, and in his day was deemed one of the best in that business.

On training days, when our land forces took the field, Mr. Mifflin, as waiter to the field and staff officers, made a fine appearance. Erect and soldierlike, with hat in hand, head well powdered, his clothes all antique, and his well-preserved blue coat adorned with large brass buttons, he was hardly less conspicuous than Gen. Storer himself.

Our Hero lived, as the reader will remember, on the bank of the North Mill Pond. Indeed 'n that day, the house was nearly at the water's edge, and as he built no wharf, a storm would now and then dig a hole the bank, and the winds and waves threaten the mansion itself; but to preserve the premises from these perils, the bank was thickly planted with the good old fasioned Balm of Gilead trees, to break off the winds, and a great pine log, belonging to Robert Ham, was laid alongside at high water mark, moored and staked, to break the force of the waves.

In those days, almost every housekeeper carried or sent his own bushel of corn to the mill,—and several of the Rock Pasture people had canoes, floats or skiffs in which they navigated the pond for this and other purposes.

Mr. Mifflin had a canoe, something like the Western dug-out of a later day, which he kept tied to the log, and which was shaded by the trees. The boys of the neighborhood were apt to borrow boats without leave, and once in a while would take his. When they did so, his lion-like voice rung out over the pond, and the boys coming as near as they dared, would shove in the boat, and jumping overboard, go ashore elsewhere, glad to escape.

This watchfulness induced other owners to put their boats under his watchful eye; and thus quite a fleet was moored to his log. The joiners' and masons' apprentice boys among whom he labored for years, dubbed him Commodore, and he answered to the title. In those days laborers drank spirits; and the Commodore labored and drunk, heartily. His voice, always loud, grew louder as the day declined, and at sundown, when any one, as he passed addressed him as Commodore Mifflin, he responded Sir! in a tone that might ring through a battalion.

Like a true Englishman, he would not speak of his military life, except in answer to questions,—but the military steps, positions and motions, and habits of his youth, were part of his life, and endured as long as he lived.

CONNECTICUT ELECTIO—The election of State officers takes place in Connecticut to-day. There can be no doubt of the reelection of William Buckingham, of Norwich, the present popular Governor, who has filled the chair during the past three years, as he will receive the united votes of the Republican, the Union Democrat and the "Constitutional Union" parties.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.—On Wednesday night, a German named Meyers, who for some years past has resided at Danvers, Mass., about a mile and half from Rev. Mr. Braman's meeting house, murdered his wife by beating and bruising her in a horrible manner on the head, and Thursday morning, finding he was about to be arrested, committed suicide by cutting his throat.

AN EYE LOST.—Mr. Daniel A. Smith was sawing horn at the comb factory, in Newburyport, on Wednesday, when a piece was thrown back, striking him in the eye and totally destroying the sight. He before had occasion to wear spectacles, one of the glasses of which was broken by the blow, the pieces entering the eye ball.

☞ Charles Frederick Adams, Esq., for many years a partner in the firm of Adams, Homer & Co, died suddenly at his residence in Boston, Thursday evening, of disease of the heart, at the age of 68 years. He was widely esteemed.

Hon. Josiah Stover Little, a well known and successful merchant of Portland, died in that city on Thursday last.

☞ The Traveller states that Mr. Wesley P. Balch, flour merchant, of Boston, has failed with liabilities amounting to about $200,000. Two other failures in the same business have occurred during the past three days, in consequence of the failure of Mr. Balch.

☞ The vote in Wheeling, Va., April 3d, gives 640 for the new constitution and a majority of 588 for gradual emancipation. The interior counties as far as heard from are in about the same ratio.

☞ Two foundlings were picked up by the police in Boston, on Wednesday night last. And on Thursday the dead body of an infant was found in one of the docks.

☞ Blenker's Brigade has been assigned to Fremont's command. Carl Shurz is to have command of a division under Fremont.

☞ It is rumored that the rebel Cabinet decided to burn Richmond on the approach of the Union army.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy results produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

☞ Home treatment. apr7—1y6taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers; and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

Local.

P. M. L. A.—At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, Friday evening, the following Officers were elected:—

President—James C. Brown.
Vice President—George T. Vaughan.
Secretary—Joseph Foster.
Treasurer—James K. Medbery.
Librarian—E. Washington Brown.
Directors—Ezra A. Stevens, William H. Sise, Charles Robinson, Jr., Nathan P. Thacher, Wm. E. Hadley, Frederick A. Fernald.
Trustee for three years—Daniel Marcy.

☞ We learn that the field mice have been been doing a great business the past winter, in girdling young and fine apple trees, in this vicinity.

A similar girdling took place about twenty-two years ago, and many of the trees were ruined. One eminent orchardist in this neighborhood, however, saved a good number of his, by a peculiar kind of grafting. He cut a few twigs off the same tree, not bigger than pipe stems,—prepared them at both ends, and grafted in one end above and the other below, the girdled place,—putting in half-a-dozen, so four, according to the size of the tree.

☞ Mr. Meinerth advertises, in this morning's Chronicle, a change which, we doubt not, will prove much to the convenience of his many pupils in this city. He has rented the pleasant and convenient rooms on Daniel street, recently occupied by Mr. Davis as a Daguerrean Saloon, and will there, on Wednesday, 16th inst., open a private writing school, besides hereafter attending to his pupils in drawing, &c., at the same place.

☞ Winter evidently reluctantly leaves us, and on Saturday night covered the earth with its mantle of snow. But Sunday was fair and cloudless, and early in the morning the singing of the robins and the sound of the shovels were mingled together.

☞ One of the nicest Fish Markets we ever saw, has just been fitted up by Messrs. A. J. Caswell & Co., opposite the Spring Market—an advertisement of which will be seen this morning.

Mr. Richard L. Randall has removed to part of the Spring Market itself—which has been leased for a term of five years by Messrs. John Marston & Co., the wholesale fish dealers of this city. We presume the market-women will be allowed to offer their country produce here, as usual.

A TREAT.—To look at the pot of superb growing strawberries, in the window of Mr. Kimball's apothecary store. We don't know what it would be, to get your tooth into the tempting ripe fruit. The plants are from Hovey's Nurseries, Boston.

☞ Mr. Miles' highly-trained horse Minnehaha is to appear, at the Temple this, (Monday) evening, in the play of Mazeppa. This fine animal made a most decided sensation in Portland, a short time since, when it appeared in that city.

The following resolutions were passed at a special meeting of Gov. Langdon Engine Company, No. 3, held on Friday evening:—

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst our worthy and highly esteemed Ex-Chief Engineer Charles E. Main,

Resolved, That to him we regret the departure of one whose many excellent traits of character, and many acts of kindness, both in his official and social capacity, endeared him to us all, and whose death we deeply deplore.

Resolved, That in consideration of his death, which we lament as that of one whose example was well worthy of imitation, we, his brother firemen, show our respect for his memory by wearing the usual badge of mourning and attending the funeral and following his remains to their final resting-place.

Resolved, That we express our sorrow and sympathy for the family of the deceased in their sad bereavement by sending them a copy of these resolutions.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in the Morning Chronicle, and Firemen's Advocate.

J. B. DENNETT,
JOHN S. SHERIDAN,
THEODORE D. DENNETT,
Committee.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

ONE OF THE SAFES.—The circulars relating to safes, which have been freely circulated here within a few days, call to mind a capital story. The agents of two rival establishments were presenting the claims of their respective articles to an admiring crowd. One was a Yankee—the other wasn't. He that wasn't told his story. A rooster had been shut up in one of his safes, and then it was exposed for three days in a most intense heat. When the door was opened the rooster stalked out as if nothing had happened. It was now the Yankee's turn. A rooster had also been shut up in his safe and it was submitted to the trial of a tremendous heat for more than a week. The legs of the safe had been melted off, and the door itself so fused as to require the use of cold chisels to get it open.—When it was opened the rooster was found frozen dead!—Nashua Telegraph.

This is rather a wild story, but there are well-authenticated anecdotes related concerning the famous Marland safe, proving it almost as tough as these Munchausen tales. See advertisement on the fourth page.

LASELL FEMALE SEMINARY.—The next term of this excellent institution begins May 1. See advertisement.

☞ Letters to soldiers of the army of the Potomac, must henceforth be mailed to Washington, and the Post Office will then take care of them. Per order 1st Asst. P. M.

☞ Refugees from Savannah say that friends of the troops in Fort Pulaski have offered $30,000 to any one who would rescue them.

☞ The battalion of marines attached to Commodore Dupont's fleet has returned to the Washington Navy Yard.

☞ The deaths in Portland Me. for the year ending March 31st, 1862, were males 301, females 344, stillborn 38.

☞ The English papers state that Prince Albert was a member of the order of Free and Accepted Masons.

☞ The contract price for the new Ericsson iron clad batteries is $400,000 each.

To keep apples from rotting—place them in a dry cellar with a family of children.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.
HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.
Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.
In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bedquilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.
The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.
The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!
A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.
It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheap per light than any other illuminating substance.
The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being charged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.
Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.
Wood's Patent Carcel Burners
are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.
Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.
PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock, at stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed in the usual terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but encourage the inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unsurpassed by any other agency, and can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

PURE LIQUORS AND WINES
FOR PRIVATE USE AND MEDICAL PURPOSES.
We offer to the country trade and consumers, a complete assortment of LIQUORS, WINES, &c., and would say that our experience of more than FORTY YEARS as importers, is not only a sufficient guarantee for the Purity of our Goods, but that it enables us to offer advantages to buyers that cannot be excelled by any house in Boston. Owing to the difficulty of procuring, in many towns, a strictly pure and reliable article of Liquors and Wines for medicinal and other purposes, we have for many years given special attention to filling orders for PRIVATE USE; and consumers will find it greatly to their advantage to send their orders to us direct, as we employ no travelling or other agents whatever. Persons who require Pure Liquors for their use or small quantities, may rest assured that all orders will receive our best personal attention, and that every article sent from our house will be satisfactory in every respect. Communications by mail will receive prompt attention, with full and complete catalogue of goods, prices, &c.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 1862. NO. 55.

The Chronicle.

☞ Mr. John C. Varney, City newsman of Dover, has published a pamphlet entitled "the wonders of dream land;—vision prophecies and vision triumphs, containing Joseph Hoag's truthful vision, Gen. Washington's prophecy, and Gen. McClellan's dream." He has thus published them "because it seemed very desirable that they should be collected from chaotic confusion where they have been single straggling, and given to the world in more convenient and acceptable form."

☞ A sailor named Norman shot one of the pretty waiter girls of a Broadway concert saloon, on Thursday evening. He had lavished money and affection on her sister, formerly a waiter in the place, and she had deserted him for three or four others, so he shot her sister by way of revenge. The wound is considered fatal.

☞ Mons. Mortie, from Paris, has arrived in this country, and announces a series of novel exhibitions in the game of billiards. The cue is altogether dispensed with, Mr. Mortio playing with a finger of the right hand.

ANOTHER REBEL IRON-CLAD WAR VESSEL.—Private letters state that our fleet near Savannah was, at last accounts, expecting a visit from the rebel iron-clad steamer 'Fingal,' known to be in readiness for service.

☞ Ignez Castelli, the popular Austrian poet, died in Vienna, on the 6th of February, aged 82. He was a great collector of snuff boxes, and had about two thousand trinkets, received as presents in a long life.

☞ A dispatch from San Francisco, March 31, says that every business place in the town of Iowa Hill, Placer county, was burned on the 26th ult. Loss, $70,000.

Aunt Margery was trying to persuade little Jimmy to retire at sundown. "You see my dear, how the dear little chickens go to bed at that time." "Yes, aunty," replied Jimmy, "but the old hen always goes with them."

TUESDAY, APRIL 8, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

On Friday, Gen. Wool sent the following communication to the War Department:

"We have heard some firing in the direction of Yorktown. Two or three regiments have gone to Shipping Point. From information received to-day it appears that the Merrimac is in the dry dock, loaded with coal. She is to come out of the dock to-day with two more guns, one of large calibre. All goes on smoothly. I do not believe the Army of the Potomac will find many troops to contend with."

Advices from Jacksonville, Fla., of the 1st inst., state that an attack was expected there from three guerrilla regiments, a battery and a troop of rebel horse, but Gen. Wright was confident of being able to sustain himself against them.

On Friday night the gunboat Carondelet ran the gauntlet at Island No. 10 without firing a single shot and without receiving any damage, although the rebels did their best to intercept her progress. Fifty-three shots were fired at her. Saturday's dispatches from Cairo stated that the firing of the Federal troops had been more active and had done good execution.

The advanced camps of the rebels at Corinth, Miss., are within six miles of the Federal forces. The enemy are said by scouts to be strongly fortified at Corinth and among the hills for 16 or 18 miles towards the National camp at Pittsburg.—Their available force is believed to be from 75,000 to 80,000 men

The N. Y. World's says:—Private information, derived from responsible sources, has reached New York that Beauregard has been out flanked near Corinth and compelled to fall back, and that a heavy body of troops is between the enemy's forces and Memphis, and not far from the Mississippi. Glorious news may be expected in a day or two.

Intelligence from Gen. Banks's division states that on Thursday afternoon the enemy unmasked a section of their battery, three-quarters of a mile from our right wing battery, under Capt. Huntington, a mile to the west of Edinburg, Va. Their object was to drive in our pickets beyond Stony Creek, which divides Edinburg, as well as to retard the operations of our bridge builders. Capt. Huntington shelled them out in very short order.

The military force under Gen. Jackson is principally composed of impressed men, who refuse to fight the United States forces. Those men from Page and Rockingham counties had retired to a point between those two counties, where they are entrenched, and defy Jackson's attempt to compel them to join him. There are rumors of some fighting between them.

Port Royal letters state that a company of a Penn. Regiment, which was on Little Edisto Island as a picket, neglected to guard the bridge between them and the main body. The rebels came down in considerable force, burnt the bridge, and surrounded the picket, killing three, wounding a dozen and capturing about thirty. The balance escaped to North Edisto. Since then several skirmishes have taken place. Ample reinforcements will be sent directly by Gen. Benham. Col. Fellows' Third N. H. Regiment goes to command the post. Fifteen men of the 46th N. Y. volunteers were captured, together with a field piece, on Wilmington Island, in the Savannah river, where they were making a reconnoisance without orders. An iron clad rebel gunboat has made its appearance on the Savannah river, coming down as far as the head of Elba Island. It is described as resembling the Merrimac, but much smaller, and not so formidable. She is not wholly completed. No apprehension is felt concerning her.

A rebel force of 7 regiments of infantry and 2 of cavalry, with 3 batteries, attempted to cut off Col. Geary's command at White Plains, Va., intending to seize Thorofare Gap, in Bell Run Mountain, 14 miles west of Manassas, and thus intercept the progress of repairing the railroad. But Col. G., hearing of their movement, quietly moved his command to the gap and occupied it. The enemy, finding his forced march fruitless, retired beyond the Rappahannock.

The following has been received at the Navy Department:

When the Merrimac reached Norfolk, after her late engagement with the Monitor, she had 7 feet of water in her hold; one shot from the Cumberland riddled her, and one from the Monitor, through a port-hole, dismounted two guns. The Monitor put a ball through the boiler of the Patrick Henry, killing two men and scalding others.

The Mobile Register hints terrible things about an attack upon the blockading fleet in the Gulf by the joint ram and gunboat fleet of New Orleans and Mobile. It says:

"Look out Yankee ships! Of course you won't believe a word we say, but when you are waked up with a tremendous BUFF in your ribs, you cannot say we did not give you warning. Any sailing ship blockading Mobile is at the mercy of Commodore Randolph on any dark, calm night."

TOO BAD.—We regret to see the editor of the Bath Daily Times intimate that he must discontinue his paper, or give up telegraphing. We advise him to let the telegraph go, and not stop the daily issue—which (like any other daily worthy the name) is worth forty times as much to his city and the State of Maine, as the whole telegraphic connection; and his paper will after a short time be just as highly prized without dispatches—which were always jargon, and now amount to almost nothing. We found this out in a week after our start, and have again and again been convinced of the same thing since—while the Bath Times folks have been four years learning the lesson.

The Times is one of the best and most pleasant of the little Dailies—something larger than the Chronicle, and published at $3 a year. The editor says:

During these years we have labored with an assiduity and a wearing and wearying perseverance such as we have never been accustomed to in any other pursuit in life; and to those who have looked behind the curtain in such matters, we need not say the position has been to us neither a sinecure nor an occasion for pastime. No one has realized more sensibly than we have at times, the meagreness of our columns, or the insipid character of the viands which we have served up for the morning reader. We will only say, however, that under the circumstances, and with the pressure of pecuniary embarrassments and overtaxing labors to contend with, we have done as well as we could. We feel that we know something of the obstacles in the way of a daily paper in a field as limited as this, and that we can appreciate in some measure the load which will be imposed upon any man who attempts to carry it.

We say with the fullest confidence in the correctness of the statement, that a daily paper with the morning telegraphic news, cannot be made self-sustaining in Bath with its present or prospective limited field for circulation.

The "conclusion of the whole matter" to which we have arrived is this: that if no other door of escape opens we shall feel compelled to drop out the telegraphic news, and either publish a vigorous spicy daily paper without it, or else fall back upon a tri-weekly issue, each number containing about as much reading matter as two dailies now do. We could issue such a daily at $4 per year—saving on dispatches at least $26 a week.

We think he can save more than that even, not to mention the wear and tear of night work. Our telegraph experiments, chary as we have been of them, probably owe us at least $300. So we owe the Military Supervisor no grudge.

☞ The Niagara, which arrived at Halifax on Thursday, brings two days' later news from Europe. Parliamentary proceedings are not of great interest. The English press are busy in discussing President Lincoln's emancipation message. The Pope is again ill. News from other countries presents nothing of importance.

☞ Capt. Ericsson has completed arrangements with the Navy Department for the immediate construction of six vessels on the plan of the Monitor, with such improvements as experience may suggest. The work will be pressed to completion with all possible speed. The revolving turrets of the new Monitors are to have a thickness of eleven inches.

☞ The Merrimac river has risen only a few inches during the past week, indicating that the snow in the interior has not melted much. The ice in the river, above Lowell, has not yet broken up. Severe freshets are feared from the immense quantity of snow on its banks and tributaries.

WHY?—Why do we all say, "It snows out doors"? Does it ever snow in the house? Why do we say shovel off the sidewalk, when we mean to shovel off the snow? Or sweep out the room, when we mean to sweep out the dirt?

☞ Why are the P. & C. Railroad and the Phenix Hotel alike? Because both have good conductors. Why are they unlike? Because the high fare (feed) at the house, pleases you as much as the low fare (rates) on the rails.

☞ Coffee said there were three kinds of fast horses—one which goes fast, one tied fast, or one keeping fast for lack of something to eat. Which is superlative? The one tied is positive, and the non-eater must be next, fast-er.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune of Friday, asserts that the charge against the Sec. of the Interior has a partisan origin, and that Mr. Smith has demanded of the managers of the World the name of their informant and a specification of his charges.

☞ Lieut. Fitz James O'Brien, of Gen. Lander's staff, died Sunday morning of lockjaw, in consequence of a wound received in a skirmish some two months ago.

☞ The pirate steamer Ella Warley was at Nassau March 24th, and would leave for Charleston soon.

☞ Three new regiments of Union men from East Tennessee are in process of formation near Cumberland Gap. One of them will be commanded by a son of Gov. Johnson.

☞ The order for the suspension of recruiting for the army is believed to refer to the volunteer force only.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK CITY, April 4.

Dear Chronicle:—Dens similar to the one described in my last, are in full operation at intervals, thro' the entire length of our main thoroughfare; and on the Bowery and other avenues along the eastern side of the city. In some, the pretty waiter girls are dressed as Goddesses of Liberty and Swiss peasants, to give an additional attraction to the establishment; the faces of all suggesting the appropriateness of a sign reading, "Look out for paint." In one saloon we find the walls ornamented with portraits of Washington and Clay, and in several notices are displayed announcing that a "Sacred Concert" will be given "every Sunday evening."

You can readily imagine what an excellent Sacred Concert can be arranged from negro minstrelsy, ballet and pretty waiter girls.

Let us now glance at the better class of concert saloons, of which the most important are the Melodeon, Gaities, and Canterbury Hall, to all of which an admittance fee is charged, varying from ten to thirty cents.

Almost every one has heard of the "Canterbury." Situated in the midst of our finest Broadway palaces, it is one of the most richly ornamented halls in the whole metropolis.

Over the door is a bandsomely illuminated sign, and passing through a long, frescoed portal, we effect an entrance. On the right is the bar, with marble top, and silver and cut glass accompaniments.

In front is the parquette, overhead two tiers of boxes, and all the walls are covered with mirrors, reflecting from one another, the lights and faces in an endless variety of arrangement.

The stage extends across the entire front of the hall, and is brilliantly lighted with foot and side lights. The performance commences at 8 o'clock and continues till midnight, and is a varied combination of the theatre, circus, and negro minstrelsy, thus offering for a single admission fee a triple entertainment by some of the best performers in the under grade of comedies, which the stage has produced.

I have thus sketched the two extremes of the concert saloon institutions. In the Canterbury, the entertainment is scarcely less moral than that of any of our theatres, (the waiter girls though of the more respectable class, cast a stigma on the whole affair,) and if, with the bar abolished, the establishment would be unobjectionable.

The low brothels first alluded to offer nothing to attract any one of pure taste or cultivated mind. They are the resort of only the lower classes, the very dregs, the "vilest of the vile;" their very odor polluting the air, evinces their degrading influence, and their visitants and supporters, are those only, who are body, soul and mind far beyond the reach of contamination.

I have endeavored to treat a delicate subject in such a manner as not to offend the taste of the most fastidious reader, and those who have viewed the institution in these two sketches have at least an indefinite idea of a metropolitan concert saloon.

As a finis to my letter, I propose a conundrum which I hope none of your readers will relinquish though their first efforts at solution prove unsuccessful, as in one respect the similarity is complete. Why is an oyster like a horse? NEWINGTON.

☞ A dispatch from St. Johns, N. F., Monday, states that the coast is still completely jammed with ice. Many foreign vessels close by cannot get in, and their crews are in a starving condition. About fifteen sealing vessels are known to have been crushed. Their voyages have been most disastrous. The screw sealing steamers from Scotland have also proved a total failure.

☞ Nashville letters say Mrs. James K. Polk is assiduous in her attentions to the sick in the hospitals there—not discriminating between Union and Confederate.

NEW DIRECTOR.—The Manchester and Lawrence railroad appointed at their meeting in Boston on Friday, Hon. Amos Tuck, director in that road, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of George H. Dodge.

☞ The convict Toole, who murdered the warden of the Wethersfield, Conn., prison, says he did it in order to be hung—the life imprisonment to which he was condemned had become insupportable to him.

TRAILING ARBUTUS.—The Exeter News Letter states that on Friday, April 5th, Mr. Francis Grant found a May flower in full bloom, in the woods near that town. When found, it "was surrounded by snow two feet deep."

NO NEWS is sometimes declared to be good news, and if so the last week was the most successful for the government since the war begun, for we absolutely heard nothing.

☞ A trial term of the S. J. Court commences at Exeter to-day, (Tuesday)—W. H. Bartlett, Associate Justice.

IMMORTELLES.

LOVE.

They sin who tell us love can die
With life all other passions fly,
All others are but Vanity;
But Love is indestructible;
Its holy flame for ever burneth;
From heaven it came--to heavy returneth:
Too oft in earth a troubled guest,
At times deceived, at times oppressed—
It here is tried and purified,
And hath in heaven its perfect rest.
—Southey.

LABOR.

"Labor is worship," the robin is singing;
"Labor is worship," the wild bee is ringing;
Listen! that eloquent whisper upspringing,
Speaks to thy soul from out Nature's great heart.
From the dark cloud flows the life-giving shower;
From the rough sod blows the soft breathing flower;
From the small insect the rich coral bower;
Only man, in the plan, shrinks from his part.

Droop not, tho' shame, sin and anguish are round thee!
Bravely fling off the cold chain that hath bound thee!
Look to yon pure Heaven smiling beyond thee!
Rest not content in thy darkness—a clod.
Work!—for some good—be it ever so slowly;
Cherish some flower—be it ever so lowly!
Labor! all labor is noble and holy;
Let thy great deeds be thy prayer to thy God!
—Mrs. Osgood.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Capt. R. F. Clark has received orders to cease recruiting in Manchester. It is stated that we have already as many troops as will be needed.

—— The Manchester American, of Saturday evening, says "the Merrimac is only of an average depth, and but slightly turbid, indicating that the vast body of snow in the up country has just begun to thaw.—People pass from one side of the river to the other above the falls, the ice being still more than a foot thick."

—— Lieut. Col. Daniel P. Woodbury, of the regular army, a New Hampshire man, has been appointed Brigadier General of Volunteers.

—— In the California Legislature are eight natives of New Hampshire.

☞ The Transcript thinks—"It doubtful if many more very lofty houses or other buildings will be erected in Boston. Four or five good stories seem to answer every purpose." Very high buildings are a nuisance anywhere—but supremely ridiculous in the country, where land is plenty and cheap. What a monument of the folly of the fashion of forty years ago, for instance, are those rows of three-story houses, along the road as you pass through Stratham, Hampton, Seabrook, &c. We would sooner have a house spread over a half-acre lot, without a stair or step in it.

The rebels are retreating before our forces in Western Virginia, Gen. Milroy having advanced from Cheat Mountain and occupied the places evacuated by them. The rebels seem to be aiming for Stanton, where they will have railroad escape.

Gen. Mitchell's force has reached Shelbyville, Tenn., being received with great enthusiasm by the people.

Information from the neighborhood of Yorktown, Va., to Saturday P. M., states that Ship Point has been taken by our troops, and other places on the route, which were formerly occupied by the rebels.—Some skirmishing and cannonading had taken place between the outposts of the enemy and our forces. Our men are in good spirits and ready for any contest.

☞ Governor Johnson is laying a heavy hand on the rebels at Nashville. Mayor Cheatham, who, with the rest of the city authorities, refused to take the oath of allegiance, was arrested 31st ult., but was released on parole for twenty-four hours, to give him an opportunity to reconsider his resolution. Messrs. Sharp & Hamilton, of the Nashville Plough Manufactory, charged with having manufactured swords and knives for rebel use, were also apprehended and put under $3000 bonds to appear and answer to a charge of treason, and the Messrs. Brennan, iron founders, who have been engaged in casting cannon, shells and balls for the enemy, met with a similar fate. It was rumored that two of the City Council had taken the oath of allegiance, and twelve of the police force were known to have done so.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, blown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and the information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

REMOVAL.

DR. OLIVER has removed from No. 58, State street to the ROCKINGHAM HOUSE.

apr2 3mos 1*

Local.

☞ We have heard of a "promising" debtor, who at last, after being dunned almost to death, proposed to his importunate creditors to settle with them by "giving each his note, and done with it!" But Uncle Sam can't even do this—can't print and issue money fast enough, now-a-days. The Boston papers say the Government is ten million dollars behindhand on the settlement of contracts overdue in that city alone.

At the Portsmouth Navy Yard, no money has been received to make payments for February and March; and many workmen—especially those discharged, some of whom are detained here at a distance from their homes,—have become very impatient. Of course this is no fault of the officers of the Yard—but we hear that some workmen who desired it, have been furnished with orders on the Paymaster, or certificates of their dues, which of course can be readily discounted at the Banks or on the street for a small premium.

SABBATH SCHOOL CONCERT.—Instead of the usual sermon by the pastor at the Universalist church on Sunday evening last, a monthly concert of the Sabbath School was held. The body of the church was filled to overflowing, and all the available space which was left in the galleries after accommodating the scholars, was readily taken up. This large Sabbath School has been for some time past under the musical instruction of Mr. E. A. Tilton. A number of hymns were sung by the church choir and the school, with the accompaniment of the organ, which was, as usual, skilfully played. The exercises were conducted by Rev. Mr. Patterson, who spoke highly of Mr. Tilton's labors in the musical education of the school, and introduced that gentleman to the congregation. Mr. Tilton read a brief address on the "uses and abuses of music," which showed considerable thought and contained not a few practical hints on that important subject. He approved strongly of congregational singing, and urged upon his hearers the necessity of awakening a more correct and more elevated taste on musical matters. The speaker had reason to be proud of the appearance of the school, which has made wonderful improvement under his instruction.

A RAILROAD INCIDENT.—As the last train over the Eastern Railroad was coming from Boston on Friday evening, when past Wenham, a "sleeper" was discovered laid across the rails, which was brushed before the cow-catcher. A mile or so farther on they met a like obstruction, without damage. About half mile further on the engineer saw a man putting a tree upon the track, which was removed upon coming to it, and the man caught. He proved to be one Wm. G. Lovering of Hamilton, Mass., about 35 years old, an insane person. He was taken into the cars, and at Ipswich handed over to proper officers to be taken care of.

☞ A man named Israel Riley was killed on Monday morning, on the track of the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, close in to this city. The engineer and firemen saw him a quarter of a mile off, and sounded the whistle loudly, supposing that as usual a foot passenger would step off; but he paid no heed to the warning, and was struck by the engine and killed instantly.

He is said not to have been deaf, nor to have had any habit which should have made him so heedless. He was an Englishman by birth; had been employed in the Portsmouth Steam Factory about five years, and being now out of work by the stopping of the mill, was walking half a mile to borrow money of a friend, with which to go to Lawrence for work; on his way he met with the disaster which closed his labors and his life.

He was about 30 years of age, and leaves a widow and six children, in destitute circumstances.

POLICE COURT, Monday.—John Henley, charged with stealing a set of furs and a coat from Woodbury Locke, pleaded guilty and was bound over to appear before the Supreme Judicial Court to be holden at Exeter on the 5th inst.

Three minors, for truancy, were sent to the House of Reformation during their minority.

Limma Drew, drunk on Market street, was fined $3, and costs $3.86.

☞ The U. S. steamer Sebago sailed from Portsmouth Navy Yard on Sunday, special orders having been received by telegraph on Saturday night.

☞ Quite an excitement was created at the Middle Street Baptist Church in this city, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Waterhouse, of the Independent Christian Church, occupied the desk; and at the close of services, motioned to the choir for a voluntary. But somehow there was a misunderstanding, and quite a long silence ensued—during which an old Mrs. Conner, a partially deranged Irish woman, arose in her seat, and made quite a speech; in the course of which she denounced the Catholic Priest here as a bad man, &c. After enduring her nonsense for a little time, a gentleman gave her his arm and led her from the church.

☞ The fine trick horse Minnehaha, was led through our streets on Monday morning, behind the "Ivanhoe," in which the Portsmouth Band rode, by their music attracting general attention to this beautiful animal. It made its first and a most successful appearance at the Temple last evening. This evening it is announced to appear in a series of daring and thrilling situations, in the equestrian drama of Dick Turpin, the Bold Highwayman.

☞ We are glad to hear that the Eastern Railroad is preparing to build a new Depot in Portsmouth, in place of the tumble-down old barracks which have so long disgraced this end of the line.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be charged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!

IN THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain to be thoroughly read, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be induced into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to have any favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it representations of what, where, and the difference between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be rewarded. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising or trading for years, to fail.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most brisk. It may be said to have proved the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the fellow who advertisers coming and going, and who has taken the bits. It passes at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men of my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are all sorts and ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For years proportions of the most active modes of advertising are nearly or bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business is to be advertised, is of as much consequence as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down, as an indisputable fact, that no money spent in injudious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intersist advertising after they have established a flourishing business for years, and then leave it suddenly. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of sight is to be where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessary medium to publishers as an advertising medium is constantly increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who endeavors to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (un der the Act of 1837.)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and Papers of every kind for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by any, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL in THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners of this country."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Reveats, Modifications, Appeals, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Inventions made into American or Foreign models, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Upon all the rules of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to assume quite a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and with more fidelity of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that one pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

BANK CIRCULATION.—Speculations as to the effect of the United States Currency upon the circulation of the notes of existing banks, are the most absorbing in which capitalists and financial managers are now indulging. Thompson's Bank Note Reporter takes the position that the circulation of the banks which stand well at home will not be detrimentally affected, while those who rely upon a distant and foreign circulation will be driven to the wall. The N. Y. Herald argues pretty conclusively that the banks of the seaboard cities can find abundant employment for their capital and currency in negotiations of foreign exchange, a very profitable business, and hitherto chiefly controlled by resident aliens representing English, French, or German houses.

We shall have to print that infernal tax-bill all over again. It has been so changed and amended, reduced and elevated, according to lobby influence, that its best friends do not recognize it.—Post.

We knew that would be the case, and so declined to publish it, till after the revision. Almost everybody approves the tax-bill, but most people are ready with most excellent reasons why their business or property shouldn't be taxed much. Even the hoop skirt makers protest against it—but we wish they would tax these useless, ridiculous nuisances so heavily that nobody could carry them. They are of no possible service to anybody, and are a pest and trouble to almost everybody. Out upon them! The women have been in the balloon business long enough—'tis time for them to collapse.

The value of gambling apparatus seized by the police in New York by recent raids is estimated at $10,000.—Boston Post

What apparatus does the Post mean—the stock-brokers' board? That is the greatest gambling institution anywhere, and the one where the most cheating is carried on. And the recent report of the Massachusetts Bank Commissioners shows a little too much venturing for safety—"of the 98 Banks reported, in 15 the liability of the directors was more than half the capital."

☞ That "the fools are not all dead yet," is proved anew, by the ready credence with which the senseless hoax about Ex-President Pierce and the secret secession society, was received. Not much worse than other lies told by politicians, or opponents in other walks of life, about each other, though—and all believed by "the other side."—When will people learn that it don't materially change the nature of a man, to live North or South, or to belong to this or that party, or to believe this or that theology?

☞ It has frequently been stated that every General Officer of the American armies of the Revolution, save one, was a Free Mason, and that one proved a traitor. For the honor of Masonry, it is to be regretted that Benedict Arnold also was a brother of the ancient Order, having been admitted a member of Hiram Lodge, No. 1, of Connecticut, on the 10th of April, 1765.

☞ The death of Fitz James O'Brien, from the effects of a wound recently received in a cavalry skirmish on the Upper Potomac, has been announced. In the combat referred to he met the rebel leader hand to hand. They fired simultaneously, the rebel officer being killed on the spot. Lieut. O'Brien had but recently received a lieutenancy in the regular service, after volunteering in one of the New York regiments last Summer. He was an Irishman by birth, and came to New York about ten years ago, where his good scholarship and fine literary and critical taste gave him varied employment on the Press, in contributions to the leading monthly magazines of the country, as well as to the daily journals.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION, for Governor and other State officers, took place on Monday. William A. Buckingham of Norwich, the present incumbent, was the candidate for Governor of the Republicans and the Union and War Democratic party. The regular candidate of the Democratic party was James C. Loomis of Bridgeport. The returns received indicate that Gov. Buckingham is re-elected by a largely increased majority. The whole Union and Republican State ticket is elected by over 5000 majority.

THE CENSORSHIP.—The Washington correspondent of the New York World says that the censorship of the press will be severely investigated by Congress before long, and it is anticipated that both the press and the telegraph censorship will soon be abolished. Heaven grant it. The censorship is a disgrace to our age and our country.

It is possible we may be fooled with quaker guns, and by empty fortifications, and in the draft of iron-clad steamers; but we have no idea of any such deception being played on the rebels. They are as bad as the devil could wish them to be, but they are not stupid fools.—Herald.

THE REBELLION.

Our forces, having completed the bridge across Stony Creek, Va., crossed on Monday. They were greeted by a lively cannonading from Ashby's battery, but they were dispersed by our guns, and we are now in full possession of his late position, Ashby retiring.

The Navy Department have a report from Com. Rowan of the taking of Washington, N. C. There is a deep-rooted affection there for the old Union, and not a little animosity for its enemies. The people had burned what remained of the Confederate property, including a launched gunboat. The woods and swamps are represented as being alive with refugees from the draft. Many of them, encouraged by our presence, came in. They are bitter in their denunciations of secession heresy, and promise a regiment if called to aid in the restoration of the Union.

Operations have been commenced against Yorktown, Va., and all the fortified places of importance before reaching Yorktown have been taken at every point. On Sunday the enemy's works were carefully examined by Gen. McClellan, and found to be very strong, the approaches difficult, the enemy in force, and water batteries at York and Gloucester were said to be much increased. There was a sharp firing on the right, but no harm done. Our forces were receiving supplies from Ship Point, repairing roads and getting up large teams.—It seemed plain that mortars and siege trains must be used before assaulting. A dispatch states that Yorktown will fall, but not without a siege of two or three days. Some of the outer works had been taken. A dispatch from Gen. Wool states that Magruder had 30,000 men at Yorktown.

A Ship Island letter of the 24th ult. reports the arrival of Gen. Butler on the 20th. A rebel fleet of seven gunboats made their appearance in Mobile Bay. The U. S. gunboat Santiago de Cuba chased a rebel steamer laden with cotton ashore on the coast of Louisiana, and threw shell into her, burning her to the water's edge. Col. Shepley of the 12th Maine regiment, has been appointed Acting Brigadier General by Gen. Butler.

Nothing was done on Monday in front of Yorktown, Va. The rebel works abandoned at Ship Point are quite formidable; they took away their guns, but left their barracks complete. Ship Point is about 8 miles from Yorktown, and affords a fine base of operations. Yorktown is 70 miles E. S. E. of Richmond. One of Berdan's sharp shooters, killed on Sunday, was a N. H. man,—name not given. Lt. Col Ripley killed the man who shot him.

A steamer from Newbern, N. C., reports that the rebels have collected from twenty to forty thousand men near that place, and it is expected they will attack Newbern at an early day. Our forces await them with confidence. Gen. Burnside is making ample preparations for holding his position.

The Secretary of War has received dispatches from New Madrid, which state that Gen. Pope had just crossed the river, and landed on the Tennessee shore. The General had received a ferry boat by the new route through the swamps. Another gunboat had run the gauntlet of the rebel batteries, and was at Gen. Pope's disposal.

A dispatch from Cairo says the gunboat Pittsburg ran the blockade of Island No. 10 Sunday night, under a terrific fire from the rebel batteries. Four steam transports and five barges were also got through above the island to New Madrid. On Monday morning, under the fire of our gunboats which silenced one of the rebel batteries, a company crossed the river at New Madrid and spiked the guns. Another force took 3 other batteries, spiked the guns and threw the ammunition into the river. At 11 o'clock, in the face of the fire of the remaining rebel batteries, Gen. Paine, with four regiments and a battery of artillery, crossed the Mississippi nearer to the Kentucky shore. Subsequently the divisions of Gen. Hamilton and Stanley crossed; also Gen. Granger's. These were strongly posted, ready for any emergency.

The steamer Alps arrived at Cairo, on Tuesday morning, bringing Second Master Lord of the gunboat Canton, with dispatches from Flag Officer Foote, announcing the surrender to him at midnight of the entire position. The men, guns and transports at Island No. 10 are in our hands.

LATEST FROM ISLAND NO. 10.

Gen. Halleck telegraphs that the rebels abandoned the Island, Monday night, leaving all their artillery, baggage, supplies and sick. Gen. Foote telegraphs that Gen. Pope, under cover of the two gunboats, which gallantly ran the blockade in a thunder storm, crossed the river in force and was ready, as well as the gunboats and mortars, with Col. Buford and his troops, to make a simultaneous attack upon the batteries on the Tennessee shore, had the rebels not hastily evacuated them, and surreadered Island No. 10. It is stated that Hollins' steam ram, formerly at New Orleans, has fallen into our hands.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——The Exeter News Letter has entered upon the thirty-second year of its existence. Mr. Hall, the present publisher, states that he assisted in setting up the first number.—We are told that it has been liberally patronized, and that "few papers in country towns have had better success." The Ballot thinks "it would seem that after so long and successful service, the publisher ought to be rich enough to retire from his arduous labors." Of course this would suit the Ballot, to have the field alone—and the Republican party in this County would have done no more than justice, had they bought the News Letter establishment, and consolidated it with the Ballot, long ago.

——The Episcopalians have commenced worship at Parker's Hall in Laconia.—Efforts are being made for the permanent establishment of that form of worship there.

——In alluding to the passage by the N.Y. State Senate of the "church-tenure bill," and the recent liberal action of the Massachusetts Legislature regarding the Bible in schools, the Tablet (Catholic) says:—

"New Hampshire has one law against Catholics yet unrepealed. In that State no Catholic can hold office; not even the office of constable. We hope the liberal and intelligent portion of the people of "the old Granite State" will see to it that this blot on her escutcheon will be forever wiped out, and that without delay."

——Mr. Nathan Roberts was killed at Goffstown on Thursday afternoon. He was drawing wood, and in turning his team, fell in front of his sled, which passed over him. He was 62 years of age.

——Hon. Frederick Smyth, one of the commissioners to the great fair at London, will leave Manchester for Europe on Thursday. He purposes visiting some of the principal cities on the continent before his return, going as far as Naples. He will be absent about four months.

CONGRESS, Monday.—In the Senate, Mr. Wilson reported a resolution authorizing the President to transfer the appropriation made for fortifications to building iron-clad gunboats. Mr. Trumbull of Ill. made a speech upon his bill for the confiscation of the property of rebels. The House, by a vote of 67 to 52, passed a resolution, providing for the appointment of a committee of nine, to inquire whether a plan can be recommended for the gradual extinction of slavery in the border States.

The House proceeded to consider the tax bill, as reported from the Committee of the Whole. About two-thirds of the bill was considered, most of the amendments of the Committee being concurred in. Before the adjournment, Mr. Conkling of New York reported a Bankrupt bill.

☞ Capt. Henry Clay Keene, of Augusta, Me., was married in Portland on Monday, to Miss Flora Curtis Means of Portland. The Captain, it will be recollected, lost a leg at the bombardment of the forts at Hilton Head, S. C., and since recovering from his wound, has been appointed to the command of the store ship at Callao, at a salary of $2500. At the conclusion of the nuptial ceremony the father of the bridegroom jocosely congratulated his son on having become a man of "handsome means."

☞ The Nashville correspondent of the World writes that Gen. Bushrod Johnson, who was captured at Fort Donelson, and who afterwards made his escape, is treated with contempt in the South, and refused a command, because he broke his parole of honor.

☞ Mr. Page, of Poland, Me., has a cow which in three years has given birth to seven calves, and she now has three at her side, giving milk sufficient for their sustenance.

☞ At a sale of rare coins in Philadelphia last Friday, an American cent of 1793 sold for $12.75; a silver dollar of 1794 for $18.25; a cent of 1796 for $15.75; and a half-dollar of 1796 for $28.

UNREST.

I felt a mother-want about the world,
And still went seeking, like a bleating lamb
Left out at night, in shutting up the fold.—
As restless as a nest-deserted bird (what Grown chill through something being away, tho'
It knows not. —Mrs. Browning.

☞ Governor Sprague has gone to Washington, and the Providence Post intimates that it is his purpose to act as aid to Gen. McClellan in the advance by way of Fortress Monroe.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Mr. Saulsbury's amendment for distributing the slaves among the Northern States was unanimously rejected.

☞ It is hinted that the British parliament will amend the royal marriage act, so that the Prince of Wales may select a wife among the gentle maidens of England.

☞ According to a letter of the Secretary of War to the House of Representatives, there are four hundred and seventy two chaplains in the Union army.

The rebels, wherever they go, seem to have a passion for burning everything under heaven except gunpowder.

THE DRAMA.—To our thinking, the drama is one of the greatest institutions. Society in cities would deteriorate, morally, without it. The educated would become too sedentary, and vulgarians would approximate a savage state without it. By the drama we see more of history, ideality, and real romance, in one evening, than we can gather from books by a month's perusal; and all this too by an absorbing method which does not require any draft upon the intellect; done also in a social manner, which tends to unbend the mind from the kinks made in it by war-times.

It is a truth well known that the lady stars of the stage are as much more pure than are those composing the average of the sex of the outer world, as are the star actors more lawless than those men of the outer world who enjoy the same intellectual status with themselves. The nomadic banditti of the intellectual world seems to include actors and authors only.—Genio C. Scott.

We have often felt that the presence of the foreign men-of-war in Hampton Roads, was to a good purpose, it now appears from the correspondence of the N. Y. Herald, their room would be far better than their company. It seems that the point where the British steamer Rinaldo is now anchored is directly in the way of our fleet, in case the rebel steamer Merrimac essays to come out from Norfolk, and the anchorage ground marks the turn in the ship channel diverging to Newport News and to Fortress Monroe—an excellent guide for the Merrimac in case she makes a night attack. The French steamer Catinat lies a short distance from and outside the Monitor, thus obscuring the view from the latter of Elizabeth River, Sewall's Point and other points necessary for the latter vessel to watch against rebel encroachments. A shot through their sides would serve them right for their impertinence.—Gloucester Telegraph.

☞ Mr. Peabody's unprecedented munificence has been formally consummated in a correspondence that is now published, in which he places £150,000 sterling at the disposal of Mr. Adams, the American Minister, with four trustees, for the purpose of ameliorating the condition and augmenting the comforts of the poor of London.

"Uneasy lies the head that wears a crown." The Nephew of his Uncle seems to have been destined to almost as turbulent a career as the uncle of his nephew.—Small troubles accumulate about the throne of Napoleon the Third, and some of them threaten to be large ones. The love of change is the strongest passion of the French, and it is now a long time since they have been permitted to enjoy a new fashion in government.

☞ A letter in the Charleston Mercury dated Pinto Co., Texas, says the young women of that locality are anxious to enlist in the rebel army, and fifteen young women and only five men answered a call for volunteers which had been circulated in one town of the Lone Star State.

☞ A Bordeaux, March 12th, letter warns the blockading squadron that a large English steamer with a cargo for the South valued at a million dollars, is about to sail for New Orleans, to run the blockade.—We hope the Union skippers will look alive and secure her.

☞ A grand patriotic demonstration in aid of the survivors of the U. S. ships Cumberland and Congress, is to be given at the N. Y. Academy of Music, next Thursday evening. The brave, heroic blue jackets are suffering and needy.

☞ Mr. Abel Tompkins, for many years a publisher of Universalist works in Boston, died on Monday of consumption.

☞ The Spanish Government has refused to receive the rebel commissioner Rost, who has arrived in Madrid.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 8 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. Burr & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or address

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS.—The bulk of our readers desire their papers early; and those whose premises are not open till late, run much risk of having their papers stolen, thrown away, or spoiled by storms, unless they have a drop-box cut for them in some door or shutter.

Our Carriers are expected to open every unfastened door at subscribers' residences, and place the paper inside; if door not unfastened, then to deposit paper in the safest place without,—and always to ring the bell, or knock. At stores, when open, to place the paper on the counter; when shut, in the best place outside. Any loss of papers, on account of failure to comply with these rules, we will make good; but when we are convinced that the paper has once been thus delivered, we cannot furnish second copies.

Carriers are not allowed to employ other boys to deliver any of their papers—and for information of any instances of such breach of trust, and violation of orders, we shall be much obliged to our subscribers.

FOR SALE,
A BRIG of about 200 Tons, built in Philadelphia, of live oak and copper fastened.
Also, a SCHOONER of about 120 tons, carrying 95 M. Eastern lumber.
Also a FISHING VESSEL, of about 30 tons.
The above are all in good order, and will be sold cheap or exchanged for a Farm or other good paying property in the vicinity of Portsmouth.
For further particulars, enquire of Local.

☞ The Theatre Company now performing at the Temple, is certainly a strong one—much better than common travelling troupes—and they are presenting varied plays very creditably—astonishingly well, all things considered. The Company is quite large, and all good actors and actresses, well up in their parts, and eminently worthy the patronage of all lovers of the drama among our citizens. The scenery is good, and the appointments all that is practicable on that stage. We have rarely been more satisfactorily entertained, even at the best city theatres, than at the Temple on Monday evening.

To-night, (Wednesday), is Firemen's Night, and the benefit of Marston (the jolly wit) and Tozer (the nigger) of the Company—and a strong bill they offer, and a bumper of a house they deserve and will have. This is announced as the last appearance of Mr. Miles' beautiful trained mare Minnehaha.

A splendid Fireman's Trumpet, valued at $50, will be presented to the Company disposing of the largest number of tickets; a Silver Goblet, valued at $12, to the gentleman bringing the largest number of ladies. Both articles to be seen at Mr. Emery's Jewelry Store.

☞ It will be seen by the advertisement, that Rev. E. H. Chapin is to lecture at the Kittery Lyceum, to-morrow evening. Opportunity is afforded to procure evening tickets — and some public arrangements ought to be made to get over and back to this city. Where's Hoyt?

☞ Of course the dancers will not forget Mr. Lamprey's closing Ball for the season, which takes place this (Wednesday) evening, at Irving Hall. While the tickets are so low that anybody can "afford it," nothing is omitted (except supper) which helps you to really enjoy the most extravagant Balls. Indeed, this sort is preferable to most.

THE SCHOOLMASTER ABROAD.— We have a card before us, which offers "pickeled fish" for sale. Rather a strong pickle, that. There is a sign in Bridge street, telling where "cain sent chairs" are repaired. That painter may be related to Abel, but he don't seem able to spell.

☞ One-eighth of ship Empire State, 1324 tons, built at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1848, now in New York, was sold at auction on the 5th inst., at $1000.

☞ It will be seen that Messrs. N. K. Walker & Son announce that they have received the Spring styles of Hats and Caps.

—— A dispatch from Washington states that Gov. Berry, with a large number of the citizens of New Hampshire, went down the Potomac on Monday, for the purpose of presenting a flag to Col. Marston's regiment.

☞ Steamer Blackstone arrived at New York on Tuesday forenoon from a cruise in search of the Vermont, but saw nothing of her.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington dispatch says Gen. Sickles has been relieved from his command by order of Gen. Hooker, in consequence of his rejection by the Senate.

☞ The slaves of James M. Mason have decamped from Winchester, Va., in a body, and made their way to Philadelphia. It is currently reported that one of Mr. Mason's daughters has become hopelessly insane.

WARNING TO THE YOUNG DRINKER.—Charles Lamb tells his sad experience, as a warning to young men, in the following:—

The waters have gone over me. But out of the black depths, could I be heard, I would cry out to all those who have set a foot in the perilous flood. Could the youth, to whom the flavor of the first wine is delicious as the opening scenes of life, or the entering upon some newly discovered paradise, look into my desolation, and be made to understand what a dreary thing it is when he shall feel himself going down a precipice, with eyes open and a passive will, to his destruction, and have no power to stop it, and yet feel it all the way emanating from himself; to see all godliness emptied out of him, and yet not able to forget a time when it was otherwise; to bear about a piteous spectacle of his own ruin; could he see my fevered eye, feverish with the last night's drinking, and feverishly looking for to-night's repetition of the folly; could he but feel the body of the death out of which I cry hourly with feebler outcry to be delivered, it were enough to make him dash the sparkling beverage to the earth, in all the pride of its mantling temptation.

A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTE OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rates charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!
THE TRUE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and adds the value of a person by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right mediums, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That medium is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him every day, and the connection between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is firmly established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual preaching advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the last, only wearies the public, and so be discounted. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising, to any failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most liberal advertisers, is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the 1st week when hard times occur; I care not how much larger the business may be, but my business in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had." Try it, Friends.

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. Want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the channels and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in ludicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him first, last, sooner or later, and in proportion to the amount invested, not one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flowing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new aspirants for its favor and attention, that to be one of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, to be before the eyes of the public daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. As such, it is, and will be, to himself, whoever undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 EMBICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of extensive and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never failed to cure the first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Contracted diseases in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by such a habit are Loss of Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. It is positively certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an active practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

From the Manchester Mirror.

PORTSMOUTH.

For the first time for twelve years, we visited Portsmouth Thursday evening, and spent a day there. Previous to that we were more familiar with Portland, Philadelphia, or Montreal than that city, because it was about as easy to go to those places as Portsmouth, and more of an object. After years of effort Manchester and Portsmouth have become connected by rail and will soon be well acquainted. The Candia Branch will be the means of making us quite familiar with the eastern part of this State, which has heretofore been comparatively a stranger to us, for need of travelling communication direct.

Portsmouth is a delightful place in many respects and will be greatly benefited by this new relationship with the largest city in the State and one of the chief manufacturing places in New England. Portsmouth is our only seaport town, and her shipping, her Navy Yard, Custom House and United States buildings are as much of a curiosity to our people as our spindles bags, cotton goods and prints, our steam fire engines and rifle manufactory, and the ninety miles of cloth made here in a day, in good times, are to the people of that city. The difference in the characteristics of the two places will attract each other, and it cannot be long before there will be a bond of great good feeling existing between the inhabitants of the two places. We like Portsmouth much; indeed, we can say, we admire it. An air of wealth of liberality and hospitality pervades it. The courtesouness extended to strangers, the cordial way in which friends are entertained is remarkable, like Baltimore before the rebellion.

Unluckily we did not find friend Miller, of the Chronicle, at home, and we supposed at first that we should be a stranger in a city near by us. After supper we visited the Theatre, for the want of any thing else to do, and found a very good company there playing the "Octoroon," and thought we could be well entertained, perhaps, till the hour of retiring, when, who should catch our eye but Albert Blaisdell, Esq., as good a man as ever wore a boot, and we left for the Rockingham House, a conversation with a smart business man as Mr. Blaisdell is, being more agreeable to us than familiar plays. Capt. Blaisdell has been a contractor under the Government for sixteen years, built the Custom House at Portsmouth, many of the buildings at the Navy Yard, and carried on large operations for Uncle Sam in other places, got rich and likes to show strangers about the city, and has the heart and appliances to make one's stay as agreeable as possible. He has a large livery stable on Congress street, under the immediate charge of his son Frank H., keeping twenty-two splendid horses, and fine carriages and harnesses. He goes upon the right idea, that you cannot keep too good teams to suit the public, and that where the finest horses and accoutrements are found, there public patronage is sure to go.

He has another son in the Grocery business, in the firm of Moulton & Blaisdell, who do a splendid trade. Their store is conducted upon the principle of the stable, to keep the best of everything and abundance of it.

Friday forenoon was spent in riding about the city and visiting the Navy Yard, two and a half miles out, where the War has made business quite lively. We saw the new gunboats, one just ready for sea, with her howitzers, rifled cannon and other armament all on, and were much interested in seeing the skill used in fitting out such destructive combatants.

The extent of the Navy Yard, its import ance, the business like, energetic characteristics of the different managers impressed us strongly, and awakened in us a new desire that government should see that appropriations sufficiently large should be made to enable the Yard to carry on work to the best advantage. More land is wanted, and more buildings, but Maine is jealous to have so large a port near her borders, and the greatest opposition to it comes from that State, from Senator Fessenden. We hope our delegation from New Hampshire will not let the shrewd and able member from the Pine Tree State thwart their plans.

The rides about Portsmouth in summer must be charming, though now mud and snow fill the streets. The roads are level, the perpetual sea breeze is refreshing, and the evidences of wealth all about, in wharves, in ships, and storehouses, please the mind.

During our stay we were under great obligations to our old friend, Aaron Young, now one of the officials in the Custom House, to High Sheriff Joseph B. Adams, and more particularly to Capt. Blaisdell, who took us to all our rides.

The Rockingham House is the leading hotel there, standing as the Revere, Tremont and Parker's do to Boston, the Fifth Avenue to New York, and the Continental to Philadelphia. At least such is the reputation it has enjoyed for many years, and its new proprietors, Wm. E. Hadley & Co., will not let it fall behind. Indeed, in many respects they are putting it into a more popular position than ever. Situated on State street, a little removed from the noise and trade, it is finely located for ladies and gentlemen of leisure, for tourists and pleasure seekers, and men of large business operations, and is kept with an eye for that class of patronage.

As the warm weather approaches, a great many of our people will flock to the seashore, stopping at Portsmouth and vicinity.

It cannot be long before all our heavy articles will come from Portsmouth, our salt, coal, sugar, oils, molasses, liquors, &c., as the trains run to the wharves and freighting and the expense of storage will be saved. It only requires a little enterprise on the part of the trade in that city to secure it.

Boston can never hold a number one place for the purchase of heavy articles that come in vessels till her railroads connect with her wharves. The cost of moving a cargo of coal or molasses across the city is a handsome profit to any man. Hence it is plain to see that the man who buys at Portsmouth can afford to sell so much cheaper, provided the traders at Portsmouth can buy as cheap as those of Boston. In addition the freight from Portsmouth is some 30 cents a ton cheaper than from Boston.

Time works wondrous changes. Our cotton already comes that way, and in due time all the other heavy articles will.

An attempt is now being made to have a through train from New York to Portsmouth, via the boats by New London, Worcester, Nashua, Manchester and Portsmouth, without stopping, or rechecking baggage. A glance at the map shows it the most direct and much the shortest route. In addition a very important item to all travellers, it will save the expense and trouble of backing. A stranger from New York arriving in Boston is at the mercy of the noisy hackmen to be carried to some station to go east for Portland. He may get upon the right road, or the wrong one, and may be too late for immediate departure.

By this route the whole distance could be made in fifteen hours. The New London boats now touch at Jersey City for the accommodation of parties going to Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington way, and when this new route is opened a man could leave Portland in the afternoon and be in Washington the next evening, and never be troubled with a backman or baggage the whole distance.

To accomplish such desirable results the leading monied and business men of this city and Portsmouth should work together, pull every string in harmony and it will come.

Many peculiarities of Portsmouth we had intended to speak of, but the length of this article will not permit.

We hope and believe that before Summer is over our people will become on quite good terms with her seaboard sister, and that we shall not feel as if we were writing news when we were writing about that place.

AMBROTYPES & PHOTOGRAPHS.

Messrs. Editors:—Permit us, through your columns, to-day, to inform our numerous friends and patrons, that we have closed out our business in Exeter, and shall for the present give our undivided attention to our business in this city.

The past year has been one of unexampled progress in everything pertaining to the art, and it is our earnest endeavour to keep fully up with the times.

The large and unexpected increase of business with which we have been favored, has sometimes caused vexatious delays to our customers in the delivery of work, as well as in waiting for their turn in sitting. With an increased operating force, we hope to obviate both these inconveniences, and to wait upon all with as little delay as could be reasonably expected.

Grateful to the citizens of Portsmouth and vicinity for their liberal patronage, we hope to merit a continuance of the same, by increasing facilities and perfecting ourselves in the art. DAVIS BROTHERS.

Portsmouth, Thursday, April 10.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT, April Trial Term.—The April term of the Supreme Judicial Court commenced its session in Exeter, on Tuesday, before Hon. William H. Bartlett, associate Justice. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Newhall, of Exeter. The Grand Jury is composed of the following named gentlemen:

John S. Bennett, Newmarket, Foreman;
Newell Brown, Auburn;
Leonard W. Collins, Danville;
Alonzo Proctor, Kingston;
Joseph Edgerly, Epping;
Henry L. Lowd, Greenland;
John W. Wood, Brentwood;
Oliver Nudd, Hampton;
William Rowe, Kensington;
Thomas Boyd, Londonderry;
John Locke 2d, Newcastle;
Richard P. Hoyt, Newington;
Gilman Harris, Pelstow;
Moses Brown, Rye;
Joel C. Cary, Salem;
Geo. W. Fellows, Sandown;
Nathan Peters, So. Hampton.
Wm. Pettigrew, of Portsmouth,—excused.

Judge Bartlett's charge to the Grand Jury was brief and to the point. This is the Judge's first appearance at a trial term in this County, and he creates a favorable impression and will doubtless prove an acceptable judge.

The call of the docket showed but few cases for trial, and as none were in readiness to be taken up, the Court adjourned over Fast day to Friday morning at 10 o'clock. In the meantime the Grand Jury remain in session. The business before the Court apparently does not promise a long term.

CONCORD & PORTSMOUTH RAILROAD. We notice that this stock has advanced steadily since its January dividend, from par to $103 offered, and $104 asked.—The Boston financiers are said to be endeavoring to get hold of the stock. The fact that it is not only guaranteed, but pays its own tax to the State, so that the holder is in no way liable for taxation, will, perhaps, account for the desire evinced by shrewd moneyed men to get hold of this kind of investment.

CONGRESS, Tuesday.—The Senate continued the discussion upon the confiscation bill.

In the House the tax bill was further amended and passed. An amendment offered by Mr. Blair of Missouri, taxing slaves $2, per head, was rejected. The bill now goes to the Senate, where it will probably receive many essential alterations. Mr. Morrill introduced a bill to punish and prevent polygamy. Referred.

——The Manchester Mirror states that Col. Whipple of the Fourth N. H. Regiment has reached his home in Laconia.

——The Methodist Annual Conference commenced its session at Sanbornton Bridge on Tuesday.

THE REBELLION.

By the surrender of Island No. 10, the principal obstruction to the descent of the Mississippi by our flotilla is removed. It is understood that there are no fortifications of importance at Memphis, Tenn. Between that city and Island No. 10, the principal points where resistance may be expected are Fort Pillow and Fort Randolph.—The former is an earthwork, with bastions and trenches, mounting from eight to ten guns in barbette. The strongest fortification is at Randolph, sixty miles above Memphis. These fortifications are built upon the third Chickasaw bluff, at an elevation of at least 100 feet from the river, and a short distance south of Island No. 34, which lies at the mouth of the Hatchie river. The bluffs are natural batteries of themselves, as at Columbus, and command the river for miles in either direction. At the present stage of the river, the place could not stand a siege. The fortifications at Randolph mount some twenty-five guns, principally thirty-twos and sixty-fours.

Gen. Pope has captured 3 Generals, 5000 prisoners, 100 siege guns, several field batteries and immense quantities of small arms, tents, wagons, horses and provisions, and not lost a single man. It is said that the rebels have become completely demoralized. In many cases whole regiments refuse to obey orders. Much ill feeling prevailed among the officers, and none had any confidence in the commanding officer.

In response to a serenade at St. Louis, on Tuesday night, Gen. Halleck said that Gen. Beauregard, with an immense army, advanced from Corinth, Miss., and attacked the combined forces of Generals Grant and Buell. The battle began at daybreak on Monday at Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., and continued until late in the afternoon with terrible loss on both sides. We have gained a complete victory, and driven the enemy back within his fortifications. Gen. Halleck also announced his departure for the field on the next morning.

Flag officer Foote telegraphs that our forces have taken possession of Island No. 10, and of the works on the Tennessee shore. We took prisoners 17 rebel officers and 168 privates, besides 100 sick, and 100 on board the transports. We also took 70 heavy rifled guns, and four steamers; two others and a gunboat were sunk by the rebels, but can be easily raised. The rebels turned adrift the floating battery of 16 guns. It is said to be lying on the Missouri shore, below New Madrid. The magazines are well supplied with powder, and there are large quantities of shot, shell, &c., and great quantities of provisions. The works were erected with the highest engineering skill, and are of great strength.

VICTORY AT PITTSBURG.

A dispatch to the N. Y. Herald, dated at Pittsburg, Tenn., says one of the greatest and bloodiest battles of modern days had just closed, resulting in the complete rout of the enemy, who attacked us at daybreak Sunday morning. The battle lasted without interruption during the day, was renewed on Monday, and continued undecided until 4 P. M., when the rebels retreated toward Corinth, Miss., pursued by a large force of our cavalry. The slaughter on both sides is immense. Our loss in killed and wounded and missing is stated at from 18,000 to 20,000 men. That of the enemy is estimated at from 35,000 to 40,000.

On Sunday, the contest was extremely doubtful, and at 5 o'clock P. M. the rebels had forced our wing back so as to occupy fully two-thirds of our camp, and were fighting their way forward with a desperate degree of confidence. Up to that time we had received no reinforcements. We were therefore contending against fearful odds, our forces not exceeding 38,000 men, while that of the enemy was upward of 60,000. Gen. Grant and Staff now rode from right to left, rallying the men to stand firm until our reinforcements could cross the river.

About an hour before dusk a general cannonading was opened upon the enemy from along our whole line, our heaviest artillery having been got into position; gunboats Lexington and Tyler, which lay a short distance off, kept raining shell on the rebel hordes. This last effort was too much for the enemy, and ere dusk had set in the firing had nearly ceased. During the night the forces under Maj. Gen. Wallace and Gen. Buell arrived and were conveyed to the battle-ground.

The battle was renewed at daybreak.—At 11 o'clock, Gen. Buell's force succeeded in outflanking the rebels, and capturing their batteries of artillery, and about 5 o'clock, Gen. Grant led his troops in a thrilling charge across the field. The rebels fled in dismay, and never made another stand. Gen. Buell's forces followed, and by half-past five the whole rebel army was in full retreat to Corinth, with our cavalry in hot pursuit.

Our loss in officers is very heavy. Brig. Gen. W. H. Wallace and Col. Pegram were among the killed; a number of our troops were taken prisoners, among whom was Gen. Prentiss. Among the rebel killed was their Commander-in-chief, Albert Sydney Johnson. It is reported that Gen. Beauregard had his arm shot off.

——George W. Chapman, of Manchester, lost his wife and two children within a week, and the funeral of all took place on the same afternoon.

☞ The seamen of the U. S. steamer South Carolina, just arrived at Boston, brought home $1300 prize money each.

☞ The mails for California, Oregon and Washington Territory are now transmitted overland from St. Joseph, Mo.

FAST DAY LESSON.—To-day being Fast day, we give a scripture lesson for the day.

In the vision of Isaiah, chap. 1, we read:

"Hear O Heavens and give ear O earth—Israel doth not know, my people doth not consider. Ah, sinful nation, a people laden with iniquity, a seed of evil doers—your country is desolate, your cities are burned with fire, your land, strangers devour it in your presence.—Except the Lord of hosts had left unto us a very small remnant we should been as Sodom,—and like unto Gomorrah.

When ye make many prayers, I will not hear; your hands are full of blood.

Wash you: make you clean; put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes; cease to do evil; learn to do well: seek judgment, relieve the oppressed; judge the fatherless; plead for the widow.

Come now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool.

If ye be willing and obedient, ye shall eat the good of the land: but if ye refuse and rebel, ye shall be devoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it."

☞ At the charter election in Portland on Tuesday, Mr. Wm. W. Thomas, the straight Republican candidate for Mayor, received 1821 votes; and Jacob McLellan, Citizens' Union candidate, 1621, giving the straight Republicans 1388 majority, against 143 last year. Four of the Wards are Republican and three Democratic.

☞ A distinguished officer of the Navy gave it as his opinion that nine-tenths of all the difficulties which the officers have with the men arise from ardent spirits. And the Secretary of the Navy also expressed his conviction that the use which is made of ardent spirit is one of the greatest curses.

☞ The fire companies of Saco, Me., have voted to surrender their engines and fire apparatus to the Selectmen in consequence of the inadequacy of the sum—$750—appropriated by the town for that department.

☞ Governor Andrew Johnson has suspended the Mayor and the Aldermen and Councilmen of Nashville, Tenn., who refused to take the oath of allegiance, by filling their places with loyal appointees.

STATE OF NEW-HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-two.

AN ACT to provide for the more equitable distribution of the estate of insolvent debtors.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened:

SECTION 1. That when any suit, founded upon contract, shall be instituted against any citizen of this state, and the officer serving the process shall be unable to secure the debt claimed to such suit, by attachment or by other process, he may serve upon the debtor a notice in writing, signed by himself, setting forth the date of the writ, the names of the parties, and the sum claimed in damages; and if the debtor, after the service of such notice upon him, or the leaving of the same at his last and usual place of abode, shall neglect for the space of ten days to give bonds to the attaching creditor or creditors, with sufficient surety, and in sufficient penalty, conditioned to satisfy the judgment which may be recovered in said suit, thirty days after final judgment rendered therein, any creditor may immediately thereafter apply to the Judge of probate for the county in which such debtor resides, by petition, setting forth said fact, and if the same shall appear to such judge to be true, such debtor shall thereupon be deemed by him to be an insolvent; and any person being indebted in the sum of at least five hundred dollars, and being unable to pay the same, may apply to the judge of probate aforesaid, setting forth such facts, and thereupon he may be deemed to be insolvent: Provided, however, that if the said debtor shall, at any time before the making of such decree, give bond as aforesaid, such proceedings before said judge shall be discontinued.

SEC. 2. Upon any such decree being made, such judge shall forthwith appoint and commission some suitable person as assignee of such debtor and his estate, who shall have all the powers, be vested with all the rights and have all the authority in the inventory, management, sale, administration, distribution and all other matters and things pertaining to the estate of such debtor, not exempt by law from attachment, and to be inventoried and rights therein; shall give such bonds, perform the same duties, and be in all respects, subject to the same liabilities and restrictions, so far as the same can be made applicable in all matters pertaining to the estate of such debtor, as if he were deceased insolvent, and said assignee was administrator of said estate. And he shall further have authority, by virtue of his said commission, to demand, take, receive and retain the possession and control of the property of such debtor, not exempt from attachment, or subject to any bona fide pledge, mortgage or assignment, and of all deeds, books of accounts and papers of such debtor; and upon the issuing of such commission, all the rights and interests in, and control of such debtor over such property, deeds, books of account and other papers, shall cease, except for the purpose of transferring the title of such property to such assignee, the judge shall, by an instrument under his hand and seal, assign and convey to the assignee all the estate, real and personal, of the debtor, except such as is by law exempt from attachment, with all his deeds, books and papers relating thereto, which instrument shall be forthwith rendered in the office of the register of deeds in each county in which there may be any real estate of the debtor upon which it may operate; and it shall be the duty of said assignee, immediately upon his appointment, to demand, take and receive from the debtor and all other persons, all the property of such debtor not exempt from attachment, and all such deeds, books of account, promissory notes, and other papers in his or their possession. Such assignee shall have power, for such compensation out of the estate of said debtor as said judge shall allow, regard being had to the fees allowed to administrators, executors or assignees for similar services. Property of such debtor under mortgage, pledge, or levy of execution for less than his value, shall be redeemed and paid for by such assignee, agreeably with the provisions of section 11, of chapter 168 of the Compiled Statutes. And such assignee shall have the power, and it shall be his duty to institute and prosecute a creditor's bill against such insolvent debtor when he shall have reason to believe that any property of such insolvent debtor is wrongfully concealed, and that a discovery would be proper to enable him to fulfil his duties.

SEC. 3. Such debtor or other person having possession or control of any such property, deeds, books of account, notes or other papers, shall deliver the same, and account for the same upon demand, and if such debtor or any other person shall wrongfully refuse to deliver the same, or shall be complained of therefor, or of having concealed, embezzled, or conveyed away any such money or such property, deeds, books of account, notes or other papers, he may be cited to appear before the judge aforesaid, as is provided in chapter 175 of the Compiled Statutes, and be subjected to the examination, committal and punishment therein prescribed.

SEC. 4. Such judge shall, upon the petition of such assignee, appoint and commission one or more suitable persons, not exceeding three, as commissioners, to examine and allow the claims of the creditors of such debtor.

SEC. 5. Such judge of probate and commissioners shall respectively have the same powers, and be subject to the same rules and restrictions, so far as the same can be made applicable, in the appointment and removal of assignees, the licensing and sale of real and personal estate of such debtor, in the distribution of such estate, in the allowance of the claims against such debtor, in the forms of proceedings under the provisions of this act, and in all things and duties pertaining thereto, as if such insolvent debtor had deceased intestate, and such estate been decreed insolvent under the existing laws of this state. And all persons interested in such estate of such debtor, shall, so far as the same is consistent, and restricted by the provisions of this act, have the like duties and pursue and enjoy the same rights and remedies. And such judge may, in all matters and proceedings not provided for, act which may be had prior to notice being given of the return of the commissioner's report, proceed, upon it, without notice, as he may deem expedient. And such commissioner shall have power, in addition to the authority now by law provided, to summon witnesses, to take testimony, administer oaths and attachment against witnesses in matters pending before him, and may examine, on oath, the debtor, creditor, or any other person, touching any claim exhibited for allowance. And on demands not ordinarily carrying interest, he shall allow interest from the time of the decree of insolvency.

Provided, however, that section 23 of chapter 171, and section 16 of chapter 175 of the Compiled Statutes, and the provisions of chapter 175 of the Compiled Statutes, shall not apply to proceedings under this act; and provided further, that if, after the payment of all claims proved and allowed as aforesaid against said debtor, and all expenses incurred in the proceedings under this act, any surplus shall remain in the hands of the assignee, it shall be decreed to be paid or delivered to such debtor or his representatives. And if in such case any real estate of such debtor, or his interest therein, shall remain unsold or undisposed of, such real estate and interest, and the title to the same shall remain unchanged in the debtor or his representatives. But nothing herein shall be so construed as to discharge any debtor without payment of his debts in full, unless the creditors representing two-thirds of all the amount of debts proved, shall consent to his discharge in writing, in which event such insolvent debtor shall be discharged and not be liable for any debt due at the time of the decree of his insolvency.

And said judge may, in vacation as well as at a stated court, perform his duties under this act, and shall keep an office in the probate office a reasonable time daily.

SEC. 6. If any such debtor shall decease pending the settlement of such estate under the provisions of this act, the proceedings, in their pending standing, be continued and concluded in the same manner and with the same effect as if he had survived; and in case the majority of the assignees shall extend to all the property of the deceased debtor which would be subject to administration under the existing laws of this state.

SEC. 7. The provisions of this act shall apply and be in force as to copartnerships and corporations in the same manner and to the same extent, so far as applicable, as to individual debtors: Provided, that in the distribution of the assets of such debtors and such copartnerships, the rule of law as to the preference of creditors of such copartnerships and the individual members thereof, in like State, shall be observed.

SEC. 8. All appeals from the decisions of such commissioner or the decree of said judge, shall be allowed and filed, taken and prosecuted in the same way as is by law now prescribed in case of insolvent estates of persons deceased.

SEC. 9. All attachments against said debtor, however commenced, by trustee process or otherwise, shall be dissolved by such decree of insolvency: Provided, however, that no suit now pending shall be affected by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 10. No conveyance, assignment, pledge or mortgage, made by such debtor after any attachment, in contemplation of insolvency, and of insolvency is finally made, as is provided in section one of this act, shall be valid, as against such assignee, but the property or estate so pledged or mortgaged, or the value thereof, may be recovered and held by him as such assignee. And no conveyance, assignment, pledge or mortgage made by such debtor, after the passage of this act, and within ninety days prior to such decree of insolvency shall be valid as against the assignee: provided that such debtor, at the time of making such conveyance, assignment, pledge or mortgage, be not actually insolvent, and the creditor take the same, and the party taking or receiving such conveyance, assignment, pledge or mortgage, know or had good reason to believe such debtor to be insolvent; and provided further, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to apply to any bona fide purchase for a valuable consideration, or to secure the payment of the purchase money for the real or personal estate so mortgaged.

SEC. 11. Whenever a claim shall be presented for allowance to the commissioners, or shall be secured by mortgage of real or personal estate, or other security, such security, at the option of the creditor, shall be surrendered to the commissioners, appraised by the commissioner, and such appraisal shall be allowed to be deducted from such claim, and the balance only allowed; and such appraisal and that the debtor is actually solvent, in which case the whole may be allowed by the commissioner.

SEC. 12. It shall be the duty of such commissioner to return to the probate office for such county, with the list of claims, all papers and documents relating to such claims, in the same manner as is such assignee to file in said office, at or before the term of his final settlement, all such papers as shall be required to be filed by the Supreme Judicial Court for said counties respectively, to be paid from the county treasury.

SEC. 14. The Supreme Judicial Court shall have authority to make all such general rules for conducting the proceedings under this act, as they shall deem convenient or necessary.

SEC. 15. All acts and parts of acts, inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 16. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

IN SENATE, JUNE SESSION, 1861:

ORDERED, That the above Bill be postponed to the next session of the Legislature, and that the Secretary of State cause the same to be published in all the newspapers in this State authorized to publish the laws thereof, in the first week of April, 1862; and that he is instructed to furnish a copy of such newspaper so published to each elect, containing the same, to the Governor, each member of the Executive Council, Senate and House of Representatives, then elected for the next political year.

Attest: WILL. A. PRESTON, Clerk.

☞ We have neglected before to mention the public respect shown to the memory of Mr. Charles E. Main, at his funeral on Sunday last. He was Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, last year—and a faithful and painstaking officer; and the various Engine Companies of the city joined in the procession on the occasion. The Free Masons, of which Order he was a member, also did likewise. Mr. M. was a kind-hearted and popular man, and his untimely demise will be long regretted by many.

☞ We very much regret our not being at home, last week, to meet Bro. Clarke, of the Manchester Mirror—though in our absence, he fell into much better hands. We reprint his remarks on Portsmouth, this morning, and recommend them to the perusal and consideration of all who are interested in the welfare of our city. When next the Mirror man comes this way, we hope to meet him, for he is a prince of good fellows. We passed through Manchester, a day or two before he was here, but couldn't stop; and Mr. Clarke's remarks concerning the connection of our two cities, have rather taken the wind out of what we were going to say.

WANTED—A place in a good family, for a GIRL of 12 years of age, to take care of a child or children. Apply at No. 57 Islington street.

FAST IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

GOV. BERRY'S PROCLAMATION.

In view of our entire dependence upon God for all that we can hope in the life that now is, and for that which is to come; for protection in times of individual and public peril; for propitious seasons of the year, and exemption from prevalent and fatal disease; for deliverance from present and apprehended disaster; and in accordance with the usage of our honored ancestors, it becomes our duty to set apart a day in which to humble ourselves before the Lord our Maker.

I, therefore, by and with the consent and advice of the Council, appoint Thursday, the tenth day of April next, to be observed throughout this State as a day of Fasting, Humiliation and Prayer; and earnestly request the people thereof to assemble in their respective places of public worship, and maintain a religious Fast, according to the design of such an observance. Remembering the unhappy state of our beloved country—the result of our waywardness and inconsideration—let us humbly confess our transgressions as individuals and as a people, and devoutly pray for the pardon thereof through the merits of Jesus Christ.

Let us all meet and solemnize such a Fast as will be in accordance with those well known directions of the Holy Scriptures, a Fast during which humility and contrition shall possess us as a people, who, for wise reasons, are experiencing the chastisement of God, to whom the most fervent supplication shall be made that it prove not in vain that we have been afflicted. Let prayer be offered to the God of our fathers, that he will grant his gracious presence, th. benign influences of his Spirit, and the exercise of his sovereign mercy, in this season of national distress: That his blessing be upon our interests as a State and a Nation: That vice in every form be subdued: That vital religion, pure and undefiled, exercise its saving influence upon all hearts: That prosperity attend our religious, charitable and literary institutions: That Slavery come to an end, and that the present War terminate in a restored Union. Remembering that "unless the Lord keep the city the watchman waketh in vain," let fervent supplication be made to him that he will shed upon us the light of his reconciled countenance and give us peace, and that we may be emphatically that people whose God is the Lord.

FAST DAY SERVICES.—Religious services, appropriate to the day, will be held this morning, commencing at the usual hours for morning services, in most of the churches in this city.

Among others, the Christian Society will hold a service in their Church on Court street Sermon by the pastor of the church, who omitted to make the announcement on Sunday.

There will also be public religious services in the Universalist Church.

It has been found necessary to omit, this morning, the usual Fast Day services at the North Church.

Rev. Mr. Bridge, of Hampton, will preach at the Unitarian Church, this morning.

☞ The subject announced for Rev. Dr. Chapin's Lecture before the Kittery Lyceum, this (Thursday) evening, is "The Elements of National Life"—in which the eloquent orator will not fail to find plenty of "material" for an interesting lecture. Dr. Chapin has hosts of admirers here, as everywhere; and if there is not sufficient enterprise to procure him on this side of the river, why the mountain must go to Mahomet, that's all. See the advertisement.

☞ We shall publish no Daily Chronicle on Friday morning. Our Weekly is issued this morning as usual.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the cloth in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-NINTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well-established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful, by means of the tips being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be gauged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1.25 to $2.50 each.

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the article they need, after they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their consideration.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when ready in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the means by which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance on a well sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men generally mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is not wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, but much more in hard times than in any other time." Another says he has found it pays him better when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing, well, or ill, may be learned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are simply so bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to be advertised, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The change are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is as common as blessing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth are, Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Disorganization of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, viz: Loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Young persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, APRIL 12, 1862.

TO CORRESPONDENTS, &c.

To Whom it May Concern.—Our prices for publishing "editorial" (i. e. leaded) notices, is 10 cts. per line—not for stating what we don't believe or can't endorse, but for making public what we consider reliable information for other people's benefit, who request it. (Besides this, we ought to have 10 cts. per line more, when we write the notices.) For business notices, other than editorial, our charge is 5 cts. per line.

¶ What an enterprising Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Traveller, that must be, who sent the Chronicle list of Sebago officers as his own—"adopting" our remarks and all.

¶ We are sorry the ideas of our friend and correspondent "M." have become so warped by looking at one side of a question. O liberty! what outrages are committed in thy name! O toleration! how intolerant and intolerable do some of thy most vaunted champions become! We must decline to break the contract made, and hope our friend will come to see that the difference between our respective views of the matter in question, is not so great after all. "It is not that we love Cæsar less," but true liberty more.

¶ It is generally known, that most Insurance Companies do not hold themselves responsible for "damage by lightning, unless fire ensues." Our Kittery Point friend and correspondent, R. F. G., writes us that the Maine Insurance Company, of Augusta, (of which S. S. Allen, Esq., of Boston, is agent,) although probably not legally responsible for the recent damage by lightning to the Kittery Point Church, yet "waived all technicalities," and have promptly paid all expenses of repairs. Mr. G. thinks this worthy of special mention and commendation—and so do we—though this is not the only honorable and high-minded company we know of, by a great sight. [A quibbling insurance company, by the way, is worse than none. When the fire caught in the Chronicle Building, a few years ago,—because the word "stock" was accidentally omitted from our policy, the Howard Co. of Lowell, refused to pay us for the $200 worth of paper we lost. The agent in this city, tried to secure us our rights, but the Secretary who came here, jewed us out of them. Were the affair to occur now, we would give him the pleasure of a lawsuit before we would submit to such trickery.] But to return to R. F. G. He concludes by recommending "any who may wish to have their property insured, and to be sure that it is insured, to apply to Stillman B. Allen, Esq., agent for the Maine Insurance Company, and, if they wish for the counsel and services of a prompt, honorable and reliable Lawyer,—a superior Collector and business man generally, we also say, be sure to secure the advice and agency of Mr. Allen, 20 Court St., Boston."

☞ The President has issued a proclamation, recommending to the people of the United States, that, at their next weekly assemblages in their accustomed places of public worship, which shall occur after the notice of this proclamation shall have been received, they especially acknowledge and render thanks to God for the signal victories of our land and naval forces, engaged in suppressing the rebellion, and also for averting the dangers of foreign interference and invasion; to implore spiritual consolation on behalf of those who have suffered from the casualities of war, and to invoke Divine aid in restoring peace and unity in our land.

☞ The Secretary of War has submitted to Congress a communication on the Northern coast defences, enclosing an elaborate report from Edwin F. Johnson of Connecticut, well-known as a practical civil engineer. Mr. Johnson recommends the passage of Senator Morrill's bill, placing in the hands of the President power to accept loans from the States for public defence.—Among the modes of defence contemplated is the use of railroads and of floating ball-proof batteries, in addition to the ordinary system of fortification.

☞ Advices from Salt Lake City are to the 18th ult. Brigham Young was duly elected as Governor of the State of Deseret on the 3d. Hon. H. C. Kimball has been elected Lieutenant Governor, and John M. Bernhisel Representative to Congress. A meeting of the General Assembly will be held on the 14th of the present month to elect United States Senators, one of whom is expected to be ex-delegate Hooper.

☞ Two little girls in Richmond, Walworth county, Wis., have been bitten by a mad skunk, and one of them died last week with all the fearful evidences of hydrophobia. The other child has not yet been afflicted with these symptoms. The skunk was left in the road wounded, throat thro' with a pitchfork, and attacked the girls walking home from school.

CONNECTICUT ELECTION.—Buckingham has 9000 majority for Governor. Last year he had 2000. The Senate is unanimous against the Democrats. The House stands 184 Republican and Union to 56 Democrats,—one town to hear from. The vote of the State is nearly 14,000 less than last year.

THE ANNIVERSARY.—At 4:30 A. M., April 12th, 1861, (one year ago to-day) Fort Moultrie opened fire on Fort Sumter; at 12:55 P. M. on the 13th, the flag of Fort Sumter was lowered, and the fort was soon after surrendered on honorable terms; on the 14th Major Anderson evacuated, after saluting his flag.

☞ The New York Express truly says, the old fable of the dog grasping at the shadow, and losing the substance, has been reenacted by the secessionists.

THE REBELLION.

A portion of Gen. Burnside's forces on Tuesday night, occupied Beaufort, N. C., landing without opposition. Early evidence of good will was exhibited by the people.—An officer from one of the squadron has been ashore to arrange for the capture of Fort Macon. The beach southwest of the fort has been taken possession of.

Additional accounts of the victory at Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., give the following items, some of which must be received with allowance:—

John C. Breckinridge was taken prisoner; the informants say they saw him pass to the general headquarters. Gen. A. Sydney Johnston's body was left on the battle-field, and is in our possession. Also the bodies of a large number of other prominent rebel officers. Gen. Bragg is reported to have been killed. Provisional Governor Johnson of Kentucky is wounded and taken prisoner. It is stated that Gen. Prentiss escaped in the confusion of the rebels retreat on the second day's fight. The military commanders who were in the fight, it is stated, estimate our loss at about 7000.—About 2000 were taken prisoners, the balance are killed and wounded in the usual proportion. Gen. Wallace of Ill. reported killed, was living on Wednesday and improving. He was shot in the back of the ear, the ballet coming out through his nose.—During the night the rebels were reinforced by Gens. Van Dorn and Price from Arkansas with a very large force.

A forward movement of the federal troops has begun in New Mexico, and at last accounts the Texans had evacuated Santa Fe. A rebel order was intercepted directing them to evacuate the territory and return to Texas.

With a few exceptions the whole rebel force around Island No. 10 are now prisoners. They attempted to cross Lake Redfoot on rafts, but were surrounded and compelled to surrender. The prisoners say 70 men were killed by our mortars. A dispatch to the St. Louis Republican, says 80 cannon, 5000 stand of arms, 30 pieces of light artillery, and great quantities of provisions, blankets, clothing, &c., have fallen into our hands. The total number of prisoners captured is 5000,—one Major General, A. Makall, three Brig. Generals, Gault Walker and Schaum. We also took about 56,000 solid shot and immense quantities of ammunition.

The weather at Yorktown has been unfavorable to military operations. The rebel force there is estimated at 60,000 and is said to be rapidly increasing. Their entrenchments extend entirely across the peninsula and their works are evidently of the most formidable kind. General Johnston has taken the command in person.

Intelligence from Fortress Monroe, Thursday, says nothing had been heard of the Merrimac, and it was considered doubtful whether, in view of the late reverses in the West, the rebels would have the courage to attempt offensive operations even with her. If she ever did come out, it would probably be on Friday.

Parties from the army at Yorktown report no special change. There is continued skirmishing. A brilliant affair occurred Thursday morning, in which Griffin's battery participated with marked effect, killing and wounding 27 rebels. Generals Lee and Johnston are both reported to be with the rebel forces, one commanding at Yorktown and the other at Warwick. Magruder, holding a subordinate command, is with the reserves at Williamsburg.

The N. Y. Herald's Baltimore letter says the number of rebel troops at Yorktown is not less than 100,000. Gen. Johnston is in command. Jeff. Davis is also there. The rebels have all along known the movements of our army from Manassas to Fort Monroe, &c.

Notwithstanding a terrible storm for the last three days, the health of the troops in the department of the Rappahannock is unusually good. The country between Manassas and Warrenton is effectually cleared of rebel scouts. Brentville is occupied by our forces. Many of the inhabitants remain, but appear indifferent to the advance of the Union army. The rebels are reported to be intrenching themselves on the south bank of the Rappahannock.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—The House concurred in the Senate's amendment to the Naval bill, appropriating $13,000,000 for iron-clad steamers of war, as a substitute for the original item. The amendment to the appropriation for Stevens's battery was also adopted. The House agreed, the Senate concurring, to adjourn on the third Monday of May. The Pacific Railroad bill was postponed.

CONGRESS, Friday.—In the Senate, the bill to remove all disabilities of color in carrying the mails, was passed, 24 against 11. The Confiscation bill was taken up.]

In the House, the bill for the relief of Gen. Grant was passed. It reimburses him $1000, which amount was stolen from his trunk while he was serving as quartermaster in Mexico.

☞ The New York Chronicle says that the Spiritualists have issued an edition of the Bible, revised and explained by the original writers, through a "medium." It adds that the statement is not a joke, and that the book can be had at any of the spiritual bookstores.

HIST. OF FORMER CONSPIRACIES

AGAINST THE U. S. GOVERNMENT.

If, as Mr. Alexander H. Stephens asserts, our government is "one of the most beneficent the world has ever known," it has not escaped the fortunes incident to all governments, of fierce opposition and attempted revolutions. The Constitution of the Union was not adopted without extraordinary manifestations of opposition in the Convention, in Congress, in State Legislatures, and among the people. It was regarded in the various lights of "an experiment," a "consolidated tyranny," a "centralization fatal to State independence," &c. Washington said of the instrument: "there are some things in it which never did and never will obtain my cordial approbation." Patrick Henry denounced it as inimical to the liberties of the people. Franklin said, in the Convention; "I consent to this Constitution because I expect no better."

The attempt to construct a consolidated government out of states, diverse in interests, each jealous of its sovereignty, was "an experiment;" and Washington's expression of surprise, that any arrangement had been made, was justified by the result eventually achieved in the adoption of the Federal compact. He said: "It appears to me little short of a miracle that the delegates from so many states, different from each other in their manners, circumstances and prejudices, should unite in forming a system of national government so little liable to well founded objections;" uttering, however, in the same paragraph, his own qualified acceptance of the instrument:—"Nor am I yet such an enthusiastic, partial or indiscriminating admirer of it as not to perceive it is tinctured with some real, though not radical defects."

Pending discussion of the merits and demerits of the new Constitution, two great parties sprang into full and spirited life, viz.: the "Federalists," sustained by Washington, and led by John Adams and Hamilton; and the "anti-Federalists," who afterwards assumed the more distinctive appellation of "Democrats," under the leadership of Thomas Jefferson, Aaron Burr, and others. The differences between those two parties were those of quality rather than of kind. Both wanted a Republican form of government; both favored a Union; both had in view the best mode of developing the vast resources of the country; both sought to guard the interests of the people; and it was the intense patriotism of both parties which rendered them such bitter partisans. Each sought to prove the other an enemy to good government; and, failing to reconcile their respective ideas, they became as irreconcilable in their animosities as the Whigs and Tories of the Revolution.

It is not, therefore, a matter of surprise that a government, ordained under such discordant circumstances, should have retained some of its elements of discord, nor that each generation should witness violent opposition, if not actual resistance, to the Constitution and the Laws, both by individuals and by states. It is to be doubted, indeed, if the Federal Government would have succeeded as a government had it not been for the necessity of enforcing its authority, thus proving its powers and strength. The vigilance and bitterness of parties made their supporters ever watchful to reap advantages from the errors and weaknesses of their antagonists; hence the administerers of the laws were sedulously careful to execute their trusts with fidelity and wisdom, even though the motive might be the selfish one of maintaining a political supremacy. An apathy or indifference toward the government would have proved its ruin and have paved the way for a Monarchy, or for a series of State independencies alike fatal to their political and moral prosperity. Party spirit, political rancors, public antipathies, unpleasant as they are to contemplate singularly, are, nevertheless, the great regulators of the law, and, as such, are actually desirable. Washington said of party spirit: "It is a fire not to be quenched; it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume." That "uniform vigilance" is the price of our liberties; so long as it is exercised by our public administrators, and by the people, we are safe—when it is abated, our liberties and government are in danger.

Opposition to the Government generally has resulted in nothing more than a war of words, with the ballot box for umpire. Actual resistance to the arm of the law, so as to require force in its suppression, has been comparatively infrequent; yet, such instances are numerous enough to prove not only that we have a Government capable of sustaining itself, but, also, that the peculiar freedom guaranteed to all may engender combinations inimical to law and order. Such we may name:

The Whiskey Insurrection, 1791-4.
Alien and Sedition Emeute, 1798.
Aaron Burr's Conspiracy, 1806-7.
Hartford Convention Conspiracy, 1814.
Missouri Compromise Agitation, 1820-22.
Indian Rebellion in Georgia, 1825.
South Carolina Nullification Rebellion, 1831-2.
Dorr's Rhode Island Rebellion, 1842.
Kansas-Nebraska Imbroglio, 1854-58.
Utah Troubles, 1858-59.
Secession Revolution, 1860-62.

Several uprisings, or rebellions, occurred prior to the adoption of the Constitution, which were suppressed by force; but they sprung out of disorders consequent upon a want of law rather than of defiance to it.—We name above the Missouri Compromise troubles of 1820. Though not of the nature of a rebellion they still threatened the perpetuity of the Government, and merit a prominent place in any political history of the country. That agitation was the parent of those which followed, wherein the questions of Free and Slave territory were paramount; and the hydra then appeased by "compromise" became the dragon of secession and revolution in 1860.

To be Continued.

☞ On Monday morning the Sagamore Cottage, on Lynn Beach, was nearly destroyed by fire. Mrs. Alonzo Lewis and her young child were the only occupants of the residence, and to the timely barking of a dog kept on the premises they are indebted for their lives, as they had barely time to escape from their sleeping apartment.

IMMORTELLES.

THE SABBATH.

Sydney Smith pronounced the following sonnet one of the most beautiful in the English language:

With silent awe I hailed the sacred morn,
Which slowly wakes, while all the fields are still.
A soothing calm on every breeze is borne;
A graver murmur gurgles from the rill;
And echo answers softer from the hill,
And softer sings the linnet from the thorn,
The skylark warbles in a tone less shrill.
Hail! light serene! hail! sacred Sabbath morn.
The rooks float silent by in airy droves;
The sun a placid yellow lustre shows;
The gales, that lately sighed along the groves,
Have hushed their downy wings in sweet repose.
The hovering rack of clouds forgets to move,
So smiled the day when the first morn arose.

A LAMENT.

There is a voice I shall hear no more;
There are tones whose music for me is o'er;
Sweet as the odors of Spring were they—
Precious and rich—but they died away;
They come like peace to my heart and ear—
Never again will they murmur here;
They have gone, like the blush of a summer morn,
Like the crimson cloud, thro' the sunset borne.

There were eyes, that late were lit up for me,
Whose kindly glance was a joy to see;
They revealed the thoughts of a trusting heart,
Untouched by sorrow—untaught by art:
Whose affections were fresh as a stream of Spring,
When birds in the vernal branches sung;
They were filled with love that hath passed with them,
And my lyre is breathing their requiem.

—W. G. Clark.

A HOME PICTURE.

Now stir the fire, and close the shutters fast,
Let fall the curtains, wheel the sofa round,
And while the bubbling and loud-hissing urn
Throws up a steamy column, and the cups,
That cheer but not inebriate, wait on each,
So let us welcome cheerful evening in.

—Cowper.

NAVAL.—The U. S gunboats Kearsarge, Commander Pickering, and Tuscarora, Commander Craven, remained at Gibraltar March 20, watching the pirate Sumter.—The U. S. gunboat Ino, Lieut. Com. Cressey, left on the 10th for Palermo.

The U. S. Steamer Sebago, Lieut. Com. Henry, from Portsmouth for Hampton Roads, was spoken April 7, lat. 40 45, lon 70.

The iron-clad frigate in course of construction near Philadelphia is progressing quite rapidly, some of the 4 1-2 inch plates having already been placed on the bow.—The work of putting the plates on the sides of the vessel was to be commenced on Tuesday. The plates are bent to suit the formation of the vessel, and but a short time is required to fasten them on the vessel, large iron screws about two feet long being used for keeping them in place. A large number of plates for the spar deck have already been laid.

TAXES TO COME.—War creates debt.—Debt demands taxes. Direct taxes are not popular. The Boston Traveller advocates confiscation of the land and goods of rebels,—and says:—

"This is a humane age, and does not permit of much bloodshed out of the battle field; but it is no more averse from confiscation than was any preceding age; and if we could take three or four hundred million dollars from the rebels, there would be no occasion for having that moral pest, the tax gatherer, constantly with us. The goods of the rebels ought to suffice to pay the interest on the public debt for ten years to come; and at the end of that time the indirect revenue of the country derived from a fair tariff of duties on imports, would suffice to meet nearly all our expenditures. We should make the men who have created the debt pay at least the half of it; and so we shall do unless the country has lost its senses."

☞ Gen. Pope's official report says the canal cut across the peninsula at New Madrid, through which the steamers and several barges were taken, is 12 miles long, much of it being through heavy timber, which had to be sawed off by hand four feet under water. The idea of this great and laborious undertaking originated with Gen. Schuyler Hamilton, and the work was performed by Col. Bissell's Missouri Engineer regiment.

☞ Senator Wilson introduced a number of important amendments to the fugitive slave law, establishing trial by jury and abolishing some features of the present law, and debarring rebels from recovering slaves under any circumstances.

☞ The privileges of the telegraph, which were taken from the Philadelphia Enquirer, by order of Sec. Stanton, for violation of the army regulations in regard to war news, have been fully restored.

☞ The U. S. Senate has passed a bill to establish a national foundry in Washington.

AN INCIDENT.—When the United States vessels were on their way to attack Fernandina, they picked up a contraband who had ventured to sea in a small boat to notify them that the rebels were deserting the place. While questioning the black, some of the officers of the Alabama remarked that he should have brought them newspapers to let them know what was going on. "I thought of dat," replied the contraband, "and fotched a Charlestown paper wid me." With this he put his hand in his bosom and brought forth a paper, and, with the air of a man who was rendering an important service, handed it to the circle of inquirers. They grasped it eagerly, but one glance induced a general burst of laughter, to the profound astonishment of poor Cuffee, who it seems could not read, and imagining that one paper was as good as another, had brought one dated 1822. This South Carolina relic was forwarded to Thomas B. Stillman, Esq., of New York city, as one of the curiosities of the war. It is a little odd that this paper, which has floated so long down the stream of time, contains an article in favor of negro emancipation.—N. Y. Tribune.

☞ A Washington letter says it is well understood that Gen. McClellan placed his resignation in the hands of the President some months ago, to be used whenever the President should be of opinion that the public desired it, and to take effect, at any rate, whenever the Government disapproved of his plan of the campaign.

☞ A newspaper in New York called the Caucasian, has petitioned Congress to be allowed the same privileges in the mails which are accorded to abolition newspapers. This newspaper was originally known as the Day Book, but being denied the use of the mail facilities changed its name, without obtaining relief.

recently occupied by E. S. Prescott, Esq.

The house is spacious, has conveniently arranged rooms, of high stories and good proportions, heated by a furnace, with a bath-room, cistern, and other conveniencies. Attached to the house are four acres of excellent land, upon which is a choice variety of fruit trees and shrubbery.

The stables and out buildings are in good repair, as is also the house which can be examined at any time on application to the undersigned.—From the house a fine view is obtained of the River, Navy Yard, Isles of Shoals, &c., which with its high situation renders it one of the most agreeable places of abode in this locality. SUNDAY SERVICES. — Rev. Horatio Stebbins, of Portland, will preach at the Unitarian Church to morrow.

Rev. Charles Porter, of South Boston, Mass., will preach at the North Church.

On Sunday April 20th, it is expected the Rev. Mr. Gage, pastor of the North Church, will resume his labors, after a suspension of eight or ten months from sickness.

CHAPIN'S LECTURE.—The last lecture of the course before the Kittery Lyceum, was delivered on Thursday evening, by Rev. Dr. Chapin of New York. His subject—"The People"—was a subject into which the eloquent orator could, and did, pour the richest treasures of his mind and heart. We have seldom, if ever, enjoyed a lecture so well. It should be listened to by all. That the inhabitants of this city may enjoy the rare privilege, arrangements have been made for its repetition here, at the Universalist Church, on Wednesday evening next, April 16th, at 7 1-2 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained at the stores of Dr. Hutchings and Dr. Preston, at the low price of 15 cts.

☞ The Theatrical Company which has been exhibiting at the Temple, closed their season in this city, on Thursday evening. The benefit to Messrs. Marston and Tozer, on Wednesday evening, was entirely successful. On that evening, as was announced, a silver trumpet was presented to the Engine Company which had sold the greatest number of tickets; and a silver goblet to the gentleman bringing the greatest number of ladies with him to the entertainment. The former was won by Engine Co. No. 6, which had disposed of over four hundred tickets; and the latter by a member of the same company, who was accompanied by thirteen ladies;—and must entertain a great admiration for the endearing creatures.

☞ As Mr. Joshua Card. of the Newcastle Express, was driving out from Hanover into Market street, on Thursday last, the whiffle-tree of his carriage gave way, causing the horse to fall, breaking a thigh in such a manner that he was compelled to kill him immediately.

Messrs. Editors:—It may not be generally known a beginning has been made for a cabinet of curiosities, (both natural and artificial) at the Boys' High School. Already a comparatively large collection has been made by the efforts of teachers, scholars and others interested, and there is room for more. Undoubtedly there are many who have just such articles as are needed here, that are of but little if any use to themselves; such persons would greatly benefit the school as well as themselves, by contributing the same. The way to do it is to label your contributions, giving in addition the name of the donor, and send or take them to the school or teachers, and they will be numbered and carefully laid away. AN OLD SCHOLAR.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—On Monday next, 14th, the time for leaving Portsmouth for Boston, will be 7:15, 11:15 A. M., and 3:30 P. M. Leaving Boston for Portsmouth at 7:30 A. M., and 3 and 5 P. M.

☞ Two side-wheel steamers are to be launched at the Navy Yard on the 17th inst., and another steamer is shortly to follow.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A man about 60 years of age, was run over and instantly killed, last Tuesday afternoon, by the Cheshire Railroad cars, while attempting to cross the covered bridge, some two and a half miles north of the Troy station. The name and residence of the deceased have not been ascertained.

—— Nashua is said to contain the fattest array of mayors and ex-mayors of any city in creation. Messrs. Baldwin, Rogers, Giles, Sawyer, Bowers, and Morrill are all men of the Falstaffian order.

—— Gov. Berry and suite of New Hampshire, who went down the Potomac to present a flag to our Second Regiment, returned without finding the regiment.

—— The Wolfboro' News states that on the 9th inst., the snow was four feet deep in that vicinity; and in Lancaster in some instances sugar makers have dug down to find the nails on which to hang their sap buckets.

—— The editor of the Coos Republican has seen a goose egg, which measured 10 3-4 and 8 1-2 inches around and across, and which weighed 10 1-2 ounces.

—— Mr. Chesley, resident of Lee, but who was visiting in Lancaster, committed suicide on Sunday afternoon, by cutting his throat, from ear to ear. He was about 45 years old and a widower. He had been in ill health, and was considered somewhat deranged.

—— Charles Conner, Esq., of Exeter, has been chosen President of the Atlantic Mutual Fire Insurance Company, vice Jos. T. Gilman, deceased.

☞ Fifty 15 inch Dahlgren guns will be immediately cast at Pittsburg, for the new boats of the Monitor pattern.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. A NEW AND USEFUL ARTICLE.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement is this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

Save Your Gas!!

A great part of the complaint about high charges for gas-light may be avoided by using economical burners.

It is a well established fact that gas (even at the rate charged by our Gas Co.) if properly consumed affords a cheaper light than any other illuminating substance.

The burners ordinarily used are not constructed with any view to economy, and after a year's use they become wasteful by means of the fine being enlarged by corrosion, and the Gas escaping unconsumed.

Many attempts have been made to construct a burner that would be durable and economical, and yet produce a brilliant light.

Wood's Patent Carcel Burners

are undoubtedly the best ever made, having stood the test of time for many years.

Some of them have been in constant use in this city for ten years past, and apparently are as good as ever. For a parlor reading light these burners are unrivalled. They can be quaged so as to burn from two to six feet of gas per hour.

PRICE from $1 25 to $2.50 each.

Advertise!

IF IN THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so powerful, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right mediums, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To the merchant who has adopted the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements, he owes the fact in large measure. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be of a character that the community wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers in that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy or good business showing economy to avoid advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the dull weeks when advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and the contrary knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sometimes ten-fold, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. No man is so able to do himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to ascertain the validity, if not the patentability of inventions unsuspected by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that more is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

MONDAY, APRIL 14, 1862.

THE SALMON RIVER MINES.

In the Fall of 1860, a party of miners from California left San Francisco for a prospecting tour through Oregon and Washington Territory. In the southern confines of Washington and near the northern boundary of Utah, the party became bewildered, lost their reckoning, and wandered for several days among the mountains of the Snake and Salmon rivers. While thus seeking egress from the fastnesses of that volcanic region, suffering from the want of provisions, and with death staring them in the face, they noticed unmistakable "signs" of gold deposits, in the soil of a vast swamp on the top of a high mountain. The ruling passion, strong even in the midst of danger, induced the sufferers to apply the usual miners' tests to the soil, and the discovery of the rich diggings now known as the "Salmon River Mines," was the result. The prospecting party were at length met by a party of Indians, who directed them to the nearest white settlement, which they reached without loss of life.—The solemn pledge of secrecy was violated by a member of the party, who informed a "particular friend," and the fact of the great discovery was soon noised abroad.—With the opening of the Spring of '61, a number of miners found their way to the mines.

Discovery followed discovery, until it now appears that the different ranges of mountains in that region are in fact gold fields of immense richness. Statements have appeared in the California papers, apparently well authenticated, which seem to render these mines the richest in the world. The following extract is from an article in the San Francisco Herald and Mirror, of Mar. 1, 1862:—

"New mines are said to have been struck on the south fork of the Salmon. One Bridges, took out of his claim in a single day in December, one hundred and twenty-eight ounces and four dollars. The snow set in that night, and he was compelled to abandon work, probably till Spring.

Another rich claim has been opened by Messrs. Wilson and Foley, in which the two men with a rocker are averaging from seventy-five to one hundred ounces per day. Warren & Co. are also doing well, about fifty yards from the above claim, making from $100 to $300 per day to the man, and others are doing nearly as well."

The Portland Oregonian publishes an estimate of the amount of ore brought into that place from the new mines during the last season, from which we extract the following:—

"GOLD DUST FROM SALMON RIVER.—The amount of gold dust brought to Portland, Oregon, during the last summer and fall, and up to 1st January, is estimated at $3,000,000. Of this amount, Wells, Fargo & Co. alone shipped $1,198, 773 32. The Portland Assay Office of Mr. Agrell has assayed since May, $95,567. These sums make $1,297,010 32. Added to this the amounts now in the hands of miners and others, and it amounts to $3,000,000. This is a very large sum considering the few persons who were prepared and able to work their claims to advantage both summer and fall. We shall not be surprised if, in two months after mining is commenced in the spring, $500,000 in gold dust shall reach Portland each week."

About 1000 miners are said to have wintered at the Salmon River mines. In Oregon the winter has been the most severe within the memory of man. The miners were but illy supplied with provisions, and fears were entertained that great suffering must ensue to the little band, shut out by snow and ice from the rest of the world.—Several parties were dispatched from the settlements in Oregon, to inquire into the condition of the miners, but all failed to reach their destination. Several hardy mountaineers perished from cold, others were so badly frozen that amputation of the extremities became necessary, and every attempt to ascertain the situation of affairs at the mines, resulted in a signal failure.

The Oregon newspapers sounded an alarm, which was re-echoed by the press of the Pacific. Fortunately it was responded to by a reliable correspondent from Great Salt Lake City, Utah, who in a letter to the Portland (Oregon) Times, under date of March 10, writes as follows:—

* * * "The Portland, O., Advertiser of February 11, in its article on the dangers of a winter's residence in the mines, assumes that supplies are to be received at the mines only from the settlements in Oregon and Washington Territory, losing sight of the fact that the more northerly settlements of Utah are in easy proximity to the mines; that the road is accessible at all seasons of the year, and that all needed supplies can be procured at these settlements at reasonable rates.

A party of 25 miners from Salmon River mines, visited Box Elder, in Utah, the latter part of February, to procure a supply of provisions. They reported that there had been no great amount of suffering at the mines, but that provisions were getting scarce. The winter had not been so severe as might have been anticipated from its severity at the North. The trip from the mines to Box Elder was made with pack mules, in nine days without inconvenience,—not more than five inches of snow being found at any point. The grazing was very good on the southern slopes of the Salmon Mountains, and improved constantly towards the Mormon settlements. The party started on their return, at the end of three days, heavily laden with flour, bacon and other necessaries, which they stated would bring fabulous prices.

It is not, I apprehend, sufficiently understood that a visit to the Salmon River region can easily and safely be made from this city, at all seasons of the year. The road is excellent, the only river of any magnitude to be crossed is substantially bridged, and with such facility do wagons approach the mines from the southern slope, that packing is said to be wholly unnecessary.—The distance from G. S. L. City to "Limbi"—a former Mormon settlement abandoned in 1857,—is 260 miles, while the mines are situated some 55 miles southwest of that point. From this city to the mines is therefore, clearly, less than 300 miles, and the direction almost due North. That supplies must legitimately come from the southern settlement during the winter, is very evident.

There is no prospect of a "rush" from Utah to the mines. The Mormon belief is opposed to gold-hunting. But the emigration from the East and from the West, thro' this territory, will not be inconsiderable.

The eastern division of the Overland Mail Company, proposes to put on a line of coaches, to run from this city to the mines, making the trip in three days, leaving daily if the traffic will warrant it. From the Missouri River to the mines will then require but 13 days, and the trip will prove decidedly free from hardship and annoyance.—The cost of the entire trip will not exceed $200. When this fact is understood, thousands will, doubtless, avail themselves of the opportunity to leave "the States," for a brief season at the "new mines," so wonderfully rich, and destined by their development to wield so vast an influence over the destinies of Oregon and Washington,—raising up great cities in your smiling valleys, and exalting anew the honored name of "Columbia," borne at once by a continent on which free government is destined to prove something more than an experiment, and by your noble river of the North.

Yours very truly, FRANK FULLER,
ActingGov. of Utah."

Gov. Fuller has wisely refrained from any allusion to the probable effects of rich gold deposits in the immediate vicinity of the Mormon settlements. We predict, however, that these discoveries will continue until the mountains of Utah shall be forced to yield up their now undiscovered wealth, and that the time is not far distant when that remote Territory, instead of being the habitation of a limited, obscure and anomalous people, shall be opened up to the industry, energy and commerce of the world.

☞ Gen. Halleck is reported as saying in substance that he "considers the military skill, science and penetration of Gen. McClellan as second to that of no man living; that whatever has been done in the West and elsewhere was but the carrying out of McClellan's great plan of the war; that the general idea of each and every of these movements was the fruit of his foresight and knowledge of war and its appliances, and that McClellan had rough hewn the whole work and only left the finishing touches to the department and division commanders."

THE MODERN AGE.—Mr. Gardner A Fuller, Boston, announces that he will commence immediately the publication of a new serial, to be issued weekly, each number to contain 12 pages in 12 mo. size, and to be sold at 3 cents each, or $1 per year. In the first number is to be commenced Wilkie Collins' new story entitled "No Name," which will be continued from week to week until completed; after which new works by other popular authors will be given. The design seems to us a capital one, as the numbers, when bound, will give each story continuously and complete.

The same publisher has issued Bulwer's "Strange Story" in neat and convenient style. For sale in Boston by A. Williams & Co., and in this city by J. F. Shores, Jr. Price: paper covers, 25 cents; bound in muslin $1.

☞ Several thousands of dollars were gained by the entertainment given at New York for the benefit of the crews of the Congress and Cumberland. The affair was a very happy one. The audience cheered the jolly tars, who were present in great force, and the tars responded. Sea-songs were sung, descriptions were given, several gentlemen, among them George Bancroft, made brief addresses, and resolutions were passed requesting the Department to confer medals on the survivors of the sea-fight. Then the assemblage dispersed highly contented, and the result will be pecuniary comfort to many a poor widow and orphan.

FATAL SCOURGE.—An alarming disease has broken out among the children at Hartford, Conn. It is in some respects a malign scarlet fever, and children attacked by it die in three or four hours, sometimes before a physician can be obtained. Six children fell victims to it between Thursday and Sunday, and three more were sick with it on Monday.

☞ There are more than 150 libels for divorce pending in the Supreme Court of Suffolk.

THE REBELLION.

The steamer Merrimac paid another visit to Hampton Roads on Friday, accompanied by the Yorktown, Jamestown and a fleet of 6 gunboats and tugs. No great injury resulted from their expedition, three small transport vessels only having been captured. The Merrimac exchanged shots with the "Stevens" (probably Mr. Steven's new steam gunboat Naugatuck) but it does not appear that any damage was sustained by either vessel.

The Generals and field officers captured at Island No. 10 are to be sent to Fort Warren.

Nothing of interest occurred in the lines before Yorktown, Friday. Gen. McClellan telegraphs to the Secretary of War that the condition of the roads is improving, and operations going on favorably.

We have a statement from Pittsburg, Tenn., that the pursuit of the rebel army by our cavalry continued only a few miles. The rumor of the occupation of Corinth is therefore not confirmed.

Washington dispatches state that it is believed that the Merrimac has been assigned a position at the mouth of James river as a floating battery, for the protection of the right flank of the rebel army.

The cavalry of Gen. Banks occupied Warrenton on Friday; the rebels abandoned the place without firing a gun. But few of the inhabitants remain. Wheat is several inches high and the grass is considerably advanced in growth. The farmers appear to have been but little molested; they are pursuing their avocations, and are apparently with the Union.

Gen. Mitchell, on Friday, occupied Huntsville, Ala., without much resistance. Two hundred prisoners were taken; also fifteen locomotives and a large amount of rolling stock.

Rebel accounts of the first day of the Pittsburg battle say Gen. Bushrod Johnson (who was captured at Fort Donelson, but escaped,) was wounded, and Gen. A. Sydney Johnston was killed. Gen. Beauregard then took command of the rebel forces; he termed it a second Manassas fight.

A rebel letter says the steamer Nashville was taken to Charleston, S. C., to be delivered to her new owners.

The Richmond Whig says a letter has been received in New Orleans announcing the fall of Fort Craig by unconditional capitulation. Col. Canby proposed that himself and command be permitted to depart, on condition that they pledged themselves not to serve during the war, but Gen. Sibley insisted on an unconditional surrender.

A Mobile dispatch says the Federal forces shelled Pass Christian on the 4th, and landed 2400 men, with 12 four-pound howitzers. The rebel force is said to have been 300 men with two howitzers, who made a narrow escape.

The Richmond Whig says Jeff Davis on Monday addressed some wounded soldiers and said he intended to share their fate on the next battle-field, and assured them that the cause would conquer in the end.

The Cincinnati Gazette's correspondent says the sum and substance of the battle at Pittsburg on Sunday was, we were pushed from disaster to disaster, till we had lost every division camp we had, and were driven within half a mile of the landing; when the approach of night, the timely aid of the gunboats and the tremendous efforts of our artillerists, and Gen. Buell's approach, saved us. On Monday, after nine hours' hard fighting, we simply regained what we had lost on Sunday. Not a division advanced half a mile beyond our old camps on Monday, except Gen. Lewis Wallace's. The lowest estimate of our loss in killed and wounded, is 3300, and in prisoners, from 3000 to 4000. The rebel loss in killed and wounded is probably 1000 heavier. In their retreat, the rebels left the ground covered with their dead, whom they had carried to their rear; and destroyed the heavy supplies they had brought up.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

——The New Hampshire annual conference of the M. E. Church assembled at Sanbornton Bridge, on Thursday. The bounds of this conference comprise New Hampshire and a small portion of Massachusetts, including Lawrence, Haverhill and several smaller places. Bishop Baker presides. Rev. Lewis Howard was re-elected Secretary. In addition to the usual appointments, committees were ordered upon the use of tobacco and upon the country. Only one of the members has died during the year. The sermon in the afternoon was by Rev. F. Stratton, a young man who has been in the conference two or three years. In the evening, by Rev. A. J. Church, late Chaplain of one of the Maine regiments, but now of Great Falls, where he supplies the church made vacant by the election of Rev. C. Harrington, Greek Professor in Wesleyan University at Middletown, Conn. On Friday morning 80 members answered to their names. It was voted to appoint a committee to raise a subscription in behalf of Rev. Justin Spaulding, who is in destitute circumstances. Mr. Spaulding was for a number of years a missionary in South America, and afterwards pastor of the M. E. Church in Manchester, where he now resides, entirely broken in mind.

——The Keene Sentinel says a hen was discovered under a girt in a barn in that town, on the 28th of March last, where she was accidentally covered up with clover hay, about the 10th of July—having lain there nearly nine months without any food but the clover heads around her; and without anything to moisten her throat but the snow that fell near the crevices of the barn in winter. The hen was found alive, but much emaciated, and she "still lives."

☞ The Norfolk Day Book of the 4th inst. says that pilots acquainted with Northern harbors will very soon be in demand, and that their services will be handsomely remunerated. Probably as Floyd is out of a job at present, the government is going to set him to work to steal a fleet.

☞ We find it stated that the reason for placing Buckner in close confinement at Fort Warren was, that after declaring upon his honor that he bore no concealed weapons, a loaded revolver was found upon him.

☞ Prof. E. D. Sanborn, formerly of Dartmouth College, writes from St. Louis that Flag-Officer Foote prays as though God did everything, and fights as if man did everything.

☞ It is proposed that the Lord Mayor of London call a meeting to adopt a vote of thanks to Mr. Peabody for his munificence.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambucl Berries for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

SUP. JUD. COURT, Exeter.—The first jury case tried was No. 81, Richard Jenness v. Samuel and Robert Frothingham, which was commenced on Friday. This was an action for trespass in destroying certain pine trees growing at Rye. The defts, who were boarding at Rye Beach in 1860, it is alleged cut some young trees to build an arbor in which to encamp for the night. No evidence was adduced to prove that Robert Frothingham was engaged in the trespass, and the case was discontinued as to him. The other defendant having deceased, John S. H. Frink, Esq., was appointed administrator of his estate. The jury considered the trespass to be worth $11.75, and returned a verdict for that amount on Saturday morning. Hatch & Webster for pltf., Hackett for deft.

John Henley, indicted for stealing furs and clothing in Portsmouth, pleaded guilty.

James Smith, for brawl and tumult on the corner of Bow and Ceres streets, was fined $3, and costs $4.80.

☞ Saturday was more like Spring, than any day we have yet had. But the ground freezes hard almost every night, and the ice and snow hang on in our streets, roads, and fields yet, in very large quantities. There surely can be little if any ploughing or planting in this vicinity, for many days.

☞ We are indebted to Moulton & Blaisdell, for a can of delicious Peaches, bearing the brand of Wm. H. Davis & Co., Boston, the well known extensive packers of fruits, preserves, pickles, &c. These peaches are put up in sugar, and appear as fresh as when picked from the tree, and have lost none of their flavor or delicacy. To eat fresh peaches and cream, when surrounded by snowbanks and icebergs, is a treat indeed.

CHANGE OF TIME.—On and after to-day (Monday, April 14th) the afternoon train on the Concord and Portsmouth railroad will leave this city at forty minutes past four,—being half an hour later than heretofore.

☞ The Trumpet, and the Freeman, the two Universalist papers published in Boston, are to be soon united, and published as the Trumpet & Freeman, a Universalist Magazine." Messrs. Cobb and Quinby are to be the editors, and James M. Usher is to be the publisher; Messrs. Bazin & Son the printers, we presume.

☞ Sir F. Smith had given notice in the British House of Commons that he should call attention to the engagement of the Merrimac and Monitor, and asked whether in consequence of its results, Government would not suspend the construction of iron plated ships until the question of iron-plated gunboats is considered.

☞ The authorities of Newburyport are making inquiries into the relative cost of lighting the streets and public buildings with Kerosene instead of Gas, with the expectation that the former will supersede the latter.

☞ The islands in the Mississippi above the Ohio are all named, and below the Ohio, they are numbered. Island No. 1 is below Cairo, and they continue south in numerical order to No. 135, at or near Tunico Bend, in Louisiana, about 120 miles above New Orleans. From that point to its mouth the river is clear of all islands.

—— Col. Joseph D. Webster, chief of the staff of Gen. Grant, and whose conduct at Pittsburg is favorably spoken of in some accounts of the bloody conflict, is a New Hampshire man, born in the town of Hampton, and a graduate of Dartmouth College. He studied law in the office of Daniel Webster.

☞ Gen. Jackson of Georgia, and not Beauregard, was in command at Corinth, Miss., and had under him every rebel general in the Mississippi valley.

☞ The Richmond papers strenuously urge the government to interfere to stop the extortion which, they say, has raised the price of everything to a height entirely unjustified by circumstances.

☞ The Post says the amount due by Government to faithful Contractors in Boston to-day, is not less than ten million dollars, and their loss of interest is upwards of two thousand dollars a day.

☞ Capt. Paulding, Commandant of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, is quite ill.

☞ Gov. Andrew has signed the death warrant of Geo. C. Hersey, who is to be executed on Friday, August 8, in the Dedham jail, or jail yard.

☞ The U. S. House of Representatives on Friday passed the bill to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia, by a vote of 93 to 39.

☞ The Senate has confirmed the nominations of Francis E. Patterson of Pennsylvania, and Cassius M. Clay of Kentucky, as Brigadier Generals.

The new side-wheel steamer Tioga will be launched at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Friday afternoon next. This is the only vessel now on the stocks at that Yard.

☞ See a woman, in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London, and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y

ADVICE FREE.
Jan. 20, 1862—spnot, 3aw 1yr

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhea, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer
Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!
The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in wrenching out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-MINUTE OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

Advertise!

IT IS THE

LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the cheapest means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER. To find the purchaser, one must be legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, instantly established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be of any real value to the interests of the great mass of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained business on a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that in times of pressure, or times when shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Believe me the field when few advertisers occupy it and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, because I know how to pay, but especially it pays me at times when all the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be turned from its purpose by the third way, which is to be avoided. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sometimes ten-fold, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient, others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new objects for its interest and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The old is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so constantly increasing. All men know it who, or just so himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unfinished Patent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming case of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pains and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, forebodings of evil, distrust of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other agency, with them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, together with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 16, 1862.

ITEMS FROM OLD TIMES.

Jay's Treaty — John Langdon—Portsmouth Town Meeting, and Mob.—Almost everybody has heard of Jay's Treaty, and Uncle Toby remembers that there used to be some growling about it in the newspapers in 1812 and before.

But most of the moderns know little of the treaty itself, and less of the rows and mobs that were raised against it and its author.

John Jay, an eminent revolutionary patriot and statesman, was sent by President Washington, in 1794, as a special minister to Great Britain, where he negotiated a treaty settling various difficulties between that country and the United States.

His appointment was opposed in the Senate by some who wanted war: they gave 8 votes against him. He received 18 votes, went to England, and made a treaty, which had great merits in some points, in others great defects. It was, however, the best he could get, and better than most men could probably have procured.

It provided for constituting three boards of commissioners: one to determine the eastern boundary of the United States, by fixing on the river intended by the treaty of 1783 as the St. Croix; another to ascertain the amount of losses experienced by British subjects in consequence of legal impediments to the recovery of pre-revolutionary debts, that amount, when ascertained, to be paid by the United States; and a third to estimate the losses sustained by Americans from illegal captures by British cruisers, those losses to be paid by the British government. The amount subsequently recovered by Americans under this clause was $10,345,000. The western posts occupied by the British were to be surrendered on June 1, 1796. There was to be a reciprocity of inland trade and intercourse between the North American territories of the two nations, including the navigation of the Mississippi, the British also to be admitted into all American harbors, with the right to ascend all rivers to the highest port of entry; but this reciprocity did not extend to the admission of American vessels into British North American harbors or rivers. Those articles were declared to be perpetual; and there were a number besides, which had a limited time to run.

The treaty between the United States and Great Britain in 1795 was laid before the Senate, who advised the President to ratify it. While he had it under consideration, a member of the Senate procured it to be published, which caused the President great embarrassment. The country was divided in opinion, as to its operation and effect.—This town met for the purpose of expressing their opinion on the subject, on the 16th of July; and after voting, "That it was inconsistent with the interest and honor of the United States to adopt" the treaty, they agreed upon the following address:

"To George Washington, President of the United States of America:

Sir—Convinced of your inviolable attachment to the interest and happiness of the States over which you preside, and your readiness on all occasions to attend to every just complaint of the people, we, the citizens of Portsmouth, constitutionally assembled in public town-meeting to signify our opinions, relative to the treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America, consented to by a majority of the Senate, and recommended for your ratification, having taken the same into our most serious consideration, beg leave to express our most hearty disapprobation thereof, for the following general reasons, viz:

First—Because that part of the treaty of 1783, securing the payment of debts due to British subjects, is rigorously enforced, when an important article in the same treaty, requiring a compensation for negroes and other property, unjustly removed, is placed wholly out of view.

Second—Because the 9th article confers a privilege on British subjects, which, though expressed in terms reciprocal, yet from the different circumstances of the two nations, not only wants an equivalent, but is a direct invasion of the rights of individual states. * * *

We therefore most fervently request that the treaty between Great Britain and the United States, may not receive your ratification, till it undergo such alteration as shall render it conducive to the interest, honor, and lasting peace of our country."

They voted, That this town heartily approve of the conduct of Mr. Langdon, and his nine patriotic associates, in opposing the ratification of the treaty between Great Britain and the United States of America. And they voted the thanks of this town to Mr. S. T. Mason, a Senator from Virginia, for his patriotism in publishing the treaty unduly withheld by the Senate from the people.

This treaty caused a great ferment among the inhabitants. Samuel Livermore, the other Senator in Congress from New Hampshire, had voted for its ratification. A counter address to the President was drawn up and signed by a large number of individuals. But to prevent its being sent on, two or three hundred of the enraged populace assembled, and armed with clubs paraded the streets, with drums beating, and carrying effigies of the commissioners, who made the treaty, and the Senator who voted for its ratification; insulted many of the signers of the address, broke their windows and fences, injured their trees, and with threats of personal injury and violence demanded the address of the persons who had it in their possession. After keeping the town in terror and confusion several hours, they burnt the effigies and then dispersed. Ten of the principal persons, concerned in this riot, were indicted at the next Supreme Court.

Portsmouth was not alone in this mob work. Copies of the treaty were publicly burned in New York, Philadelphia, Charleston, and other places. An attempt was made at Philadelphia to burn Jay in effigy on the 4th of July, which came near producing a serious riot. Washington, unmoved by all this clamor, though, as he wrote to Randolph, he considered the crisis the most important and dangerous that had yet occurred in his administration, ratified the treaty on Aug. 14. This, however, did not quiet the agitation.

In Boston some people paraded the streets with an effigy of Jay, which they burned, and then attacked the house of the editor of a federal paper, but were fired on and repulsed.

The treaty, on the other hand, was as warmly defended. In the House of Representatives in Congress, after a long struggle, the resolution that it was expedient to pass the laws necessary for carrying the treaty into effect, was agreed to by a vote of 58 to 51, only 4 New England members voting against it, and from the states south of the Potomac only 4 for it.

These items show that mobs, and sectional parties, and unjust clamor, are not exclusively of modern date; and they go to show, also, that the former days were not so much better than our own, as some writers and speakers ignorantly assert.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Between thirty and forty recruits for the regular army are now at the recruiting office at West Lebanon, and some are enlisting almost every day. They are uniformed as soon as they enlist, and drilled daily. The recruiting officer is Captain William Sweet, of the 17th infantry.

—— The forenoon sessions of the Methodist Conference at Sanbornton Bridge are devoted chiefly to what is termed Conference business — an examination of the standing and success of each preacher during the past year. Also reports are made by the special committees. On Saturday morning a special committee reported unanimously against all pulpit exchanges except with ministers of evangelical denominations. The report was unanimously adopted. Rev. Mr. Buckley of Manchester took strong ground in favor of the report, arguing that the greater the ability and high moral standing of the non-evangelical clergyman, the more is his religious influence to be deprecated. The appointments will probably be given out on Wednesday.

FOREIGN. — Five days later news has been received from England. Two brigs with cotton, tobacco and rosin, arrived at Liverpool on the 2d, having run the blockade at Charleston. They report the sunken stone fleet breaking up.

The question of iron batteries continues to attract great attention and leading journals continue to urge editorially the necessity for iron fleets. The London Times says it is understood that orders are in the course of transmission to all the dockyards to suspend any further operations upon wooden ships.

It is supposed that England will withdraw from the expedition to Mexico, but that there will be no rupture between the allies, —England abstains merely from interfering. The chief part of the expedition is now undertaken by France.

Napoleon had ordered a reduction to the extent of 32,000, men in the active army.

NAVAL.—The U. S. sloop-of-war St. Louis, from Philadelphia, arrived at Cadiz March 14.

Captain Thomas O. Selfridge, recently relieved from duty in the Gulf squadron, has been ordered to the command of the Navy Yard at San Francisco.

The iron clad steamer Galena has been unavoidably detained at the Continental Iron Works, Greenpoint. She was expected at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Saturday afternoon to receive her armament and stores. She is to carry four Dahlgren guns, broadside, and two formidable Parrot guns fore and aft.

U. S. steam frigate Roanoke, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, has been cut down to her port holes, to prepare her for her iron plating, which will be put on at the Novelty Works.

☞ In a card to the Wheeling Intelligencer, Gen. Rosecrans explicitly denies that he has thought of resigning, or that he objects to serving under Gen. Fremont.—He expresses the opinion with reference to Gen. Fremont, that "if a general is fit to hold his commission, he ought to have his command."

☞ A dispatch has been received from the Secretary of the Treasury, by the Collector of Philadelphia, directing him not to clear any vessel with anthracite coal for foreign or home ports south of Delaware Bay, until further orders. This is supposed to be a precautionary measure to prevent the rebels from procuring coal and supplies via Havana, &c.

☞ Have you been into Clark's clearing out sale of jewelry, &c., yet?

THE REBELLION.

Information from New Mexico states that on the 28th ult. Col. Hough, with 1300 men, met a force of 1100 Texans strongly posted at the mouth of a canon, at Pigeon's ranch, 15 miles from Santa Fe. The rebel guard were away from their supply train, and it was captured and burned. They also captured one cannon and spiked it.—The fight continued desperately until 4 o'clock, when it ceased by mutual consent. The Federal loss was 3 officers and 20 privates killed, and 40 to 50 wounded.—The rebel loss is not known. Communication between Colonels Hough and Canby is continually kept up.

Gen. Halleck has taken the command at Pittsburgh Landing, and another battle is soon expected at Corinth, where Beauregard is shut in.

Advices from the West give still further particulars of the Pittsburg battle. Some of the regiments were fearfully cut up; one of the Iowa regiments could muster but 17 fighting men on Monday morning. Among the wounded is Capt. Copp, of the 6th Ind. Regt., who says there is no do bt of the death of Gen. Bragg in Monday's fight. He says also that Johnson, the so-called (rebel) Governor of Kentucky is dead. He died as he lay within six feet of Capt. Copp on board the Hannibal.—The whole rebel army in the battle was 123 regiments, or 75,000 men. Our total killed and wounded is now estimated at 8000. Gen. W. H. Wallace, of Illinois, was at last accounts still surviving, with slight hopes of his recovery.

Gen. O. M. Mitchell, the soldier-astronomer, has followed up his success in cutting the great line of railway communication between the Southern States, by sending out expeditions right and left, thus placing at our control one hundred miles of the great Memphis and Charleston Railroad. The importance of these movements can hardly be overrated.

The whole rebel force in the late Pea Ridge battle, have gone east, down the Arkansas.

The Savannah Republican of the 12th announces the unconditional surrender of Fort Pulaski on the 11th inst. Seven large breaches were made in the walls by our batteries of Parrott guns at King's Landing, and all the barbette guns on that side and three casemate guns were dismounted. Three balls entered the magazine, and a clean breach was made in it. The conical balls of the Parrott guns went clear through the walls at nearly every fire.

Col. Olmsted, the rebel commander, telegraphed on the previous evening that no human being could stand upon the ramparts a single moment, and that thousands of large shells had exploded within the fort. The Republican gives no particulars as to the number of men and officers in the fort at the time of its surrender, but says none were killed, but four wounded.

A Richmond paper contains an editorial intimating that the Monitor, Naugatuck and Galena, all iron clad, might come up James river, and by their invulnerability and heavy guns take and keep possession of the city. It proposes that the channel of James river be obstructed by stone at once.

Advices from Newbern, N. C., to the 11th, state that Fort Macon was still in the hands of the rebels, but active preparations were being made by Gen. Burnside to reduce it.

4000 Union soldiers left Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., on five transports on Saturday night, with the gunboats Tyler and Lexington, and, proceeding up the Tennessee river, landed and destroyed two bridges on the Mobile and Ohio R. R. A force of 150 rebel cavalry were there, but after having four killed, retreated. Our force returned on Sunday night, not having lost a man.—This cuts off the main body of rebels at Corinth from all communication with Alabama and the rest of rebeldom, except New Orleans.

A "reliable person" who left Pittsburg on Thursday evening, states that up to that time 2200 rebels had been buried. Our troops on Monday retook all the batteries lost on Sunday, and twelve pieces from the rebels. On Tuesday, Beauregard sent a flag of truce, requesting permission to bury his dead, saying:—"Owing to the heavy reinforcements you received on Sunday and Monday, and the fatigue of my men, I deemed it prudent to retire, and not renew the battle." His request was not granted. The bearer of the flag admitted that Beauregard had received a slight wound in the arm.

☞ Advices from San Francisco are to 10th inst. The California Legislature has passed an act levying a tax of $30 on all the Chinese in the State, including laborers as well as those in the mines. The dispatch says:—"Edward Stanley will leave here by the steamer of the 21st, to assume the duties of Military Governor of North Carolina. The people of San Francisco, who have long known him, consider him the best man that could have been selected to bring North Carolina back to her allegiance."—Mr. Stanley is a native of North Carolina, and represented the State for many years in Congress.

☞ A dispatch to the Chicago Journal from Cairo, says that Beauregard called a council of war of all the best rebel Generals before the battle of Pittsburg. There were present, Pillow, Floyd, Breckinridge, Hardee, Bragg, Cheatham, Sidney Johnston, Bushrod Johnson, the rebel Provisional Governor of Kentucky, and a few other Generals. The following policy was fixed on:—If they beat us they would follow us and drive us North as far as possible. If beaten, they would withdraw their forces and make a desperate stand in the Gulf States.

S. J. Court, Exeter.—On Friday the Grand Jury reported nine bills of indictment, and were discharged. The following arraignments were made:—

Edward C. Bean—Aggravated assault upon Oliver G. W. Brown—Plea not guilty.

John Henley—Stealing coat, muff and tippet in Portsmouth. Plea nol. con.—two years hard labor in State Prison.

John Stringer and Susan Tuttle—Fornication—plea nol. con. Fined $25 each, and cost of prosecution.

Charles Gray—breaking and entering shop of John Kelly in Portsmouth—plea nol. con. Three years hard labor in the State Prison.

☞ Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Jr., Rector of St. John's Church in this city, arrived in New York on Friday last, in the Asia, from a winter's tour in Europe.

Pay Day.—We are informed that the payments due to the carpenters, laborers, &c., at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, on the pay roll for February, will be made at the Navy Yard on Thursday, 17th inst.

☞ The U. S. Steamer Sonoma was launched in fine style, "at about [a minute or two before] a quarter of 1 o'clock," on Tuesday, at Portsmouth Navy Yard. May she always be equally prompt and successful in all her movements under the U. S. flag.

Dr. Chapin's Lecture.—Dr. Chapin is sick, and will not be able to meet his engagement here this evening. He may be expected as soon as his health will admit, of which due notice will be given.

☞ Don't forget that Mr. Meinerth's Writing School commences this (Wednesday) afternoon. See his advertisement.

☞ Our townsman, Capt. Thomas A. Harris, late of the U. S. steamer Penguin, has, since the decease of Capt. Mather, been appointed to the command of the U. S. steamer "H. Andrews." It will be remembered that Capt. Budd, of the Penguin, and Capt. Mather, of the H. Andrews, were killed by the enemy, a few weeks ago, while on a boat expedition up Musquito inlet on the coast of Florida. Capt. Harris soon after communicated by flag with the enemy, who were under command of Senior Capt. Bird. Capt. Bird admitted that our men behaved with great gallantry, but refused to make known his loss, saying they "had received a few scratches."

The second day after he took command of the H. Andrews, March 24th, Capt. Harris took possession of a large quantity of live-oak timber, some 2100 sticks, with some valuable red cedar lumber, in Halifax river, and Commodore Dupont is making preparations to send it North immediately. This prize is probably more than equal to any seizure of cotton that has been made, and it is of much greater importance to the Government, which has immediate use for the timber. We wish our townsman success in his new command. His vessel is a fine steamer, mounting five guns, with a crew of ninety men.

Congress, Monday.—In the Senate, Mr. Wilson presented a memorial from the citizens of Boston in favor of Mr. Bigelow's plan of taxation. Mr. Hale, of New Hampshire, resigned the chairmanship of the Naval Committee. Mr. Harris, of New York, concluded his speech on the confiscation bill.

In the House, the Speaker announced the committee appointed, in accordance with the resolution adopted some days since, to consider the practicability of devising some plan for the gradual extinction of slavery in the Border States. The Committee on Foreign Affairs asked to be discharged from the further consideration of the petitions in favor of abrogating the reciprocity treaty.

Frigate Vermont.—The U. S. frigate Vermont, when seen by the schooner G. H. Booth, March 18th, in lat. 38 35, longitude longitude 53 45, had rudder hung and was all right in sails and spars. Officers and crew all well. The report from Bermuda in regard to the safety of the Vermont, was based upon the fact that the British brig-of-war Landrail saw on Sunday, Mar. 31, when about sixty miles to the north and west of Bermuda, two large vessels, evidently a frigate and ship-of-the line, which were supposed to be the Vermont and the frigate Sabine. When spoken by the O. H. Booth the Vermont was three hundred miles N. N. E. from Bermuda.

PARENTS, have you children suffering

by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S

Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,

AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to be universally used. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it to any great least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-FOURTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringer Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all, and affords the only means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, at the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to secure his favorable consideration. That means is the NEWSPAPER To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the mood to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, is naturally established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual perseering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is confined to good business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to avoid, one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, for which I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing in itself may be tarred from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, severally yields him four-fold, some of it ten-fold, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind is so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on every subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is so extensively appreciating. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never once failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Be cath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and Mercurial Disease, Gonorrhœa, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pains and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those diseases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous debility, Premature old age, digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such cases require a Physician, contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y Staw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of disease of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all subjects touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that 'tis MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here avoided to inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN ATTEMPTS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THURSDAY, APRIL 17, 1862.

THE LYING NEWSPAPERS.

The newspapers do have, and lways have had, the reputation of not telling the truth. In speaking of passing events they must often be deceived, and in hastening to give the earliest information they have not always the time or the means of giving the facts or subjects full consideration. It often happens, therefore, that what is announced one day is denied the next. Yet it is altogether probable that the daily record of events now transpiring, as given by the newspapers, is quite as accurate and true as that record of events which we call history. History, however, has the advantage of the daily journal in this: that it treats of things past and men dead, and the reader does not know to the contrary, and there is nobody to deny its story.

However much in the newspapers may be false and unreliable when they are left to themselves, their character is not likely to be improved when they are under the censorship of the Government.

Well, can we trust the telegraph any better since than before the Government undertook this work? Not a bit. The telegraph has said less, given less truth, and been more unsatisfactory, than at any time before, since the war commenced; and if the war should continue another year, and the censorship be maintained, the people in reading the news would give this comment —"that is a Government story!" and it would be as significant as it is now, when they say—"that is the newspaper version," which is next to calling it a "lish story."—We declare that the "lying newspapers" are as trustworthy as the historian, the orator, or government dispatches — the last the least of all, as is known the world over—and we admit also that we do not then say enough for them to destroy the force of the common remark in Germany, applied to persons of doubtful veracity, "he lies like a newspaper."

Many people suppose that this unreliability is a characteristic of the modern press; but in this they mistake. The character of the newspaper never stood so high as now. It stands as much higher to day than it did a century ago, as is the priesthood of the present above what it was in the middle ages, or the physicians in science above their class of two hundred years ago. The papers have very much improved since Jefferson's day, when defamation and violent party and personal assaults were considered as necessary for life, as telegraph news now. Indeed they have so much improved that the violence and recklessness of the most popular papers of thirty years ago would not be tolerated now. They are by no means perfect, but that is only because the public come so far short of perfection that they will not allow them to be better. The grand fault with newspaper readers, as with all other people, is that they desire to be flattered, and will patronize a journal that tell them untruths favorable to themselves, rather than those which tell truths that may be disagreeable; and hence those who most humor this malady of our times, have the greatest popularity and prosperity. Human nature is now what it was in that ancient period when Isaiah wrote—"this is a rebellious people which say to the seers 'see not;' and to the prophets 'prophecy not unto us right things; speak unto us smooth things.'" Of course there will be some in the newspapers who will flatter the people when it pays, as there will be everywhere else, but when the people find themselves deceived they should look to themselves as the cause of it, rather than denounce those whom they have bribed to do it. They themselves induce the newspapers to do wrong, just as they influence lawyers, physicians or clergymen from the direct path of life and duty—"to speak smooth things"—to say that which is pleasant and desirable to their patrons and friends.

After all the lying of the newspapers, it would be impossible to retain them by fees to defend a bad cause, as we can lawyers. And what would physicians do, when called to all manner of persons, if there were no evasive answers when asked what ailed this or that one?—and how could they get along if they should not gratify the diseased patient?—and how often would it prove the speedy death of the patient to tell him what danger he was in? So any clergyman in this city or any other would diminish his church and fill his parish with strife, if he preached of the sins of his own people as he does of those of the heathen; and if he applied the principles he would support directly to the daily life of his hearers, as he does to the dead Jews. We will not undertake to say whether the present structure of society and our manner of life is right or wrong, for we have not time for that to day, but if the conduct of newspapers—that are not without their failings, most surely—is strictly inquired into, they will be found as truthful and honest, as patriotic and philanthopic, as the best classes and callings in the community, and their failings and vices are rather amiable weaknesses growing out of an intense desire to please and render happy those who will not endure any more truth than they now give them.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The annual Reports of the several School Committees of Portsmouth, have recently been issued, in the usual pamphlet, from the Chronicle and Gazette office; and we shall forward a copy to the Chairmen of the School Committees of the neighboring towns.

☞ If you want a watch, clock, silver or plated ware, don't fail to call into Clark's, forthwith.

THE REBELLION.

Western dispatches report Fort Randolph as being strongly fortified by the rebels.

The Washington Star publishes a dispatch to the Navy Department, stating that Flag Officer Foote left New Madrid on Saturday, with the flotilla and mortar boats en route for Fort Pillow, accompanied by a large body of troops.

An officer bearing Gen. Grant's official reports of the battle at Pittsburg Landing, has reached St. Louis, on his way to Washington. The report estimates the loss of the Federal army at 1500 killed and 3500 wounded—about 5000, not including prisoners. The artillery suffered severely, loosing many men, and not less than 200 horses.

Matters at Yorktown are progressing quietly, but surely. An excellent view of the rebel works and their armament has been obtained. One of our pickets was shot at his post on Saturday.

The rebels were driven from a new battery below Gloucester Point, on Monday, by our gunboats. The rebels took to the woods, and when the Yankee which brought the news, left the scene of action, boats from the Marble Heart were landing their crews to burn the houses which afforded them shelter. A battery higher up the river fired a few shots at them, but without effect.

The St. Louis Republican says that Capt. Hollins, of the rebel navy, was captured at Island No. 10, and is expected in that city soon.

The N. Y. Times' dispatch says an officer from the army before Yorktown, reports that he left Gen. McClellan in the best spirits, and sanguine of his ability to drive the rebels out of Yorktown and Virginia. The same officer says that when he left, the rebels were burning their barracks, as an evidence of a prepara ion to evacuate, or in expectation of being speedily driven out.

The late battle in New Mexico was after all a substantial Union victory. Our loss is 150 killed, wounded and missing. The rebels acknowledge their loss to be from 300 to 400 killed and wounded. 93 rebels were taken prisoners, 13 of them being officers. Our forces captured and burned 64 wagons laden with provisions and ammunition, and killed 200 mules. The Texans attacked our battery four times, the last time coming within 40 feet of our guns, but were repulsed with a heavy loss. Col. Slough is encamped at Bernal Springs, 40 miles from Fort Union. The Texans have fallen back to Santa Fe. Col. Canby with 1000 regulars and Kit Carson's regiment, is reported to be within three days' march of Col. Slough, and Col. Slate is on the Youmida with reinforcements for the enemy.

NAVAL.—The U. S. storeship Release is preparing, at the Navy Yard, Brooklyn, to take a cargo of provisions and stores to the U. S. squadron in the Mediterranean, and will sail about the 20th inst. This will afford a good opportunity to send letters and packages to the Constellation, Kearsarge, Tuscarora, and other vessels composing that squadron. Any letters sent to the Naval Lyceum post-paid, will be duly forwarded.

The frigate Sabine arrived at New York on Tuesday, from a trip in search of the Vermont. The Sabine fell in with her March 29th, off Bermuda, as she was lying unmanageable in the trough of a sea, kept company with her two days, supplied her with rails, rigging, &c., and lost sight of her April 1st, during a squall. The Vermont was in good condition, and would make for Port Royal.

☞ The sudden withdrawal of the Merrimac from the contest at Newport News last Friday, is thus explained:

The Merrimac's third shot, a shell fired from an immense gun made at the Tredegar Works, and said to be a 300-pounder, burst within the gun, and exploded the piece inside of the port. The pieces of the gun and the shell were seen to sprinkle the water, and smoke ascended from the covering over the deck. The explosion was supposed to have been deadly and damaging, for the Merrimac withdrew from the ring, and slowly went Norfolk-ward.

☞ We hear a report that the Portsmouth Steam Factory are making preparation for starting up their machinery at an early day, and are endeavoring to procure a supply of cotton. We trust the report will prove well-founded.

FOREIGN.—Advices from Europe to the 6th have been received. The English House of Commons had debated the question touching the relative value of fortifications and floating batteries, and had adopted resolutions providing for the suspension of the works at Spithead.

—— The following are some of the appointments which were made by the Methodist Conference at Sanbornton Bridge:

Calvin Holman, Presiding Elder of the Dover District; Dover, D. P. Leavitt; Salmon Falls, J. B. Holman; Great Falls (Main street), C. M. Dinsmore; Rochester, J. L. Trefen: New Market, R. S. Stubbs; Portsmouth, R. W. Humphries; Sanbornton Bridge, J. Hall; Claremont, H. H. Hartwell. The next Conference will meet at Haverhill, Mass.

CONGRESS, Tuesday.—In the Senate, the delay of the trial of Gen Stone was discussed, and a resolution calling on the President for all the information not incompatible with the public interest relative to his arrest, was laid over until the next day.

In the House a resolution was adopted calling upon the Secretary of War to inform the House the cause, if any, which has prevented the exchange of Cols. Corcoran and Wilcox, and other prisoners of war, held since last July. The bill regulating the franking privilege was laid on the table, 57 to 48. The bill amendatory to the act establishing the Court of Claims, after a short debate, was passed. It authorizes the President to appoint two additional Judges of the Court of Claims.

☞ On the last day of March an ordinance passed the City Council of Salem, establishing the salaries of the city officers for the year ending January next, at a rate, in most instances, greatly reduced from last year. The ordinance establishing the salaries of last year provides that the rates there established shall remain until otherwise directed. The various officers, accordingly, brought in their quarterly bills, on the first of April, at last year's rates. The Committee on Accounts declined to allow the bills until first presented to the City Solicitor for an opinion; and the Solicitor has decided that the officers can claim pay up to April 1, at the rate established last year.

☞ The value of the war material captured at Island No. 10 is estimated at three and a half millions of dollars. The transports are prizes for the navy, and the gallant sailors in our gunboats will make "a good thing" out of the bloodless surrender.

☞ Judge McCunn, of New York, has decided in the matter of two parties who were arrested for selling liquor in violation of the Sunday law, that the police have no authority to enter a public house where business is being transacted with closed doors on Sunday, or to arrest a Sunday liquor seller without a warrant from a magistrate.

☞ The Abington Standard says that in 1826 two girls, natives of that town or vicinity, went to service in the households of two residents of South Abington, both living under one roof, in a double house. Up to the present time, a period of 36 years, they have continued faithfully to perform their duties.

☞ The present week—the last in Lent—is called Passion Week, because it is particularly commemorative of the Passion and Death of the Redeemer. The services of the Episcopal Church are more frequent and solemn, than at any other period of the year. Friday of this week is Good Friday.

BANKRUPT LAW.—A hundred thousand names are before Congress praying for a national bankrupt law. It would be very convenient in the course of a year or so; for in some of the manufacturing towns the money bottom is already dropping out.

MONEY ABUNDANT.—The limited business of the country gives a surplus of money; and to this abundance from ordinary sources, one hundred and fifty million dollars will be added this month in government paper, which is to pass as legal tender. It will be surprising if this expansion of paper money does not cause a corresponding inflation of prices.

SENATOR HALE'S resignation of the Chairmanship of the Naval Committee will probably not be accepted. It was not made in consequence of disagreement between Mr. Hale and the Navy Department, but because of a supposed indignity on the part of the presiding officer, in omitting him from the Committee of Conference on the Naval Appropriation bill. It turns out that the supposed slight was an accident.—New York Tribune.

☞ An Augusta, Ga., paper says there is now building, and nearly ready, at one of the Gulf ports, an iron ship of about 250 feet length and 50 feet beam, which will be supplied with a number of engines and boilers, and when she gets ready it is supposed she will be quite equal to Merrimac No. 1.

☞ The ceremony of presenting a cannon, captured by the 21st Massachusetts regiment at Newburn, to Amherst College, took place Monday. The affair passed off very pleasantly, and a large number were present, including nearly all the students.

☞ Fortress Monroe correspondents state that the Merrimac appears about the same as she did on her previous visit, except that she is said to be about two feet deeper in the water.

☞ Cyrus Hamlin, Esq., of the law firm of Hamlin & Bacon, Kittery, Maine, has received a position on Gen. Fremont's staff. He was recently appointed a captain in the regular army.

A PUZZLE.—A man living not fifty miles from Epping has had three wives, all of whom are still living. The three wives had four children, each having two.—Ballot.

☞ Don't forget the Auction sale of silver ware, jewelry, &c., at Mr. J. H. Clark's store, this afternoon and evening.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

☞ We understand that the Trustees of Rockingham County Agricultural Society are to meet at Portsmouth, April 28th, to consider the expediency of issuing a list of Premiums for a Fair to be held next Autumn. The Constitution has just been reprinted in pamphlet form, together with the list of life members—of whom there are about 700, to each of whom a copy will be sent forthwith. The Society has funds to the amount of about $1000.

WIDOWS' HOME.—We are informed that a charitable institution, with title something like the above, is to be erected forthwith, on the westerly corner of Mulberry and State streets in this city. It will be (rumor says) the work of one of our most liberal ladies, whose ample means have always contributed not less to others' benefit than to her own—and that the buildings will be of brick and on an ample scale.

☞ The Portsmouth Division of Sons of Temperance have recently rented the spacious and well-arranged Rechab Hall, on Market street, and have removed to their new quarters. The Portsmouth Washington Total Abstinence Society, (one of the few of the original organizations which have kept up their name,) which has a fund of several hundred dollars, co-operates with the Sons' Division.

—— Among the killed in the battle at Pittsburg Landing, Tenn., was George W. Mitchell, son of James Mitchell, of Manchester. He was a member of the 40th Illinois regiment of volunteers, belonging to Gen. Smith's division that made so gallant a charge at Fort Donelson.

—— Rev. D. P. Cilley, Chaplain of the 8th N. H. Regiment, at Ship Island, states in a letter to the Morning Star, that that regiment is to form the right flank of Gen. Phelps' Brigade.

—— The afternoon of Saturday was devoted by the Methodist Conference at Sanbornton Bridge, to the anniversary of the conference Sunday School Society. Addresses were delivered by Jas. G. Magee, Bookseller and Publisher of Boston, Rev. Mr. Thomas of Salem and Rev. R. W. Humphriss of Portsmouth. The services of the Sabbath were as follows: Preaching in the morning at the Methodist church by Bishop Baker; in the Congregational church by Rev. O. H. Jasper of Plymouth, and at the large hall of the Seminary by Rev. Mr. Stubbs; in the afternoon, Rev. Eleazar Smith preached a good sermon in the Methodist church, and the Rev. J. M. Buckley in the Congregational; in the evening the Missionary meeting was held, and very interesting speeches were made.

☞ Lieut. W. N. Harradon has opened an office in Manchester for the purpose of recruiting a company to be stationed at Fort Constitution.

☞ Have you been into Clark's clearing out sale of jewelry, &c., yet?

☞ There are sad stories current about the condition of the troops in and about Manassas. Since Gen. McClellan left, there has been a great increase of drunkenness and disorder manifest among the soldiers in the streets. A fearful state of things is said to prevail on the Virginia border. Small bands of rebels roam about, generally in citizens' clothing, and murder any soldiers who may stray from camp, while curiosity hunters are taken prisoners.

☞ The Government has made a contract with parties in Boston to build an iron gunboat of between 600 and 700 tons, to be furnished with Woodbury's Submarine Battery. She is to be ready for service in from four to five months. The experiment of firing under water was successfully tested at East Boston on Wednesday.

Probate Advertisements.

The language of the law relating to the publication of Probate Notices is:

"The party required to publish any notice ordered by the Judge of Probate to be given in a newspaper, may select the paper therefor."

Will our subscribers remember this, and when they have occasion to do business at the Probate Office, remember that their notices may be ordered for the Chronicle or the Gazette; otherwise a different paper may be selected.

Our terms are as low as those of any other paper

CARDS AND BILL HEADINGS are indispensable to the business man, and we would remind all in want of such work, that the Chronicle Office is the place to get it done.

☞ We always take it as a favor, if subscribers will inform us immediately, when their papers are missed, or if delivered by others than our regular authorized carriers, or not strictly in accordance with our patrons' orders or desires.

Our terms for Subscription, Advertising and Job Work, except where accounts are open, are, invariably and exclusively, cash in advance of doing the work.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

The SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be seen and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration; IN LESS THAN ONE-EIGHTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of cast iron, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

ADVERTISE!

Advertise!
IT IS THE
LIFE OF TRADE!

Of all the mediums for reaching the people, there is none so cheap, so certain, so thorough, so effective, as the Newspaper. It is read by all classes of people by means by which the trader and the purchaser become generally known.

THE RIGHT MEANS.

Good customers can rarely be tricked into the consideration of the claims of those who they feel have neither adopted the right way, the right time, nor the legitimate means for gaining their considerate attention.

To be successful, advertisements must be presented through the right means, and come before the reader at the right time, to receive his favorable consideration. The right means is the NEWSPAPER. To that the purchaser looks as the legitimate place for the information he seeks, and he finds it there when most in the disposition to dwell upon its statements and note its facts. He has it represented to him day after day, and the coincidence between his needs and the places at which they may be supplied, insensibly established.

THE RIGHT TIME.

Continual persevering advertising, if the subject be at all adapted to the tastes and wants of the public, is sure to be successful. It is an indisputable fact, that there is no instance of a well-sustained adherence to a continued system of advertising ever failing of success.

There is a great diversity of opinion as to the best time to advertise, but the experience of some of the most successful advertisers is, that business men greatly mistake their true interests when they suppose that it is economy to send business shrewdness to curtail advertising when business is most wanted. By many it is considered the very time of all others to crowd; one who has tried it says, "Give me the field when few advertisers occupy it, and I care not how hard the times are. It pays me at all times, and I know how far to go, but especially it pays me when most of the business men in my line have taken their books out of the water, thinking no bites are to be had."

THE RIGHT WAY.

There are always two ways of doing a thing, and a good thing is half spoiled when turned from its purpose by the mode in which it is applied. For want of experience and judgment, some modes of advertising are nearly as bad as none at all, and therefore a knowledge of the places and papers in which a business man is going to advertise, is of as much consequence to him as the advertisements themselves. It may be laid down as an indisputable fact that the money spent in judicious advertising by a business man, invariably yields him four-fold, sooner or later, and in numerous instances one hundred or one thousand fold. Some advertise for a short time after they commence business, and think it is sufficient; others intermit advertising after they have established a flourishing business by its aid. This is a great mistake. From the moment a house ceases to advertise, however large its reputation and standing, it begins to decline. The changes are so rapid in this country, and the public mind so constantly occupied by new applicants for its favor and its attention, that to be out of the papers where everybody seeks for information on any subject, is to be forgotten. The Press is daily more and more becoming a necessity, and its usefulness as an advertising medium is continually increasing. No man is wise, or just to himself, who undertakes to do business without availing himself of its advantages.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never before been introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society, some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Disorganization of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded, loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charge for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw.

HOW REV. MR. BEECHER LOST HIS BOOTS.—The following is in Henry Ward Beecher's best vein:—

The difference between 7 and 8 is not very great; only a single unit,—and yet that difference has power over a man's whole temper, convenience, and dignity. Thus at Buffalo, my boots were set out at night to be blacked. In the morning no boots were there, though all the neighboring rooms had been served.—I rang. I rang twice. "A pretty hotel—nearly eight o'clock, going out at nine, breakfast to be eaten, and no boots yet." The waiter came, took my somewhat emphatic order and left. Every minute was an hour. It always is when you are out of temper. A man in his stocking feet, in the third story of a hotel, finds himself restricted in locomotion.—Twent to the door, looked up and down the hall; saw frowsy chambermaids; saw afar off, the master of the coal scuttle; saw gentlemen walking in bright boots, unconscious of the privileges they enjoyed, but did not see any one coming with my boots. A German servant at length came, round and ruddy faced, very kind and good natured, honest and stupid. He informed me that a gentleman had already taken boots No. 78 (my number).—He would hunt him up; thought he was breakfasting. Here was a new vexation.—Who was the man who had taken my number and gone for my boots? Somebody had them on, warm and nice, and was enjoying his coffee, while I walked up and down, with less and less patience, who had none too much at first. No servant returned. I rang again, and sent energetic and staccato messengers to the office. Some water had been spilled on the floor. I stepped in it of course. In winter, cold water feels as if it burned you. Unpacked my valise for new stockings. Time was speeding. It was quarter past eight. Train at nine, no boots and no breakfast.—Slipped on a pair of sandal-rubbers, too large by inches for my naked feet, and while I shuffled along the hall, they played up and down on my feet. First one shot off; that secured, the other dropped on the stairs; people that I met looked as if they thought that I was not well over last night's spree.

It was very annoying. Reached the office and expressed my mind. First the clerk rang the bell three times furiously, then ran forth himself; met the German Boots, who had boots 79 in his hand, narrow and long, thinking I could wear them. Who knows but 79 had my boots? Some curiosity was beginning to be felt among the bystanders. It was likely that I should have half the hotel inquiring after my boots. I abhor a scene. Retreated to my room. On the way, thought I would look at room 77's boots. Behold they were mine! There were the broken pull straps; the patch on the right side, and the very shape of my toe—infallible signs! The fellow had marked them 77, and not 78,—and all this hour's tumult arose from just the difference between 7 and 8.

I lost my boots, lost the train, lost my temper, and, of course, lost my good manners.—everybody does that loses his temper. But boots on, breakfast served, a cup of coffee brought: peace and good will. The whole matter took a ludicrous aspect. I moralized upon that infinity that puts a man's peace at the mercy of a Dutchman's chalk. Had he written seventy-eight, I had been a good natured man, looking at Niagra Falls in its winter dress. He wrote seventy-seven, and I fumed, saw only my own folly, and spent the day in Buffalo!

Are not most of the pets and rubs of life such as this? Few men could afford, to-morrow, to review the things that vexed them yesterday. We boast of being free, yet every man permits the most arrant trifles to rule and ride him. A man that is vexed and angry turns the worst part of himself into sight, and exhibits himself in a buffoon's coat and fool's cap, and walks forth to be jeered! And yet one a temper does worse by him than that. And men submit to it, not once, but often, and sometimes every day! I wonder whether these sage reflections will make me patient and quiet the next time my boots are misplaced?

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the act of 1836.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign Countries, Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same, as to the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1862.

☞ Slavery is abolished in the District of Columbia. The bill for this purpose passed both Houses of Congress by more than a two thirds vote, and on Wednesday, April 16, 1862, President Lincoln approved and signed the bill. In his message to Congress, announcing his approval, he says:—

"I have never doubted the constitutional authority of Congress to abolish slavery in this District, and I have ever desired to see the National Capital freed from this institution in some satisfactory way. Hence there has never been in my mind any question upon the subject, except the one of expediency arising in view of the circumstances. If there be matters within and about this act which might have taken a course or shape more satisfactory to my judgment, I do not attempt to specify them. I am gratified that the principles of compensation and colonization are both recognized and practically applied in the act. In the matter of compensation it is provided that claims may be presented within 90 days from the passage of the act, but not thereafter, and there is no saving clause for minors, femmes covert, insane or absent persons. I presume this is an omission by mere oversight, and I recommend that it be supplied by an amendatory or supplemental act."

Truly conservative men all over the world will rejoice at the act: but some radicals will find fault with it. One of this unfortunate class at the north said, the other day, that the president would probably veto the bill, and another asked,—

"How could it be expected that any man from a slave State would hereafter deign to accept the Presidency, should such a bill become the law?"

The colored people of Washington, observed, last Sabbath, April 13, in their twelve churches, as a day of prayer, in reference to the expected peaceful and final abolishment of slavery in the District of Columbia—praying, to use their own words, "That should this great boon of freedom be conferred on our people, we may, by our orderly behavior, our devotion to our christian duties and our obedience to the laws, prove that we are worthy to enjoy it; and that it may please Him, in His own time and in His own way, to 'proclaim liberty throughout all the land, unto all the inhabitants thereof.'"

CONGRESS, Wednesday,—In the Senate, Mr. Hale of N. H. consented to withdraw his resignation of the chairmanship of the Committee on Naval Affairs. The resolution of inquiry into the case of Gen. Stone was again before the Senate, but no action was taken. The confiscation bill was opposed by Mr. Powell of Ky., and postponed to Friday.

The House passed a resolve, to the effect that the Government should not unnecessarily interfere with the transmission of intelligence by telegraph. A bill was passed appropriating one hundred and thirty millions of dollars to pay certain war expenses. The death of Hon. Thomas B. Cooper, a member of the House from Pennsylvania, was announced. In both Houses, a message was received from the President, announcing that he had signed the bill abolishing slavery in the District of Columbia.

☞ The N. Y. Post says:—The over-issue, by the Secretary, of thirty or forty thousand dollars of the stock of the Stuyvesant Fire Insurance Company, has caused considerable excitement in Wall street.—There are intimations that something worse than a breach of trust on the part of the officer is mingled with the transaction.—This is said to be the first occurrence of the kind in a fire insurance company in New York within the past thirty-eight years; it therefore attracts unusual attention from the members of that fraternity of underwriters. The secretary referred to is reported to have left the city.

THE WOLF.—The position of this country on slave emancipation (says an, able contemporary) is well described by the words of Thomas Jefferson to John Holmes, written more than forty years ago, when the country was disturbed by the Missouri question:—"We have got the wolf by the ears and we can neither hold him, nor safely let him go!"

Exactly so, says Uncle Toby—but if we dash his brains out on the nearest rock or stump, we shall not need to hold him, and we can let him go without much danger.

☞ The Canada, which arrived at Halifax on Wednesday morning, brings two days' later news from Europe. The Great Eastern is to sail for New York on the 6th of May. In parliament, the subject of iron-clad vessels is still under discussion. Relations with Mexico and the Polish question are also occupying some of their attention. It is officially announced that Spain is resolved not to interfere with the independence of Mexico. The Yorktown, a regular packet between London and New York, has been captured by a confederate privateer. News from other countries is of no great interest.

☞ It is reported that Gen. Bushrod Johnston and Gen. Wm. Preston, rebel officers, were killed at the battle of Pittsburg.

THE REBELLION.

It appears by an official report to the Secretary of War, that the large guns for the batteries against Fort Pulaski were hauled by the men with their own hands through a deep swamp, that being the only mode by which they could be transported and placed in position. A report of the 7th of April stated that the fire would be opened on the 11th. The fort was captured on that day.

Burnside's division having been reinforced at Newbern, a reorganization of the entire force has taken place. Brigadier Generals Reno, Foster and Parker command divisions, and Colonels Thomas G. Stevenson of the Mass. 24th, and T. J. C. Amory of the 17th, command brigades under Gen. Foster.

Commodore Foote commenced the bombardment of Fort Pillow on Tuesday. Ten of his mortar boats were in position and had opened fire. The army of Gen. Pope, which accompanied the flotilla, was landed on the Arkansas side of the river.

Sixty-one of Ashby's cavalry, including three officers, were captured on Wednesday morning. They were at their breakfast just at daybreak in a church, and were surrounded and surrendered without a show of resistance.

Steamer Philadelphia arrived at Havana 10th, from Fort Pickens. She brought 9 refugees, one of whom was a sutler from the rebel camp, who ran away, taking $1100 in gold and a large amount of Confederate scrip. There were only 500 rebel soldiers at Pensacola. Fort McRae had been abandoned. The fort at the western end of Santa Rosa Island had been taken by Union troops.

The number of rebel prisoners taken at Fort Pulaski is 500. Provisions for three months and a large amount of artillery and ordnance stores are among the trophies of the victory. The British steamer Fingal, closely blockaded at Savannah, is to be sunk on the approach of the Union troops to that city. A new gunboat is on the stocks at Savannah, ready for launching, and will be destroyed on the approach of the Federals. The railroad from Savannah to Macon is encumbered with household goods of the panic stricken residents of Savannah.

The Petersburg, Va., Express of the 13th, says: "A brisk engagement took place Saturday morning on the peninsula, between our forces and the Federals. The latter were occupied in intrenching themselves but a short distance from our lines. Gen. Magruder, deeming it important these intrenching operations should be interfered with, gave the enemy battle at an early hour Saturday morning, and after a sharp engagement, succeeded in driving the enemy from his position."

A dispatch from Beauregard, dated Corinth, April 9th, states that he is strongly entrenched and prepared to defy our forces in any numbers. He still claims the battle at Pittsburg as a rebel victory.

Berdan's sharp-shooters are spreading terror among the rebel gunners at Yorktown, by their unerring aim. The rebels have made several sorties with infantry in endeavors to dislodge or capture them, but were driven back with heavy loss.

Official information (rebel) from New Orleans states that an attack on Forts Jackson and Phillips, was commenced by our forces April 14th.

The gunboat Sebago has been introduced to the rebels. They had been for several days building large fortifications on the Gloucester side of York river, about two miles from Yorktown. 1000 men were at work within sight of our gunboats, but the rebel guns were of too long a range to allow their approach, and mortars could not reach them. But the Sebago opportunely arrived with a hundred-pound rifled Parrott gun. She at once opened fire with shell so well aimed that they could be seen falling in their midst and exploding with terrible effect. The rebels hastened to carry off their wounded, and in two hours the work was entirely suspended. At every attempt to renew the work they were driven back.

The Savannah News learns that our forces evacuated Jacksonville, Fla., on Tuesday, 8th, saying they were going to Tybee. The rebels now hold the town.

☞ The rumor was general in Washington on Wednesday, that Secretary Stanton has resigned, in consequence of differences of opinion between him and the President touching the movements of troops.

☞ The packet ship Yorktown, reported in the telegraph dispatch from Halifax as captured by a Confederate privateer, is safe in New York, where she arrived March 24.

☞ Special dispatches from Washington state that the object of the French Minister's visit to Richmond is to assert the right of French merchants to large quantities of tobacco in the hands of the rebels.

☞ Wednesday morning about three o'clock, Green's Rubber Factory in Melrose, Mass., was totally destroyed by fire.—The loss is estimated at $10,000. It was insured.

☞ Quite a serious explosion occurred on Tuesday at the Downer Kerosene Oil Works, South Boston. Three workmen were severely injured. Four others, who were in the same apartment, escaped with slight injuries.

FORT PILLOW.—The western correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune thus speaks of Fort Pillow, against which Com. Foote is now operating:—

"Fort Pillow is the sole obstruction between Island No. 10 and Memphis, and spies who have lately come up the river, say there is no fortification worthy of the name between Memphis and New Orleans. It mounts twenty or twenty-five guns. The rebel force there numbers 1500, and Gen. Villipique, the commander of the fort, will make a formidable resistance. The position, however, is such—the principal batteries being near the water, with a steep bluff above—that the shells, if they strike on the high bank, will roll down into the batteries and explode there with terrible effect. Our officers have full plans and entire knowledge of Pillow, and do not seem to regard it as very formidable. Gen. Villipique is a creole, a native of Louisiana, and like Beauregard, had a Spanish mother and a French father. He is said to be an excellent officer, a fine engineer and artillerist. The Louisiana journals declare him fully equal to Beauregard, and regret Villipique has had no opportunity thus far to employ his great military genius.

NAVAL.—The Board appointed by the Navy Department to examine plans and award contracts for gunboats for Western waters, have made recommendations for eight vessels at an aggregate cost of $1,229,500.

The U. S. sloop Marion was spoken March 22d, 30 miles off Havana, on a cruise.

POLYGAMY.—Mr. Morrill, of Vt., has introduced the bill that was before Congress two years ago, to stop polygamy in all the territories of the United States. It is expected to be of special benefit to the Mormons; but should they be admitted as a State it would be non-effective there, and if they remain a territory we shall not, while the war lasts at least, attempt to enforce it there, so that either way it will be useless.

FISH MORTALITY.—On Thursday, a pond, in Newburyport, where the ice had thawed—was covered with dead perch, horn pouts and minnows, that had died during the winter. Half a cart load was collected and carried away. The cause of the mortality is not apparent.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Louisville, and WM. J. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal more soul is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this article supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

DRS. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker &c.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your sick in this vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

☞ Letters received in this city from Lieut. Henry, commanding U. S. steamer Sebago, which sailed from Portsmouth Navy Yard on Sunday, April 6th, announce her arrival at Fortress Monroe, after a voyage of five and a half days. She encountered during the passage a severe storm and proved herself a stannch sea-boat, tho' rather wet.

It will be seen, by the account in the "Rebellion" column, that the Sebago has early proved her efficiency, in shelling out the rebels. The workmen at the Portsmouth Navy Yard have no cause to be ashamed of the result of their labor.

☞ On Thursday morning, a boat from Kittery Point, containing four men employed on the Portsmouth Navy Yard, capsized in the Narrows. One of them swam ashore, and the others clung to the boat until rescued.

☞ Rev. Thomas F. Davies, Jr., Rector elect of St. John's Church in this city, has just returned from a European tour, and will officiate for the first time at the church on Easter Sunday.

☞ Great bargains are being made every day, at the auction sales of jewelry and fancy goods at Mr. Clark's store. The articles sold are not such as are usually sold at auction, but are of the best quality and workmanship, and those desirous of obtaining nice goods for presents or for their own use or pleasure, could not have a better opportunity.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Capt. Israel B. Littlefield, who has commanded Co. H. of the New Hampshire Third to the perfect satisfaction of all, has resigned on account of ill health. He will probably be succeeded by Lt. George W. Emmons.

—— It is supposed that Mr. D. Patterson a dentist, was taken prisoner while on a visit to Manassas a short time ago, and conveyed to Richmond. He, in company with two or three other gentlemen, was on the Bull Run battle field, when they were surprised by a band of rebels, and taken captives. They passed through Manassas, as is related by a woman there, who spoke of one of the party as a New Hampshire man, who offered his gold watch, revolver, and what money he had, with the hope of escaping, but to no avail.

—— The Engine House of the Cocheco R. R. Co. at Alton Bay, was burnt on Monday afternoon last. All the Locomotives were removed. Cause of the fire is unknown; loss about $2000, partially insured.

—— The case of Hiram Whitman vs. the Boston and Maine Railroad Company, to recover for land on Haverhill street, Dover, taken by the defendants, which was tried in the Superior Court last week, was brought to a close, tha jury returning a verdict for the plaintiff with $2881.75 damages.

—— Rev. Charles Robinson, who was born in Exeter in 1793, died suddenly in Groton, Mass., on the 9th inst., of lung fever. He was a well known clergyman of the Unitarian denomination, graduated at Harvard College in 1818, was first settled at Eastport, Me., and since in several parishes in this State and in Massachusetts. He was married four times, and leaves a widow, sister to Rev. Warren Burton, of Salem.

—— Rev. John Dinsmore has resigned the pastorship of the Congregational Church in North Hampton,—and was dismissed and recommended by a council on the 8th day of April.

☞ Lieut. George H. Cooper, formerly stationed at Portsmouth Navy Yard, is in command of the supply steamer Massachusetts, which was to go into commission at Brooklyn Navy Yard, on Wednesday.—Lieut. Cooper, the Tribune states, is to be presented with a very handsome and valuable gold watch, by the Brooklyn Navy Yard employees, as a token of their high appreciation of his gentlemanly and obliging disposition while executive officer of that Yard.

☞ The pirate steamer Sumter remains at Gibraltar, closely watched by the U. S. steamers Tuscarora and Kearsarge.—About fifteen more of the Sumter's crew have deserted and gone on board the Tuscarora and Kearsarge.

PARENTS, have you children suffering by disease, or subject to it? Do you know what it is, to force open the little mouth and pour down the throat of the struggling sufferer a nauseating dose; and have you not felt in your heart all the time, that you were doing the little victim a wrong? Such treatment is fast passing away, and soon will be numbered among the customs which future time shall look back upon, and perhaps in a spirit of charity, only pronounce absurd. DOCT. GIFFORD'S HOMEOPATHIC CURATIVES, by the popular form in which they are put up and sold throughout the country, and the price at which they are offered, (only 25 cts. per box) take away the only excuse that can be made to continue the old practice. A simple medicated sugar pill, which can be dropped into the mouth of the sleeping infant without disturbing it, saves all the trouble and will effect cures which other medicines cannot do. Try No. 2 for Worms, No. 3 for Teething and Colic, No. 4 for Diarrhœa, No. 7 for Coughs and Colds, No. 13 for Croup, No. 20 for Whooping Cough. A complete assortment sold by J. H. THACHER, Agent, 12 Market Sq., and corner State and Pleasant sts., Portsmouth; M. S. BURR & Co., wholesale, Boston, Mass.; W. O. PHILLIPS, wholesale, Portland, Me.; or address
